CONTROL BILL THIS WEEK
Measure Worked Over by Special Committee to Come Out.
REMOVAL TO COME UP SOON
House and Senate Both Against Proposition and Now Must Decide How to Provide for the State University.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., March 3.—(Special.)—The senate begins its ninth week of work today with a prospect that it will be one of the most important and interesting of the session.
The Board of Control bill has been worked over by the special committee for two weeks and will be brought in this week presumably with the best features of the Ohio and code commission bills consolidated into one good measure.

There is little chance that the work of the senate committee will stand, as the bill will have to go to the house after the senate has fixed it up, and what they will do to it over there with their record of jumbling up things no one can tell.

The senate committee, though putting in long hours and burning midnight electricity in an effort to bring good things, had been confronted all the while with a nightmare such as the house is only able to hatch, which has handicapped them considerably. As they know not what will be the outcome and there was not much incentive to dig into it to any great extent, though they did bring out the best features of the two bills.

Removal Up Again.
Another matter to be threshed out by the senate during the week is the university removal proposition. The senate has put itself on record by about three to one as favorable to removal. The house has gone against removal by even a larger percentage, and there it stands. Some of the senators who favored removal, while deeply disappointed over the action of the house, are loath to do anything to keep the university from expanding and now that it is evident that nothing can be done in the removal to the state farm, may conclude to join in the proposition to purchase the land next to the present campus and make the best of a bad job.

Very few senators think that the city council of Lincoln can deliver the goods when it comes to the proposition of donating $100,000 to keep the university in its present location and look upon it as a great deal in the light of a grandstand play and believe that if the campus must be enlarged in its present location the best thing to do is to go ahead and buy the grounds and be under no obligations to the city of Lincoln at all. Most of them think the state is wealthy enough to do its own expanding without the aid and consent of the city council and the matter may be fixed in that way.

Executive Session.
On Thursday comes the executive session of the senate when the important question of "to be or not to be," as it relates to the chances of the appointees sent up by the governor, as members of the Board of Control to hold their jobs will be settled. It is almost an open secret that Griffith, the democratic appointee, will have mighty hard sledding in order to hold on because of opposition in his own party, while Gregg will find that his action in assisting to defeat Governor Aldrich for re-election is not exactly retailed by the two bull moose members of the investigating committee appointed to report upon the standing of the candidates. Nobody doubts but Henry Gerdes will go in without opposition, but the other two—well, time will tell.

VALENTINE DEBATERS WIN FROM AINSWORTH

Second Fire at Oak.
OAK, Neb., March 4.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed the postoffice, livery barn, restaurant and pool hall Saturday morning. It started in the livery barn and burned so rapidly that very little was saved, the loss being about $3,000 and was well covered by insurance. This is the second large fire in Oak this winter, and very little of the town is left, the fire being

A Ten Cent Box of "Cascarets"
Insures you for months against a Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach.
Put aside—Just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters, which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.
Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanses the stomach, removes the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.
A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Advertisement.

Nebraska Leads in Agriculture
(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., March 3.—(Special.)—The publicity service of the State Board of Agriculture has completed a statistical study of the agricultural development of the ten states of the corn belt which gives a new view of the pre-eminence of Nebraska in agricultural progress. The ten states which have been used as the basis for this comparison are Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota; the items compared are the total values of all farm property, corn, wheat, oats, rye, potatoes, horses, dairy and beef cattle and swine. The figures are taken from the reports of the United States Department of Agriculture for the year 1911 and are reduced in each case to value per capita of each item for the people resident on the farms of each state.

Nebraska ranks second in the value of all farm property with a per capita value for the farm population of $2,399, being led only by Iowa by the small margin of $64. Nebraska also ranks second in this item in the entire union. In the per capita values of other items Nebraska ranks as follows: In corn, second; in wheat, second, with 25 per cent larger yield per acre than Kansas, which leads in per capita value because of its larger acreage; in oats Nebraska is fifth, but leads five of these states 8 1/2 per cent; in rye Nebraska is fourth, leading six states 19 per cent; in potatoes Nebraska is again fourth, leading six states 25 1/2 per cent; in horses Nebraska is second; fourth in dairy cattle, first in beef cattle and second in swine.

In per capita value of all farm property Nebraska leads the average of the ten states by 65 1/2 per cent, in corn 5 1/2 per cent, in wheat 9 1/2 per cent, in dairy cattle 12 per cent, in horses 26 1/2 per cent and in swine 75 per cent. These figures prove indisputably the fertility of Nebraska soil, the efficiency and intelligence of its farmers. When the relatively large area of what is at present unproductive land in the western part of the state is considered, this acknowledged position of leadership in the agriculture of the United States is an achievement little short of marvelous. Nebraska citizens should consider carefully before being led into doubtful investments in territory with which they are unfamiliar.

Three Pioneers of Johnson County Dead

TABLE ROCK, Neb., March 3.—(Special.)—Peter G. Foale, the oldest settler in the Nemaha valley, died Friday evening at his residence five miles north of here, at the supper table, with no preliminary warning. Mr. Foale was born in England, February 11, 1822. He came to America when a young man and was married at Sandusky, O., some sixty-five or seventy years since. He came to the Nemaha valley, and selected his home in this county on the Johnson county line, five miles north, in 1858. He returned to St. Joseph, Mo., temporarily while he worked at the trade of a brick mason, until the following year, when he built a cabin on his land, which he had since occupied. His wife died in 1894, and he leaves one son, Oscar Foale, with whom he resided on the old farm, where he had lived for fifty-seven years.

Captain C. A. Whitaker, formerly of this county, well known in this vicinity, a veteran of the civil war, who left to make his home with relatives in Pennsylvania last fall, died there a few days since. He was unmarried and was buried near the old Pennsylvania home.

Word has reached here of the death at his home in Los Angeles, Cal., of Lou C. DeCoudrer, who was county clerk of this county for a period of ten years, from 1867 until 1877. He was one of the early settlers of this county, having taken a homestead between here and Pawnee city almost half a century ago. He was an old soldier having lost his right arm in the service of his country in the civil war. He returned to the coast several years since.

Oxford Roller Mills Destroyed by Fire
OXFORD, Neb., March 3.—(Special Telegram.)—At about 4:30 this morning the Oxford Roller mills, owned and run by H. Dunn, were discovered to be on fire. The volunteer fire company was quickly on hand, but the mill and the blacksmith shop south of it, burned to the ground.
The loss on the mill amounted to about $27,000, of which $10,000 was covered by insurance. The loss on the blacksmith shop was approximately $750 with no insurance. It was owned by William Askey.
It is not definitely known whether the mill will be rebuilt. Over a carload of flour, several carloads of other materials and a large amount of wheat and corn were destroyed in the mill.

RAHWAY, N. J., March 3.—The locomotive of a Washington bound special train over the Pennsylvania railroad exploded as it drew into this town today fatally injuring the engineer and fireman and blocking for an hour the rush of passenger traffic to the inauguration. The eight cars behind the locomotive carried 250 members of the second corps of cadets, Massachusetts volunteer militia from Salem, respectively. The cars did not leave the tracks and no one was hurt. Debris was strewn over the three west bound tracks, and a long string of Washington-bound trains was halted.

CAMPAIGN INVESTIGATORS PROVE UNABLE TO AGREE
WASHINGTON, March 3.—The senate campaign expenditures committee will make no report to the dying congress upon its exhaustive inquiry into campaign expenditures of 1911, 1908 and 1902 and into the relations of John D. Archbold and the Standard Oil company, with members of congress and federal officers. Members of the special committee have found it impossible to agree upon a report and the matter is to be carried over to the new congress.
It is understood that the five members of the special committee, Senators Clapp, Pomerenke, Oliver, Jones and Paynter, have been unable to agree on the extent to which the committee should go in analyzing the testimony taken. Some members of the committee will, eventually recommend important changes in the laws regulating campaign expenditures. It is expected a recommendation will also be made by one or two members of the committee, that campaign committee composed entirely of members of congress, as the republican and democratic congressional committee are now created be prohibited by law.
