

THE BEE-HIVE SOCIETY

By MELLIFICIA. Monday, February 24, 1913.

THE Commercial club is to divert from its beaten path of seclusion and, starting with next Saturday, March 1, it is to set aside every following Saturday luncheon for the convenience of the wives and daughters of members.

Not only is the invitation extended, but the day is to have added attractiveness in the way of music and flowers. An orchestra will send out rhythmic music, flowers will adorn the tables, and every effort will be made to appeal to foibles of the gentler sex.

I am sure that many women will appreciate this, for they often find themselves down town Saturday doing shopping, and to be able to dine with their husbands without going home is going to materially facilitate the comfort of their duties.

The new rooms of this club are unusually attractive, are homelike in every detail of appointment, and are bound to win the approbation of all those who have not yet visited them.

Entertain at Riverside.

One of the delightful Washington parties was that given by Mr. George and Mrs. Margaret Richard, at their country home, Riverside, Saturday evening. PLASTERING AT COURT HOUSE IS CRACKING

Plastering on the walls of Judge Lee S. Estelle's private office in the southeast corner of the new county building is cracked. In the office of Tom Wilson, court reporter for Judge Estelle, the plastering is cracked and some paint has come off with bits of plaster.

On the east wall of Judge Estelle's office a large crack extends from the ceiling half way to the floor and is becoming deeper. Several cracks appear on the west wall of Wilson's room. A piece of plaster of several inches' area has fallen off, revealing white plaster beneath.

Both rooms present a far from pleasing appearance.

Judge Estelle will ask the county commissioners what they are going to do about it.
