Miss Hughes has been one of the prominent workers for Woman's Suffrage in the state and her loss to Omaha will be felt by her many friends. She has been connected with the Ak-Sar-Ben headquarters for several years. Complimentary to Miss Hughes several affairs have been given. One of the largest dinners was given at the Young Woman's Christian association Monday evening, when the members of the Omaha suffrage societies entertained in her honor. Mrs. Draper Smith, president of the Nebraska Suffrage association, was toastmistress and Mrs. Ada Atkinson, Mrs. W. E. Shafer, Mrs. Frank Harrison, Miss Peterson and Miss Graves all expressed their sincere regret at the departure of Miss Hughes for California.

The Nebraska Woman Suffrage association announces a prize essay contest on the subject, "Why Women Should Want the Ballot," open to the pupils of every high school in the state. The prize essay of not less than 1,000 words, in each county, will be eligible to compete for the Anna Howard Shaw state prize of $25, to be awarded June 1.

Douglas county offers a first prize of $10 and a second prize of $5 for the best essays written in any of the high schools of the county. The state headquarters in Brandy Theater building is preparing to receive the expected demand for literature on the subject. The city library will also be asked to keep on file such helps in the way of books and magazines as it has available for public use.

The handsome Nebraska suffrage banner has been sent to Washington, and will be carried in the parade on March 2 by Mrs. Mary Smith Hayward of Chadron and Mrs. M. M. Clavin of University Place. A number of other Nebraska women now in the east have also signed their intention of marching in the section allotted to this state.

Nowhere in the state is the suffrage enrollment of women and men being pushed more successfully than in the Chadron district, consisting of Sioux, Dawes, Box Butte and Sheridan counties. Alliance alone already reports 250 cards signed and more to follow. Each of these counties has a chairman actively at work organizing suffrage clubs, holding debates and other school programs and in every way getting the people of this northwest section into the suffrage campaign. Mrs. Mary Diehl of Crawford is chairman of the district.

Gage county is getting in line for the suffrage campaign. An organization was effected in Beatrice last week and preparations are being made for a public meeting to interest the citizens generally, and prepare for systematic work along the usual campaign lines.

mentary practice and Mrs. McKelvey will give a report of the bills before the legislature which the club has endorsed.

Capen, Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. Frances Follansbee. Resolutions were passed condemning the employment of girls for messengers of the telegraph companies. A most interesting program was given under the direction of Mrs. Follansbee.

The largest club of girls and women in the world has entered the field of social service. The girls' club of the Ladies' Home Journal has undertaken to raise among its members a fund of $1,200 to be used for endowing a perpetual scholarship in medicine for Chinese women at the Union Medical College for Women, located at Peking, China, with the understanding that the successive beneficiaries will devote their services to the neglected and suffering among their own sex. June 1, 1913, is the date set for the completion of the fund, and the Journal has promised to subscribe to one-half the fund, $600, if the members of the club, by small individual contributions, will make up the remaining $600. Only members of the Girls' club are to be allowed to contribute to the fund, and the money must be earned through personal effort.

Musik Verein Buys Unitarian Church

The Musik verein, an organization composed of the German singing societies of the city, has purchased the Unitarian church, Seventeenth and Cass streets, and will occupy it as an auditorium and club house. The property is sixty-six feet on Cass and 132 feet on Seventeenth, thus giving plenty of room to erect an addition to the present building should the necessity arise.

In converting the church into an auditorium and club house, some changes in the interior arrangements will be necessary, but they will not have to be extensive. The body of the house is well adapted as an auditorium, and about the only change that will be made will be the erection of a large stage where the pulpit is now located. The Sunday school rooms and the study will be used for offices and reception rooms. Possession is to be given about April 15.

The people of Unity church do not expect to be long without a house of worship, as they are figuring on buying property, which they will not have to be extensive. HISTORICAL MEETING IN MAY Mississippi Valley Historical Association to Meet Here.

EIGHT STATES REPRESENTED Program, Which is Now Nearly Completed, Will Include Some Papers and Speakers from Many Localities.

A preliminary draft of the program of the sixth annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical association has just been completed. This meeting is to be held at Omaha, May 8, 9 and 10, in connection with the annual meeting of the Nebraska History Teachers' association and a special meeting of the Nebraska State Historical society.

Eight states of the Mississippi valley are represented on the program and the subjects of the papers as announced cover nearly every phase of Mississippi valley history. Nebraska is particularly well represented on the program. Lincoln furnishing three of the speakers, Prof. H. W. Caldwell, Prof. Melvin H. Gilmore and Miss Mattie Allen, while Omaha will be represented by Victor L. Rosewater, Nelson H. Loomis and John Lee Webster.

The meeting will open at 2 p. m. Thursday, May 8, when there will be a joint session with the Nebraska State Historical society. President Reuben Gold Thwaites of the Mississippi Valley Historical association will deliver his annual address Thursday evening, Wednesday forenoon will be devoted to six papers by distinguished members of the association, among whom will be Prof. Frank M. Anderson, head of the department of American history of the University of Minnesota; Dr. James A. James, Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.; Dr. Louis Pelzer, State university, Iowa City, Ia.; Prof. W. J. Trimble, North Dakota Agricultural college.

Friday afternoon the program will be opened with an address by Frederic L. Paxson, head of the department of American history, University of Wisconsin. This will be followed by the business meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical association. Friday evening will be devoted to a social reunion and banquet.

Saturday there will be a joint session with the Nebraska History Teachers' association. Prof. H. W. Caldwell, Prof. E. L. Hendricks of Wausau, Wis., and Miss Mattie Allen of Lincoln will be the principal speakers at this session. It is expected that the attendance will be larger at the Omaha meeting than at any previous meeting of the association. Large delegations are planning to come, especially from Madison, Wis.; Iowa City, Chicago and Urbana, Ill. It is expected that there will also be a large attendance from Kansas City and New Orleans, both cities being candidates for the 1914 meeting of the association.

The association has shown a remarkable growth. Organized in Lincoln, Neb., in 1907 by a half dozen of western historians, it now numbers nearly 1,000 members representing every state in the union and nearly every foreign country. The association has held five regular annual meetings and six mid-year meetings. It has published 19 volumes of proceedings. The headquarters of the association are still maintained in Lincoln.

TABOR STUDENTS STUDY CONDITIONS IN OMAHA

Prof. R. F. Williams, instructor in sociology at Congregational Denominational college, Tabor, Ia., took nine of his pupils through the stores, factories and banks of Omaha to get first hand information for the pursuit of their studies.

The class visited the water works at Florence and the smelters at Packard will make the rounds of the packing plants, department stores and banks. The class will be divided Sunday to study the various churches, some going to Catholic and others to Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian and other denominations.

The investigation will be made principally for the study of the contentions of socialism in regard to the condition of labor, capital and general living conditions.

SEND VALENTINES TO THEIR DEAR MOTHER "IN HEAVEN"

There is no postoffice in heaven, and no rural carrier makes that sublime route, and so two little hand-drawn valentines addressed "To My Mamma, In Heaven" have found their way into the inquiry department at the Omaha post-office. In a childish hand the directions are printed on the envelope, and in a very crude and untrained way the valentines are drawn with colored pencils. One is a large red heart and the other a large crimson heart. The larger one bears the words, "To My Mamma," and is signed "Jack." The smaller and more delicate heart bears the same inscription, and is signed "Minnie." Instead of postage stamps, trading stamps were used.

TIMELY REAL ESTATE GOSSIP

Omahans Buy and Sell Large Residences During Week.

EXCHANGE IS TO BANQUET A BIG Two-Dollar-Per-Plate Dinner is to Be Given on Friday Evening at University Club.

Plans are being made for the annual banquet of the Real Estate exchange to be given Friday night at the University club. S. P. Bostwick is at the head of a committee into whose hands the exchange has thrown the entire responsibility and the members are anticipating one of the most successful banquets the organization has ever had. Details of the program have not been given out, although the most of it is said to have been finally arranged. The dinner will cost $2 a plate. Incidentally, there was no fight on the price this year.

Several speakers will be on the program, but their talks will be cut very short. Also the occasion will be the first for some time where the members have gathered around a peaceful table. No debates will be held.

Large Residence Sales. Some rather important deals in real estate property were recorded during the last week, four or five prominent Omahans selling and buying homes. Arthur Metz bought from John A. Moshare a vacant lot at the southeast corner of Thirty-seventh and Dawey avenues, on which he intends to build a home in the spring. The property fronts 100 feet on Dawey avenue and 100 feet on Thirty-seventh, and stands across the street from the Creighton-Nash home, formerly the Cudahy residence.

The W. H. DeFrance residence, at the northeast corner of Thirty-fifth and Woolworth avenues, was bought by George A. Joslyn for a relative. It is a fine brick and stucco dwelling.

W. H. Bucholz bought from Mrs. B. T. White the residence at 1728 South Thirty-second avenue, and soon will move into it as his home. Mrs. White intends to go to California.

The home of the late J. J. Derrig, 208 South Thirty-fourth street, also changed hands during the week. Mrs. Charles D. Woodworth made the purchase through George and company, paying $11,000 cash for it.

CITY PLANNING

The directors of the Omaha civic league are naturally interested in the work of the Chicago plan commission, although not likely to plan anything on so elaborate or so expensive a scale. Walter D. Moody, managing director, writes in of interest however, as it covers one of the main points that is now under discussion by the Omaha organization. He says in answer to an inquiry on the best mode of procedure: "The way to work will adjust itself if you set your mind upon some set object and cleave to that to that thing. Whatever it is, make it big—worth while, place your goal-post far out in the field of endeavor and march straight toward it, averring neither to the right nor to the left, keeping only the objective point constantly in mind. In the organization of such work, personal selfishness, sectional prejudice and other negative characteristics have no place. What is good for one is good for all. All-Omaha Proposition." The force of your crystallized public spirit and enthusiasm always on the rails which lead to your ambition. Whatever it is, you will accomplish it. Nothing on earth can stop such a force—a force harnessed for the common good and intelligently directed.

Committee to Probe High Cost of Living

The house committee investigating the cause of the high cost of living in the city that the legislature may reduce it at once, is to begin operations in Omaha Monday. They expect to spend most of next week in Omaha on this tour of investigation. Most members of the legislature returning for the week end from Lincoln say they do not believe the committee will accomplish anything of value in this research, as the problem of high cost of living is too complicated. Investigations of the committee are to be confined chiefly to Omaha and Lincoln.
