A Woman's Court

Chicago points with pride to its court for women, managed by a woman, as an institution admirably filling a long felt need. Strictly speaking, it is not a full-fledged court, but a division of the juvenile court directly in charge of cases of women and girls. Miss Mary Bartelme is the judge in charge. She has had sixteen years' experience in this class of work, and is well equipped by experience, tact and legal knowledge to facilitate correction and reform without publicity.
 Judge Bartelme does not hold court in the usual formal way. She brings to her desk mother or girl, or both, talks with them sympathetically, and by gaining their confidence secures the details of their troubles which men could not draw out. Absolute secrecy is observed. No letters or loaves or other witnesses are allowed in the room when a hearing is on. Names are not placed on the records, nor any publicity given. As a result of the privacy observed correction and reform goes on without the deadly blight of public records and neighborhood gossip. At present the judge is "official mother" to 400 children, with whom she keeps in close touch, personally or through guardianship, particularly as to their education, clothing and food.
 Only in cases of criminality involving grown-ups in the delinquency does the woman's court take testimony, which is reported to the juvenile court judge and by him submitted to the grand jury. In such cases punishment of the guilty is deemed the first requisite to wholesome moral reform.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND" TO BE GIVEN AFTER EASTER

"Alice in Wonderland" will be given shortly after Easter by local talent for the benefit of the Humane society. Preparations for the production have been going forward under the supervision of Miss Isabelle Lowden, and when the play is finally staged it will be an attraction for both the youngsters and the grown-ups.
 The promoters of the piece are looking forward to a hearty response from the public and the profits realized are going to go a good way towards effectively establishing the society with a new foothold.

ASKS DIVORCE FROM MAN WHO BATHES SEMI-ANNUALLY

Mrs. Fred E. Cook thinks a man should take a bath more frequently than twice a year and a petition filed by her asking a divorce from her husband gives as one of her reasons the alleged fact that Mr. Cook allowed intervals of five to six months to elapse between baths. She also charges that her spouse compelled her to get up and build the fires in the morning, even though she was ill.
 The couple was married at Harlan, Ia., in 1891. Since then their home has been on a farm in Cheyenne county, Nebraska. Mrs. Cook is now living in Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Cook have two daughters, one 19 years old and the other 15

ECHOES OF THE ANTE ROOM

Fontenelle Tribe Secures Option on Much Larger Hall.

TO BE OVER HIPPI THEATER

Several Lodges Plan to Have Exercises in Commemoration of St. Patrick's Day, Which Comes Monday.

Fontenelle tribe, through its trustees, has secured an option on the entire second floor of 138 Harnay street, known as the Hipp hall, which will be immediately refitted with new lodge furniture and such other remodeling done as is necessary when finished. This hall promises to be one of the most complete and attractive lodge halls in the city. The main hall is forty by seventy feet, with two ante rooms and a kitchen in connection. In addition to the lodge hall there are four large rooms which can be used for club rooms by members of the tribe, and when redecorated will present a pleasing and comfortable appearance. The club rooms will be used for dances, reading and rest rooms, but no buffet, the latter being forbidden by the laws of the order. If the lease is made it is planned to have the opening night some time in April, the occasion being the tribe's annual ball, followed by a week of indoor carnival. Many inquiries have already been received from other fraternal organizations who are desirous of meeting in the lodge hall.
 The tribe will meet at its old hall, Nineteenth and Farnam streets, as usual on next Monday night, and judging from the interest manifested in this new venture, the attendance will far exceed that of any previous meeting.

The new Scottish Rite cathedral, at Twentieth and Douglas, is progressing rapidly, and to the entire satisfaction of the building committee. One of the special features that is occupying the attention of the building committee at the present time is the system of lighting. Probably the auditorium and the banquet room, the latter with a seating capacity of about 1,000, will be lighted by indirect lights. It is hoped to occupy the building some time during the year.

Nebraska Store, All Remodeled, is Open to the Public

Crowds surged through the wonderfully remodeled store of the Nebraska Clothing company, Fifteenth and Farnam streets, yesterday, it being the grand opening under the new management of John A. Swanson and William L. Holman.
 When the doors of the institution were thrown open to the public a dazzling sight met the gaze of the curious spectator. The windows have been appropriately trimmed by expert hands and show forth the new spring styles in both men and women's apparel.

Every floor in the big building has been remodeled, giving practically 50,000 square feet of floor space. The fixtures have been arranged in such a manner as to give good store service and the aisles are broad and numerous. The fixtures are all substantial and made in the latest up-to-date manner.
 All day long floral offerings of all descriptions poured in on the new managers and by night the store was a veritable flower garden. They came from all parts of the country, from big wholesale houses in the east and personal friends of Messrs. Swanson and Holman.

On the first floor is found men's furnishings, the hat department, ladies' and gentlemen's shoes and the ladies' knit underwear department. The second floor is set aside for men's and boys' furnishings. Ladies' and misses' cloaks and suits and corset department are found on the third floor, while the fourth is used for mail order business and reserve stock room.

TEN ADDITIONAL FIRE ESCAPES ARE ORDERED

Twenty rooming houses and cheap hotels have been inspected by P. F. Ackerman, deputy state hotel commissioner, and City Fire Warden Ed Morris and ten of these have been ordered equipped with additional fire escapes.
 "We found the hotels as The Bee described them," said Morris. "Some of them were in great need of fire escapes. Others were fairly well provided with escapes."

come into their own, and small flowers will take the place of the large. Tiny French forget-me-nots, little roses and buds and blossoms of the smaller kinds will predominate in the trimmings of hats.

The colors will be principally purple, blue, black, cerise and natural. Another color is expected by milliners for summer styles. It will be the Forest green, which is akin to the well known Kelly green in hue. Beadwork, a copper color, also will be popular. It takes its name from a painter whose work is popular in Paris, being done in the one shade like the handling of a wash drawing.

But hats while taking much of the interest of women will not submerge her interest in the spring gowns, shoes, hand bags, parasols and other necessities and accessories of dress.
 Balkan, Bulgarian and Russian blouse effects both in waists, skirts and suits are mentioned in the edict of the fashion makers. The three piece suit for woman will also be a departure in spring styles. And another innovation in dress will be the garden coat which is styled something on the lines of man's cut away. All will be trimmed in broadened silks and chiffons, brocaded satins and ponge and gold.

The colors of gown will follow out the scheme of the millinery. The Madonna blue and nell rose will have a large place and some of the French shades will be the tete de negre, a muddy chocolate; the taupe, a gray; sapphire; coque de Roche, burnt orange; brass color, purple and others.

Most of the creations in hats and gowns are impossible of minute description and principally for this reason the openings at the stores will be largely attended this week; the shoppers will get a chance to see for themselves.

Artist's Models From New York Will Wear Brandeis Costumes

At the Spring Style Show This Week

Here are six of the professional posers who will lend added charm to imported gowns this week at Brandeis Stores. They are all models selected by Miss Burkholder, the New York artist.

They will be special attractions beginning Monday in the "Esplanade of Fashion."

A genuine innovation in the display of artistic apparel will be introduced this week by Miss Winnifred Mills Burkholder, an artist who conducts a notable studio in New York. From her extensive experience with trained artists' models, Miss Burkholder conceived the idea that women's apparel could be displayed with vastly greater artistic effect upon models who knew the art of posture, rather than upon lifeless figures. She put her theory into practice recently, assembled a score of the most talented artists' models in New York and contracted with one of the greatest stores in the east to display their apparel during opening week. The success of the undertaking was the talk of New York, and Miss Burkholder and her models were secured by Brandeis Stores to properly present the new costumes and gowns during this opening week.
 "It is easily seen that artists' models of experience are the only ones fitted to show the beauties of new costumes," said Miss Burkholder, "that is why the young ladies from the studios are so successful where the ordinary untrained models utterly fail. An artist's model is trained not only to walk gracefully, but is an adept in the art of posture. I can accept only a few engagements a year, but I insist that each one of my models shall be one of careful training and considerable experience."
 The "Esplanade of Fashion" at Brandeis Stores will be viewed in a stately pergola colonnade, which will give an exquisite setting to this annual style event.
