

REBELS OCCUPY NOGALES

Sonora State Troops Take City After All-Day Fight.

GARRISON CROSSES THE BORDER

Mexican Federals Surrender Arms to Colonel Wilder of Fifth Cavalry—One American Soldier Wounded.

NOGALES, Ariz., March 14.—Displaying perfect discipline, the victorious state troops today paraded the streets of Nogales, Sonora. The military authorities instituted good order, closing all saloons on the Mexican side and polling the outlying districts of the Mexican border town.

Leaders of the contending forces in yesterday's battle differ largely as to the killed and wounded. Colonel Kostelitsky of the federal garrison, a refugee here, estimates his losses as only three killed, six wounded and eight taken prisoners, while he asserts that the attackers lost at least 100 dead.

On the contrary, General Obregon declares today that his loss was only eleven killed and forty-two wounded, while the federal loss is given by Obregon as sixteen dead and thirty-one wounded.

The American Red Cross volunteers have treated forty-five wounded. Twenty-two of the most serious cases are in the hospital here. The nurses found only five dead, but many more are believed to be in the canyon, where a party of the attackers were trapped early in the day. A rescue party set out today to seek more wounded and locate the bodies of the dead on the field.

Private Umfleet Shot. Private Allen A. Umfleet, Troop G, Fifth Cavalry, United States army, was seriously wounded by a rebel bullet while doing police duty near the international line here. The shot passed through his face from nose to ear. No other Americans were injured.

The United States soldier was shot shortly after 5 o'clock when the attack was at its height. Lieutenant Colonel Tate, in charge of the Fifth Cavalry patrol, instantly sent word to General Obregon in command of the rebel forces. "You have shot one of my men. Cease firing or I shall be after you at once."

At the same time the firing from the regulars under General Kostelitsky and Reyes ceased. Under some preconcerted arrangement Colonel Tate called his bugler and ordered him to sound the Mexican "cease firing" order. The federal garrison instantly obeyed, but desultory firing continued to come from the besiegers.

Surrender to Americans. General Obregon succeeded in holding back the fire from his men so that Colonel Kostelitsky and Reyes, with their forces were able to cross to the United States where they surrendered to Colonel Wilbur E. Wilder, Fifth Cavalry, who arrived late to take command of the American troops. The Mexican federal soldiers stacked their arms before the American troops and disbanded.

More than thirty wounded from either side rest in hospitals here, while the dead dot the mesa land south of Nogales. The attackers suffered most heavily and of the 1,000 men who made the march against the garrison of 800 regulars, the number of dead has not been accurately estimated.

A rain of lead dropped over the American town, many citizens narrowly escaping injury. Stray balls fell into the streets, some penetrating houses, narrowly missing Americans in their homes.

The destruction in the Sonora town was great, although the majority of buildings were of adobe.

Wilder Meets Obregon. Colonel Wilbur E. Wilder of the Fifth United States Cavalry held a conference at the international line today with General Obregon, commander of the Sonora state troops, which yesterday captured Nogales, Sonora. The meeting was at the suggestion of Colonel Wilder and was to discuss provisions for keeping order and to reach an understanding regarding neutrality laws. Obregon proposed to keep order in the American portion of the town and expressed sorrow at the wounding of one American soldier and three Mexicans on the American side of the line.

United States customs inspectors seized forty-seven head of horses belonging to the federal troops. The horses were brought across the line by the federal refugees last night.

Bliss Expected at Nogales. WASHINGTON, March 14.—It was expected that Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss would arrive at Nogales, Ariz., today from Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Major Tate has reported to General Bliss that the bullets which poured into Nogales, Ariz., jeopardizing American lives, apparently came from the Mexican rebels and that he did not return the fire, as in doing so he would have been more likely to hit the federals than those whose carelessness had been responsible for the shots which entered American territory.

Reports from Juarez indicate conditions there and elsewhere along the border quiet. Railroad and telegraph service in Chihuahua is regular. General Bliss has been informed that the federals are manufacturing bombs in the railroad shops in Chihuahua.

GENERAL OJEDA BOTTLED UP

Sonora State Troops Close In on Him at Nogales.

DOUGLAR, Ariz., March 14.—A Mexican battle against an overwhelming force of rebels, unconditional surrender or flight over the line into Arizona—these are the alternatives presented today to General Ojeda. The federal commander who evacuated Agua Prieta two days ago with the avowed intention of marching to Nogales and reinforcing the garrison there, reached Naco during the night, only to learn that Nogales already had been captured by the constitutionalists.

Thus Ojeda, with 300 federal regulars, is bottled up at Naco, with strong bodies of rebels closing in on him from east, west and south. A force of 600 constitutionalists under Elias Calles left Agua Prieta before daybreak this morning to pursue the federal general, and later in the day Prefecto Escobar, with 200 men, departed on the same mission. All were freshly mounted and well armed and provisioned. South of Naco are more state troops under Dieques, while yesterday took Nogales, is closing in from the west.

"DOCTOR" OUTRAGES HOMES

guard, and to instruct children to submit to no physical examination unless the physician had a star from the board of health.

School Principals Warned. Superintendent E. U. Graff of the public schools immediately sent the following circular letter to all principals: "Dr. B. W. Connell, city health commissioner, states some impostor is visiting homes in the city and inspecting children, claiming that he represents the health department. This report comes to him from three different homes. Detectives are now at work on the case.

"No one should be allowed to enter homes of citizens as a health officer unless such person is able to show the badge of that department. "Should any person present himself and ask to inspect children for contagious disease, notify the police department at once and officers will be sent to arrest any such impostor.

"Kindly direct your pupils to carry the above message to their parents." The mother of the children believed to have been the first inspected by the man became suspicious when after a minute examination the "doctor" declared an 8-year-old boy, in perfect health, was suffering from smallpox.

He Has Smallpox Poison. "There's smallpox poison in his blood," said the "physician."

"How can that be?" exclaimed the horrified mother. "He's never been sick a day in his life. He hasn't been exposed to smallpox."

Continuing his examination the man admitted at the conclusion that he had been mistaken. He said the lad was sound, and then he asked a little girl to stand up for examination of her eyes, mouth and throat.

"The man represented himself to be a Dr. Fitzgerald," said Health Commissioner Connell. "I told the woman who called me over the telephone I did not know any Dr. Fitzgerald. "Everything told me by the parents I have verified, and have been making a vain endeavor to locate the man. He ought to be found, for the description of him is minute.

No Search All Hospitals. "Detectives will visit all city hospitals in the search for the impostor. Medical colleges will also be asked to aid in this search.

"I have never heard of anything like this. It is one of the worst outrages ever perpetrated. It's awful."

Dr. Connell believes the police will locate the man, but he decided that a warning to parents should be considered even before the capture of the impostor. "It's improbable to think any man would do such a thing and it is hard to explain from any standpoint," said the health commissioner. "He did not act like an insane man. I believe, however, that he has a mania for little girls and has resorted to this method to satiate his appetite. There are such men."

While the search goes on by school, police and health authorities and every energy is strained to locate "Dr. Fitzgerald" one hope of success is held out.

"I will return and complete the examination," the man has said. Dr. Connell believes "Fitzgerald" may, after the lapse of a short time, attempt to continue his violations of homes. About three years ago a Dr. Fitzgerald died in Omaha, but since then physicians say no medical practitioner by that name has been working in the city.

SUFFRAGISTS DISFIGURE MANY LONDON HOUSES

LONDON, March 14.—The latest exploit of the militant suffragettes in London is the obliteration of the names on the gate posts by which houses in the residential streets are distinguished. Armed with pots of tar and brushes they raided the Richmond district early today, disfiguring many houses. The window smashing campaign also was resumed this morning in the Jewellers' district in Bond street and in Holborn. Miss Olive Hocken, arrested yesterday for attempting to set fire to a pavilion on the Roehampton golf links, agreed to abstain from militancy pending her trial and was released on bail.

Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Liver Torpid?—Cascarets Sure

Turn the faucets out—the headache, biliousness, constipation, the sick sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets sweeten and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that intestine-making gas, take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you will feel great. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel bully and cheerful for months. Don't forget the children.

Your Easter Suit at the same price as later

When you buy your Easter suit at our store you will pay just the same price for it that we would ask after the Fourth of July or any time.

The price is always ten dollars. Ten dollars is the cheapest we can sell a guaranteed all-wool suit and guarantee absolute satisfaction both as to material and workmanship. The suits priced at $15 and $18 by other stores do not mean one cent more value, but simply the middleman's profit added, which does not add to the looks or wear of the garment.

Selling from our factory direct to you saves you the middleman's profit of $5 to $8.
