Four Thousand Soldiers Ordered to Seaport Best Adapted for Embarkation to Mexico.

First of Troops Are Expected to Arrive Monday.

Seventh, Nineteenth and Twenty-Eighth Are Other Regiments.

MOVE MERELY PRECAUTIONARY

Officials Say There is No Present Purpose of Sending an Armed Force into Any Part of Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 22.—Francisco I. Madero and Jose Pino Suarez, the deposed president and vice president, respectively, of the Mexican republic, were transferred today from the national palace to the penitentiary. A member of the provisional cabinet said that probably no decision as to their fate would be reached for some days.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—About 4,000 soldiers were ordered today to Galveston, Tex., and vicinity, the nearest seaport adapted to the embarkation of troops for Mexico.

They are not under orders to proceed to Mexico, and it is the expectation and the hope of the administration that it will not be necessary to issue orders for such a movement. The situation in that country, however, is regarded as sufficient to warrant the concentration of a force strong enough to take possession of a seaport and open the way for an invasion of the country.

It will be for President Woodrow Wilson to determine whether such an expedition shall be dispatched, although, of course, it is assumed he first will seek the guidance of congress. Through trusted agents, though not directly, the president-elect is understood to have expressed his interest in the situation and has placed himself in a position to acquire specific knowledge as to all the details before he comes to Washington on March 3.

Up to today the War department officials had contented themselves with the issue of preliminary orders to two brigades of troops, the First brigade, First division, in New York state, and the Fifth brigade, Second division, in the middle west.

Would Save Delay in Emergency. In the ordinary course, it would require at least eight days, and perhaps longer, to gather these divisions at one of the Gulf ports, ready for embarkation. It has been decided that this is a greater period of time than properly can be allowed to elapse before dispatching troops to Mexico, if a great emergency should arise. Therefore, it was with the purpose of saving this time that orders were issued today for the entrainment of the entire Fifth brigade.

Second division, for Galveston, the Fourth being under command of Brigadier General Frederick A. Smith, and comprising the Fourth, Seventh, Nineteenth and Twenty-eighth regiments of infantry; D company, Second battalion of engineers, field hospital No. 3, ambulance corps No. 3 and one signal corps company from Fort Leavenworth. The Fourth infantry is located at Fort Crook, Neb., and Fort Snelling, Minn.

A subsequent order attached to this brigade, three army pack trains, each of sixty mules, one from Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., one from Fort Robinson, Neb., and one from the Presidio of San Francisco. Also to supply a sufficient force of cavalry to protect the flanks and reconnoiter for the infantry, an order was dispatched to Major General Carter at Chicago to send to Galveston the Fourth mountain battery of field artillery, commanded by Colonel Alexander B. Dyer, stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo.

Other Troops Ready. Orders were also issued to General Carter to prepare the Fourth brigade, Second division, for transportation to Galveston, but not to dispatch them. This comprises the Twenty-third, Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh regiments of infantry, commanded by Brigadier General Ramsay D. Potts.

Meanwhile the First brigade, First division, comprising the Third, Fifth and Twenty-ninth regiments of infantry, commanded by Brigadier General Marion P. Maus, with headquarters at Albany, N. Y., is also held under preparatory orders.

The three army transports, Sumner, Kilpatrick and McClellan, now en route from Newport News for Galveston, where they are due about Tuesday next, will be joined at that port by the army transport Meade, as soon as that vessel has discharged at Guantanamo the 1,200 marines it embarked at Philadelphia early in the week. This is believed to afford ample transportation facilities, at least for the Fifth brigade.

Think Expense Justified. This represents probably all the preparations that will be undertaken in the closing days of the present administration to meet any emergency in the Mexican situation.

PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT OF MEXICO.

GENERAL VICTORIANO HUERTA.

CALLS WESTERN LAME DUCK

Judge Lovett Speaks Mind About Effort to Block Rail Deal.

ROAD IS TRYING TO UNLOAD

Chairman of Union Pacific Board Declares Line is Merely a Long California Conditions to Further Purpose.

That the Western Pacific is anxious to dispose of its line to the Union Pacific and believes the proposed Union-Central Pacific division will forever shut off opportunity to dispose of the line to advantage was the belief of Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific board, who passed through Omaha last evening en route from San Francisco to St. Louis. "The Western Pacific is a lame duck," said Judge Lovett.

"It has been a very unprofitable venture for those who built it and for those who hold its securities. I believe they would like to sell it to the Union Pacific. They see that if the present plan is approved by the court and the Union Pacific acquires the Central Pacific all hope of unloading the Western Pacific on the Union Pacific will be gone.

"I believe it is for that reason alone that they are opposing the present plan. It is simply an effort on the part of the owners of the Western Pacific to use the California condition to further this object.

"The tracks and terminals in question belong to the Central Pacific and to the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific has not the shadow of right or title to its use.

"I am bound to believe, therefore, they are merely trying to get the California Railroad commission to impose terms and conditions so onerous that just as they defeat the plan and thus leave the Western Pacific some hope of making a trade with the Union Pacific. But that hope, apparently, has little basis, since the Union Pacific and Central Pacific are natural connections and were built under acts of congress as a continuous system from the Missouri river to the Pacific ocean."

Arrives with Mohler.

Judge Lovett arrived in his special car from San Francisco, accompanied by President Mohler of the Union Pacific. He expressed satisfaction with the general plan approved by Attorney General Wickham for divorcing the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific and believed the circuit court would make a decree approving it. He remained in the city less than an hour, his car being attached to the night train on the Washburn road for St. Louis.

Captain Sweeney is Speculator

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Money which, it is alleged, Police Captain Dennis Sweeney, who is under indictment, took for police protection in his Harlem precinct, was turned to speculation in stocks, according to evidence which District Attorney Charles S. Whitman said today had come into his possession. It was alleged that two large and active accounts in Sweeney's name were found yesterday in stock brokerage houses on Wall street.

It was said that the brokers would be subpoenaed before the grand jury early next week to furnish evidence regarding these accounts. It is said that in the main Sweeney had been a heavy loser in his speculations.

LAW DAILY VIOLATED; A REPEATEDLY VIOLATED

"Doctor" William Hornby Has Been Liable to Punishment for Three Years. HIS OFFENSE IS WELL KNOWN Publicly Proclaims His "Practice" of Medicine in Omaha.

WHAT THE STATUTES PROVIDE Nebraska Law Clear and Distinct Covering the Offense.

MEDICAL SOCIETY IS ADVISED County Attorney Aware of the Condition, but No Steps Taken to Head Off the "Doctor" in His Course.

In violation of the law of Nebraska "Doctor" William Hornby, 310 North Twentieth street, has been practicing medicine without a license for three years.

The county attorney and the Douglas County Medical society are well aware of the situation. Yet no step has been taken to enforce the law of the state against "Doctor" Hornby, nor to protect the public against him.

Had there been rigid enforcement in Omaha of the state law prohibiting the practice of medicine without a license issued by the Board of Health, "Doctor" William Hornby, 310 North Twentieth street, pseudo cancer cure-quer, would not have been able to swindle Walter Morse and his family out of $100 or more. Had the law been enforced it would have been impossible for the "doctor" to take easy money from scores of victims by diagnosing their troubles as cancer or embryonic cancer and then "treating" them for fancy fees.

A reputable business man of Egan, S. D., where "Doctor" Hornby used to prey upon the unfortunates, has advised the Bee that the "distinguished specialist" never had a physician's license; that he played the same fake cancer cure game in Denver; that his brother, "Doctor" Henry Hornby, is practicing the same kind of a deal without a license in Sioux Falls.

This man's statement and the one of his letter to the Bee throw a light of truth that is far from pleasant upon the statement of a Sioux Falls man who has participated in the Hornby ill-gotten profits that the "Hornby cancer cure" stood high at Egan.

Law of Nebraska. The statute books of Nebraska say it shall be unlawful for any person to practice medicine without a license as a certificate of the State Board of Health. This law requires that after having procured a license from the state board the person who proposes to practice medicine shall have his license registered and recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which he intends to practice.

The purpose of this statute is to protect the public against imposition of grafts and chicanery, unscrupulous fellows, comparatively ignorant of medical science, who set themselves up as "doctors" and specialists and prey upon the gullible and the unsuspecting; against irresponsible persons who think little enough of human life and human welfare to tamper and tinker with human bodies in order to make "easy money."

Before a man can procure a license to practice medicine he must show to the state board of health that he is schooled in medical science, experienced and skilled to some extent, in short that he is properly qualified to take the responsibility of caring for an afflicted person.

The law of Nebraska provides that any person who practices medicine without a license is guilty of a misdemeanor, the penalty for which shall be a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $200.

Hornby's Record Here. For three years "Doctor" Hornby has been practicing medicine without a license in Omaha. The records of the state board of health show that body never granted him a license. His name does not appear on the physicians' register in the office of the county clerk.

Where He is Careful. When a man professes to be a doctor and a medical school graduate, he naturally concludes he is a duly qualified and licensed physician. "Doctor" Hornby might say he is a doctor in that any person who professes to cure is one, yet he knows full well that few persons would place their health and lives in his care if they knew he never had qualified before the state board of health.

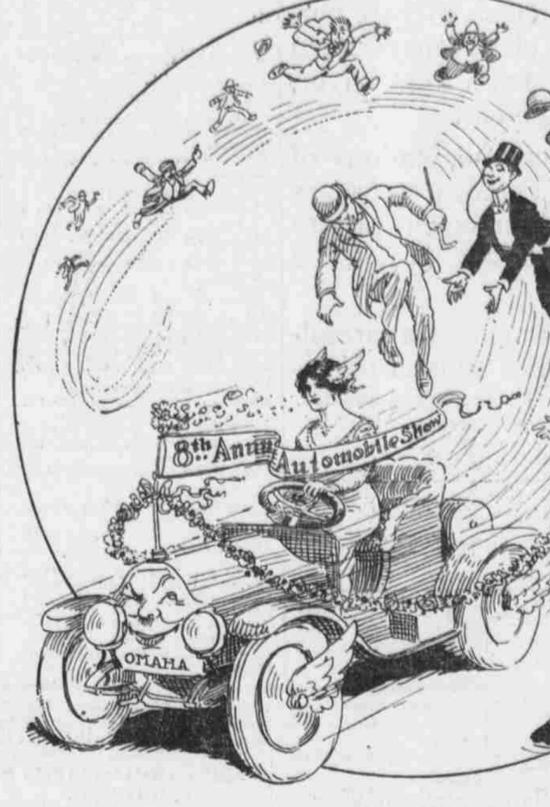

Though in conversation in his advertising pamphlet and in his testimonials he calls himself "doctor," "Doctor" Hornby has been careful not to publicly proclaim himself a regularly qualified and licensed physician. In the telephone directory he calls himself plain William Hornby. In the city directory he appears as "William Hornby, specialist."

When a representative of The Bee asked him if he was a regularly licensed physician and a medical school graduate, he answered in the affirmative. He said he was a graduate of Rush Medical college, Chicago. In reply to inquiry as to the truth of this statement, officials of Rush Medical college declared no William Hornby ever was graduated from the institution, and they never heard of such a person.

CAT AND KITTENS ARE SAVED FROM FLAMES

The Lure and the Lured

SONORA IS READY TO FIGHT FOR MADERO

Secretary Denies Any Movement for Independent Republic.

GOV. GONZALES IS PRISONER

Maderista Executive in Chihuahua Does Not Resign—Volunteers Want to Start Revolution.

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 22.—The state of Sonora is firm in its allegiance to Madero and prepared to back up its decision with arms.

This was the declaration of Yamael Padilla, secretary of the state of Sonora, who arrived today from Hermosillo. Padilla denied that there was any movement in contemplation to declare Sonora an independent republic.

Members of the state congress, which will be assembled in special session at Hermosillo Monday, were in thorough accord. Padilla insisted, with Governor Maderista, who issued a proclamation yesterday urging the people of the state to adhere to Madero and deny recognition to the Huerta provisional government.

Mansel Mascareñas, a former rebel under Salazar, arrived from Los Angeles today and asserted that he was to be the provisional governor of Sonora, succeeding Arturo Elias, who was Mexican consul at Los Angeles under Porfirio Diaz and who is said to be slated to become Mascareñas' secretary of state. Both will leave for the City of Mexico to procure credentials from Huerta.

Gonzales is Prisoner. EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 22.—Governor Abraham Gonzales virtually is held a prisoner in Chihuahua City. It is reported today that Gonzales was prevented by regular troops from leaving the state capital and combining the various Maderista factions of Chihuahua.

Gonzales was a strong supporter of Madero's revolution and always regarded Maderista. In his capital, however, 2,000 federal troops, the majority of which are regulars, Gonzales so far has not dared to resign nor has he accepted the provisional presidency.

The volunteer troops are more numerous in Chihuahua than in any other part of the state and are believed to be eager to join a counter revolution. A combination of the volunteers and rebels is most feared by the federal command in the north. The rebel general Marcella Carraveo, with 500 men, remains near Chihuahua City, and General Rabago is said to be taking precautions to prevent his juncture with the volunteers at the state capital.

Wilson Gives Seat in Car to a Woman

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 22.—The next president of the United States gave up his seat on a train today to a woman who was standing in the aisle. She was not near him, at that, but at the other end of the car when he smiled her, bowed and beckoned for her to take the seat he had vacated. She smiled, thanked him and took it.

Hyde's Attorneys Trying to Discredit Expert Witnesses

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22.—Hot words were thrown Judge Porterfield and an attorney for the defense in the Hyde murder trial followed a reference to an Eldora, Ia., murder trial by Attorney Walsh during cross-examination of Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, expert state's witness. Judge Porterfield said attorneys for the defense had used "bullying tactics." John Lucas of defense counsel replied that "as soon as the present case was completed he would refuse to appear before Judge Porterfield."

In reply to questions by Walsh, Dr. Vaughan said for his services in the Hyde case he received $100 a day for laboratory work at home and $200 a day when away from home.

"Didn't you testify in the Blydenburg case at Eldora, Ia., for $100 a day?" asked Walsh. The witness said he did.

"Didn't you testify in that case that the deceased died of an irritant poison, concealing the true cause of death?" "I did not."

"When asked if arsenic was an irritant poison, did you say it was?" "I did."

"Wasn't a letter found after the man was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in which you told the prosecuting attorney that arsenic in the body might have been from the embalming fluid, and that the arsenic in the stomach might have been due to gastric acid, and wasn't the prisoner given a second trial and freed upon the introduction of that letter?"

"I don't think such a letter is in existence," replied Dr. Vaughan.

Walsh then offered the letter referred to and a transcript of the Blydenburg case in evidence.

Mysterious Death of Bride and Groom is Finally Solved

UMBERLAND, Md., Feb. 22.—The mystery of the death of Charles Twigg and Grace Blosser in a room of the Blosser home on the last day of December, 1910, which was the eve of the proposed marriage of the couple, is believed to have been solved.

Mrs. Marshall Willison and her sister Mrs. Pearl Mangold, the present occupants of the house in which the Twigg-Blosser tragedy occurred, were overcome yesterday by carbon monoxide gas. The two women were rescued by a neighbor, who rushed in and dragged them to the open air, where they were resuscitated.

The theory of the poisoned "kisses" was one of several theories advanced at the time of the double tragedy, but Mrs. Louisa P. Blosser, mother of the dead girl, believed it was carbon monoxide gas that had killed the two. The case of the two women yesterday is regarded by the authorities as substantiating her belief.

In the old Blosser home pieces of brick had been placed in the chimney to lessen the draft. An accumulation of soot had later completely closed the aperture and the gas had overcome the two women.

INDIAN CHIEFTAINS AT GROUND BREAKING

Aged Aborigines Attend Ceremony at Fort Wadsworth.

TAFT TURNS FIRST SPADE

Sixty-Foot Bronze Statue Will Be Erected as Memorial to Vanishing Race at Highest Point on Coast.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Twenty-nine full blood Indian chiefs from western reservations, bedecked in the regalia of their rank, marched stolidly up the hill at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, today with their "Great White Father," president, and members of his official family.

At the crest of the hill, the highest point on the Atlantic coast between New York and Florida, they formed a swift group as the president uttered a spangled of earth, breaking ground for the national American Indian memorial, a sixty-foot bronze statue of an Indian warrior, which will tower 165 feet above the highest elevation around New York harbor, a tribute to a vanishing race.

The guns of the fort roared a national salute of twenty-one guns at the moment the president placed his foot on the spade. As he stepped back, Chief Hollow Horn Bear of the Yankton Sioux, came forward from the group and turned a second bit of earth with the thigh bone of a buffalo. That done, the chief replied with a speech to an address by the president.

As Hollow Horn Bear's voice died away, the stars and stripes were run up on a great flagpole nearby to the rhythm of Indian folk songs, sung by the chieftains. When it reached the top the band broke out with the "Stars and Spangled Banner."

The gathering of the Indians marked the last time, perhaps, that so many native chiefs will assemble in the east. Most of them are between 75 and 90 years of age. Some of them fought against Custer, among these being Chief Hollow Horn Bear, who stands six feet four inches tall, and Chief White-Man-Runs-Him, more than 70 years old, tall, straight as a pine tree, and one of the finest specimens of the Indians alive today.

White-Man-Runs-Him was chief of the Custer scouts. Others were Chief Two Moons, 80 years, nearly blind and almost hidden by feathers, bespeaking his prowess, and Pretty Voice Eagle of the Sioux, 70 years old, who carries in his body twenty-one bullets picked up in seventy fights and skirmishes with government troops and neighboring tribes.

A distinguished gathering witnessed the memorial exercises. The plan had its inception several years ago. The monument is being erected under authority from congress, by a committee, of which Rodman is the head.

NEWLANDS HOLDS UP APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Because the conference report on the legislative and judicial appropriation bill contained a provision eliminating the assay office at Carson City, Nev., Senator Newlands of Nevada today prevented adoption of the report when it was brought into the senate. The provision extending the life of the commerce court until June 30 had been also eliminated by the conferees.

STOCK TRAIN CATCHES FIRE; TWENTY HORSES KILLED

MITCHELL, S. D., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—As the result of a car of horses on the Milwaukee road being burned while in transit, twenty of the animals had to be killed. There were two cars of horses being shipped from Platte to Sioux City, and when near Geddes, one of the cars was seen to be on fire, caught from a spark from the engine. The train was stopped and the train crew attempted to extinguish the flames. Twenty of the horses were gutted out of the car, but they had to be killed. The other car of horses was taken back to Platte and unloaded, none of which were injured to any extent by the fire, although the car was on fire in one or two places.

SIT SUPREME AND DRAW PAY

Legislators of Democratic House Take Attitude of Omnipotence and Are Laid to Look at Own Shortcomings.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—The state has just finished contracting a $20,000 debt to pay for revising the code of Nebraska in order to get it in reasonable shape, so the average human being who can read may be able to tell what some of the language means, but when this legislature is through the state is liable to find its code in worse condition than before. Not because of any lack of ability on the part of the code commission, but because of the fact this democratic house is so busy turning out decrees and trying to discredit republican office holders, that it is paying no attention to the business its members were sent here to transact.

For instance, here is a copy of an amendment prepared and adopted by a standing committee of the house and later adopted in the committee of the whole of the house and it is now a part of the engrossed bill to be voted on at the first opportunity. This amendment has been printed and is now in the bill files. The house record reads as follows: LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, Thirty-third Session, (Thirty-first day, February 21, 1913.) COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL.

Standing committee amendment adopted in full as follows: Amend Section 4, line 5, by inserting after the word "good" the following words "and keep a record of the length of time all goods of every kind that have been kept in cold storage, either in this state, or that has been shipped into the state, has been kept in cold storage."

The democratic house majority that would burden the statutes with a law containing such a statement as the one printed, is the same democratic house majority that has the audacity to ask a republican state railway commission what it knows about the issuance of stocks and bonds by corporations and upon what grounds permission was given for such issuance. The same democratic majority of the house believes it is competent to tell the state officials and heads of departments of state, how to conduct the business of the state, and yet it would submit and adopt an amendment to a bill like the one produced from the records. The same democratic majority of the house that adopted that amendment and there are other amendments just as badly drawn and incorporated into the machinery of the state, can solve the problem of the high cost of living and how to make living cheaper.

Yet these self-satisfied and self-proclaimed guardians of the state, have never considered for a moment the fact that the $10 a day paid to each of them by the state helps some to keep up expenses.

Packers Find Flaws in the Indictments

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 22.—The Armour Packing company and Swift & Co. succeeded today in temporarily knocking out the indictments found against them in United States court charging restraint of trade. The indictments were called to be argued on demurrers. It was claimed by the Armour company that the indictment against it was invalid, as it was against the Armour-Packing company of New Jersey, while the Armour company that does business in Savannah was incorporated under the laws of Louisiana. Swift & Co. jointly indicted with Armour, and an alleged New Jersey corporation, claims that the company doing business in Savannah is a branch of the company organized under the laws of West Virginia.

NORDICA'S STEPDAUGHTER MARRIES COMEDIAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—J. Leroy Atwell, comic opera comedian, known as Roy Atwell, and Dorothy Young, 19-year-old stepdaughter of Madame Lillian Nordica, grand opera singer, confirmed today the reports of their marriage yesterday at Greenwich, Conn. The intention had been kept a secret from the bride's father, George W. Young, a New York banker, who married Madame Nordica in 1898, but the wedding letter received the banker's approval.

Mr. Atwell is 35 years old, son of a merchant at Syracuse, N. Y. He and his first wife, Blanche West, an actress, were divorced two years ago. Miss Young is well known in musical circles from the fact that during the last few years she has been the almost constant companion of Madame Nordica.
