

READY TO WELCOME WILSON

Washington is Draped in All Its Patriotic Finery.

MARSHALL ARRIVES FRIDAY

Military Cadets from Georgia and Indiana Are First Marching Organizations to Reach the City.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Ready to welcome a president next Monday and to inaugurate him the following day, Washington was draped today in all its patriotic finery...

Vice President-elect Marshall welcomed the Cadets in front of his hotel early in the day. The boys from his own state are to act as his official bodyguard throughout the inauguration ceremony.

Before noon the expected rush of arrivals for the first democratic inauguration in twenty years was on in earnest and the streets of the city were filled with the van guard.

The new vice president, who had his official day yesterday, was a visitor at the capitol today and looked in the quarters he is to occupy within a few days as president of the senate.

HORNBY TURNS BACK MONEY TO MRS. MORSE

Hornby, intent upon demanding that in the case of Mrs. Morse he practice the "Golden Rule," which he says is his motto. But the "doctor" was not easy to find.

Mrs. Bauer's Action. Mrs. R. Bauer, 510 North Twenty-third street, who innocently had recommended the "doctor" to the suffering Walter Morse, went to the Hornby home and demanded that the money paid the "specialist" be returned.

At the Morse home when the money was repaid were Mrs. Morse, Miss Cora B. Stern, 201 Franklin street; Mrs. G. R. Sutherland, 322 North Twenty-fifth avenue; Mrs. Bauer, young Hornby and Robert E. Carter.

Threats Against the Bee. While Hornby and the four women awaited Mr. Carter, Hornby declared to them that The Bee had ruined his father and that he and his father will prosecute The Bee for slander.

Two of the women told young Hornby he should be careful about making threats, especially when in the presence of so many witnesses. They advised him that in case anything untoward should happen to the editor of The Bee the man who had made threats against him might find himself in a quite uncomfortable position.

Mrs. Morse Signs Receipt. Mr. Carter appeared now, read the receipt and advised Mrs. Morse to sign it. The paper she signed was an acceptance of $20 in full settlement of any and all claims she might have against Hornby.

In words that would admit no doubt of sincerity, Mrs. Morse and members of the committee that is working in her behalf thanked The Bee for the part it has played in bringing "Doctor" Hornby to the point of returning the money he obtained from the Morse family without giving anything in return.

BABY PULLS WILSON'S HAIR

Next President Becomes Acquainted with Children on Train.

DECLINES TO DINE WITH REA

Invitation of President of Pennsylvania Railroad to Take Luncheon in His Private Car Not Accepted.

NEW YORK, Mar. 1.—Two little children, a boy of 5 and a girl of 2, gave President-elect Wilson an hour of diversion today when he rode to New York from Philadelphia after a visit to his dentist.

President James Rea of the Pennsylvania, whose private car happened to be attached to the same train, greeted Mr. Wilson, inviting him to luncheon in his own car. The president-elect had arranged to dine with members of his party in the dining car and declined. The railroad president sat with Mr. Wilson for a few minutes chatting. At the other end of the car was a blue-eyed youngster, blowing a toy whistle. He was waving the president-elect and as soon as Mr. Rea left the little fellow proceeded to make the acquaintance of the future president, who received him in his arms, found that his name was Clark Greenwood, Jr., and that he was fond of pulling hair.

Master Greenwood found Mr. Wilson a ready listener to his infant utterances. He rapidly drew more intimate and soon his acquaintance extended to the privilege of fingering the president-elect's ears, rubbing his face and dancing up and down upon his knee, all of which Mr. Wilson seemed to enjoy immensely.

Holds Children on Knees. A moment later little Clara Greenwood came toddling along from the other end of the car to find her brother and she, too, was soon on friendly terms with the president-elect. Both children were presently perched safely on the knees of the next president of the United States, unconscious of the unusual situation.

Mrs. Clark Greenwood of Nazareth, Pa., mother of the two children, left her youngest child, a baby, for a few minutes and chatted with the president-elect.

Mr. Wilson, on arrival in New York, went to the studio of an artist, who completed a portrait begun during the campaign. As the train was approaching New York from Philadelphia the governor was shown a dispatch from Washington saying Castro had announced in Havana that the president-elect had extended him an invitation to the inauguration. Beyond the brief statement that it was "unqualifiedly false," the governor had no statement to make.

LINCOLN, March 1.—State Labor Commissioner Pool said tonight it was his understanding that the Dewey hotel at Omaha had been condemned by his predecessor, Labor Commissioner Louis V. Guye.

The former commissioner had called attention to the dangerous condition of the building. State Fire Commissioner Ridgell will go to Omaha tomorrow to make an investigation of the fire.
