SEE FRIDAY NIGHT PAPERS FOR PARTICULARS

THE SOCIETY OF THE BEE-HIVE

By MELLIFICIA. Thursday, March 6, 1913.

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB is steadily increasing in popularity and much credit is due the entertainment committee, whom, it seems to me, has been working overtime to have accomplished so much in so short a time.

Although this is the newest club, novel features of entertainment have already been introduced. Right now it is considering after theater parties on Monday nights, and while these are not to go into effect for a while, they should meet a popular taste among members.

The Sunday evening suppers are now undergoing experiment and they are bidding fair for indefinite continuance. Should they endure, it will have a hurrying influence upon the establishment of the Monday night entertainment.

The Harvard club gave a dinner Saturday evening, at which nearly all of the local Harvard men were in attendance.

First of the monthly dinner dances was given Tuesday evening, with a hearty response, and the next one is to follow the first week in April.

The membership of the club is steadily growing and among those who have recently joined are Ray H. Wise, John C. Daugherty, George Agnew, Vincent C. Haskell, Doane Keller, Bernard Capen, Dr. W. A. Rush, Malvern, Ia.; Rev. W. Jasper Howell, Stephen E. Davies, Edwin E. Elliott, Harold L. Evans, J. C. Hitchman, D. E. McCully, C. F. McGrew, Harold L. Pritchett, Joseph Q. Ringwalt, I. Silberman, Robert M. Switzer, William H. Taylor, Carleton B. Woodward, George Alexander Young. Applications from college men are coming in rapidly to the membership committee.

HARVESTER CO. IN CONTROL

Dealers Testify Harvester Trust Sells Most Implements.

PRICES HAVE BEEN ADVANCED

Other Dealers State that the Prices Before the Amalgamation of Companies Were Lower Than Now.

Between 75 and 95 per cent of all the farming implements sold in certain parts of Nebraska are made by the International Harvester company, according to testimony of witnesses who appeared in behalf of the International company in the dissolution suit brought by the government, and which is being heard in the federal court.

Four witnesses were put on the stand by the defense this morning, including Mayor J. W. Patterson of Kearney, Fred Schrieber of Wisner, Neb., who has been in the implement business for thirty-three years, was by far the best witness for the defense. He said the improvements made on the binder since the McCormick and Deering companies were merged into the International have been greater than prior to that time. He said the wire binder, in his estimation, was a better machine for binding than the present twine binder. The twine, according to Schrieber, is of little use in some localities, because of crickets eating the twine and thus breaking the bundles. He said 95 per cent of the harvesting machines sold in his part of the country were International makes.

Beat the Trust for a While.

Hugh McCarger of Crete, told of how he tried to beat the trust by refusing to sell McCormick or Deering binders. He said he sold the old Buckeye implements and he sold more of those than any other make. "If the Buckeye was still doing business," said McCarger, "I would still be selling their goods and I would be beating the trust, but when they went out of business I began selling the McCormick line and am still doing it."

"Well, then, the trust put the Buckeye people out of business, didn't it?" asked Grosvenor in cross-examination.

"No, they did not; the Buckeye people quit their business; that's all."

"What per cent of the binders sold around Crete are made by the International Harvester company?"

"About 75."

"What per cent of the mowers sold around Crete are made by the International?"

"About 90."

C. A. Newberry of Alliance said there was one other implement dealer in his town. Newberry sells the McCormick line and his competitor the Deering line.

According to Newberry Alliance is a town of about 400 inhabitants and the only harvesting machines sold there are made by the International. He said 100 per cent of the mowers sold in his territory in the last twelve years were made by the International Harvester company.

University Regents Make Statement on the Campus Removal

F. L. Haller and George Coupland, regents of the University of Nebraska, have made the following statement in regard to the action of the senate of the Nebraska legislature on the campus removal bill:

"In view of the Board of Regents' recent recommendation of the McKelick bill, we have been asked to make a statement in regard to the vote of 23 to 19 in the senate Wednesday in favor of consolidation of the state farm.

"In their special report to the governor and the legislature early in the session, the board unanimously recommended removal to the farm and consolidation of the two campuses for educational and economic reasons.

"They then believed, as they do now, that it is the best thing to do, but in view of the recent vote of the house and the governor's recommendation against consolidation, as expressed in his inaugural message, and upon supposedly reliable and trustworthy assurance that a majority of the senate was pledged against removal, the board accepted the verdict and thereupon recommended the passage of the McKelick bill as the next best thing, because it provides for the necessary funds to build up both the down town campus and the farm campus and affords us a path from the danger to our health as existing in some of the old buildings on the city campus.

"It would be gratifying indeed if the senate should succeed in passing the governor and the house to the board's recommendation for a consolidated university in the state farm."

Police Officer Follows Wagon Trail of Cinders

Incensed because a careless driver hauling cinders in a wagon was scattering them along the way and littering up the clean streets of the city, which he had been detailed to keep clean from rubbish, Officer Ford, working under Street Commissioner McGovern, set out on the trail of the wagon and arrested T. Burge of 218 North Thirtieth street.

Officer Ford has long applied to be a member of the city's detective staff and endeavored to display his usual ability along this line in arresting the driver of the wagon. He noticed the cinders on Douglas street near Fourteenth street. Which way the wagon was going puzzled the officer. He decided to follow the cinders west and soon came to the end of the trail, the starting point of the wagon. He then started in the opposite direction and after walking nearly a mile caught up with Burge.

Burge was fined $5 and costs by Acting Police Magistrate Bejt. He appealed the case to the district court.

Ryan and Pivonka Sued for Costs in the Oyster Cases

Collection of $1,500 costs from John J. Ryan and Joseph Pivonka, ousted South Omaha fire and police commissioners, is planned by the state department of justice. The costs were taxed to the former commissioners when the supreme court finally ordered them removed from office.

The attorney general's office, on behalf of the state, has filed in the district court a lien on all the property of Pivonka and Ryan to protect the costs. If they are not paid within a reasonable time execution will issue against whatever property the ousted commissioners may possess.

GRAY HAIR TURNS IT'S NATURAL COLOR AFTER APPLYING A LITTLE SAGE TEA.

Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Beautifully and Takes Off Dandruff.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own but it's usually too sticky so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly, says a well known down town druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.
