HARD LUCK AT THE START

Rourke's Find it Difficult to Begin Training.

CLUB HOUSE IN POOR SHAPE

Diamond Untouched and Club Forced to Travel Long Distances to Secure Conveniences Needed at Grounds.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okl., March 23.—(Special.)—All the hard luck coming to any team in one spring training season has been crowded into the first week of the Omahas and it looks as if the remaining eighteen days of their stay here will see them working under more favorable circumstances.

Work the first three days was handicapped by a regular desert sandstorm, which filled the eyes of the players, peeped their faces until raw and put the men in anything but an agreeable frame of mind.

It was not until Thursday that the water system was repaired, and even then the players did not get to use the showers for a freeze had preceded the norther and burst the pipes.

But trouble is past. The sun is shining with midsummer brilliancy, the norther is a breeze from the north, and the diamond is in good condition.

On account of the inclement weather Manager Arbogast has not driven his men hard the last week.

For the first two days he would not allow them to get out on the diamond at all, confining the practice to light hitting, light throwing and handling the medicine ball, with a little soccer thrown in for leg exercise.

Wednesday he sent them to the diamond, warning them against going too strong, and Thursday morning, before the norther hit camp, he allowed them to cut loose with about half speed.

But he has promised them they will have a strenuous time the coming week. It will be two workouts daily, including at least a five-inning game every afternoon, either between the regulars and Yannisgrons or with some of the city league teams.

All the men came through the first week in good condition. In spite of the unfavorable weather conditions, no arms are so lame as to interfere with work, although all have their annoying aches and pains.

Manager Arbogast's hand, which he cut on a trunk Thursday, is about healed. Congalton was the only man to miss a day's work on account of a sore arm, but he came back the next day with as much pepper as any of the boys.

Team in Fine Form. Pa Rourke is delighted not only with the work of his men on the field, but also their deportment.

Occasionally a special card is indulged in, but the stakes are held to a 10-cent limit, and there is no drinking whatever.

Not only are the players temperate by choice, but by compulsion as well. While the time was, and that since prohibition, when liquor was sold in Oklahoma City as freely as in wet territory, at the present time the Oklahoma capital is the sitting target of a special card.

RUNS MILE AND QUARTER ON TEACUP FULL OF FUEL

One of the best ways to get an idea of the tremendous power and economy of a perfect ball-bearing motor, coupled with an efficient system of carburetion, is to work out the fuel consumption into small figures that really mean something.

People talk in gallons, but actually think in pints and cups. Hence the Briggs-Detroit company, which manufactures the ball-bearing Detroit, in a series of tests has established the fact that this economical car can average two and a half miles on a pint of fuel—or over a mile to the cupful. The full force of these figures is felt when one stops to consider that a Detroit, though a very moderate-weight car, yet with five passengers tips the scales at more than a ton. A few drops of gasoline can start and move a load that two horses would strain at.

Cardinals Are Insured. Schuyler Britton, the new president of the St. Louis Cardinals, has taken out fire insurance policies on twenty of his club for a total of $100,000 or $5,000 on each. The premium for each player is $5 and the policy run during the seven months of active playing.

HAMILTON CAFE PROSPERS UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Nettie B. Wetherell came here, after serving four years caring for the cafe of the Detroit City club, and purchased the Hamilton cafe. Up to that time the place had not done any too well. The public thought the cafe was exclusively for the Hamilton building tenants. This idea Miss Wetherell has dispelled, and with a special Sunday evening supper where reservations for whole families may be made, an excellent day business men's lunch and a fine Sunday dinner, the business has grown most satisfactorily.

Despite the fact that the New York holding banks decreased their cash holdings $4,025,000 during the week, affecting the loss of gold exports, the intensions reported an excess above the $2 per cent minimum reserve on Saturday amounting to $13,565,000.
