Weather Conditions Have Affected Wheat Market.

MAY CORN MAY BE FORCED DOWN

Conservative Corn Men Are of the Opinion that May Option of the Yellow Cereal is Bound to Lose Ground.

While the sentiment on wheat may be called bearish, the men who are arrayed on the bear side of the market are slow to put out big short lines around the present price level, but are satisfied to make all commitments and to even up their position from day to day. While the recent snow and rain throughout the southwestern country has been a great help to the growing plant and is considered a tail feather in the cap of the bears, the conditions are at least partially offset by the improved cash trade in wheat on export account and a better inquiry with some business on interior milling account. The wheat markets that were open in the United States yesterday and the Winnipeg market as well showed but little changes and the trade was small at all points. St. Louis and Kansas City both reported the trade there as dull.

A message from Minneapolis reported message from Minneapolis reported A message from Minneapolis raported the volume of business there as small, with the pit crowd taking a little May wheat and the offers supplied by cash houses. Another message from Minneapolis said that it is the opinion there that there is a big long interest and it is held tightly, with no lack of surplus in the pit, and that until there is a loosenbelief among wheat traders yesterday that the market is not likely to do much until the figures on farm reserves are given out March 10. There is nothing but the export business, that drifts from day to day, to trade on at present, as the built edge has been taken off the dry western scare by recent snews and rains. Chicago traders as a rule are doing little in the market, and while many are bullish, they are satisfied with small profits. Cash wheat be to be higher. The corn markets in the old world were about neglected yesterday because of a holiday in Chicago.

It is believed by the more conservative men in the corn trade that the large holiers in the May option are more than likely to be forced out of their position because of liberal receipts at Chicago coupled with the increase in stocks and the fact that Argentina is still in 'he market with a fair-sized quantity of old corn. The bears believe that the farm reserves of corn, as well as oats, will prove quite heavy in the March tep-rissued by the government. Some of the more conservative houses in the trade are advising customers to use caution in taking on a line of courn, with the expectation of securing a profit out of it. Cash corn, by higher.

Now that the United States is practically out of export business in oats, because of liberal offerings by Argentina. NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The steady de-dine in stocks was halted today and the market made material progress upward t was one of the periodic upurns which have occurred during the downward movement of the last few weeks, marking a natural reaction, and was symptomatic of no essential change in speculative conditions. Trading grew quiet on the higher level.

Europe lent a hand in pulling up the narket. Indications that the Harriman issolution plan would not be upset by h objections of the California railroad commission also exercised a strengtheng influence.
One of the most encouraging features

Cash oats, 5c higher. One of the most encouraging features of the market from the standpoint of the buil trader was the cessation of liquidation of the specialties and inactive railroad stocks, such as had an inactiling effect recently. Many of these stocks made large gains today. Can common and preferred moved up rapidly on the belief that the directors at tomorrow's meeting might take action toward paying off the accumulated dividend on the preferred. CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Wheat today showed considerable strength, an outcome largely of rumors that export sales had been made from Omaha and Duluth. The close, though easy, was 1/60 to 1/60% up. Corn finished at a net advance of 1/60% up. Corn finished at a net advance of 1/60% and provisions unchanged to 1/60 higher. Firm cables gave wheat an upward tendency from the start. Additional snow and rain, putting the United States winter wheat belt in almost perfect condition and almost preciuding any serious crop scare the present season, fulled to stop the upturn in the market A slight reaction at the close, however, came about through assertions however, came about through assertions in some quarters that the Duluth export sales could not be confirmed.

Primary receipts of wheat for two days were 1,511,000 bu., against 791,000 a year ago. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 945,000 bu.

Cattle Slow, Steady to Ten Cents Lower in Spots.

House Heavy receipts at all markets this morning indicated a general break in prices. At the local yards the first bids were a flet dime lower than on Tuesday. Trade was very slow at the opening and it was almost 10 o'clock bofore anything of consequence had been done. By this time, however, bids were around of loc lower and as it locked as if his was the best the packets would do, salesmen began to unload their strings. Even at this time business was not very active and it was late in the forenoon before the last of the hogs were soid. Shippers and speculators were not very heavy buyers, and took only such loads as just suited them.

The bulk of the sales landed at $8.100 k.15 as against yesterday's bulk of $8.15 as and the highest price paid during the session was $8.12, a full dime lower than yesterday. It was largely a $8.12, market, this heling the average for the most of the packers' purchases.

Receipts were generous today, about 26 cars or 18.500 head being reported in This is over 900 head larger than one and two weeks ago and just a little heavier than a year ago. The supply for the first three days of the week foots up 37.600 head, being a little smaller than last week, but considerably heavier than in the same period of the corresponding week s year ago.
