The every day ad

Not long ago an ad went into a paper telling of the merits of a machine, costing $200. The size of the ad was small. The advertiser, new at the business, said he would not use space again unless this ad sold some machines. He wanted results before he had acquainted the publie with his goods. It was ridiculous to expect one little ad to do much. It is the every day ad that gets results which count. Probably the first day the the copy will not pay, but if it is kept in for a week or two or more it will bring big returns. Want ads in The Bee which run a week or a month give high returns.
