

FUNERAL OF DUNCAN HELD

Mother, Sister and Aunt and Many Friends Attend Brief Services.

BODY PUT IN CEMETERY VAULT

Representatives of Business and Editorial Staffs of The Bee and of Rotary Club Among the Pallbearers.

The funeral of George J. Duncan, a member of The Bee's advertising staff, who was killed by the tornado, was held yesterday afternoon with brief services at Heafey & Heafey's chapel.

The widower mother may decide to return with her daughter to Chicago, their former home, in which event they would wish to remove the body for final interment there.

Beautiful floral tributes were supplied by the Rotary club and others. Mr. Duncan's home stood on the southwest corner of Forty-first and Farnam streets and he, with his mother and sister, had just been in the house ten minutes, having returned from an auto ride with A. V. Dresher and family, when the storm struck.

At the Theaters

ATTRACTIONS IN OMAHA. Boyd's "Seven Sisters." Empress Vaudeville. Gayety Extravaganza.

A good deal of the charm of "Peter Pan, in which Miss Adams is to be seen at the Brandeis theater on Monday and Tuesday, lies in the manner in which the work is acted and stage managed.

At the Boyd theater this week, Miss Lane and her associates are showing a merry phase of life in the charming comedy, "Seven Sisters."

Mail orders for the Sarah Berghardt engagement are being received. At the Orpheum this week and the box office sale will open next Monday.

Little Billy, the smallest entertainer in vaudeville, is one of the most interesting features of the bill at the Orpheum this week.

IDLEWILD POOL HALL VICTIMS TO BE BURIED

Baby Lee, Twenty-eighth and Castellar streets and Odessa Parks, 238 North Twenty-fourth, were buried from the Obee undertaking parlors Wednesday afternoon.

The body of Lee Nelson, one of those taken from the Idlewild pool hall ruins, was taken to his home in South Omaha Wednesday.

A consolidation Pythian funeral will be held from the Obee undertaking parlors at 3 o'clock today, when five or six of the pool hall victims will be buried in Mount Hope cemetery.

The bodies of Lynn Gardner and Charles South, will be sent away. The former to Macon, Mo., and the latter to Paimyra, Mo.

Gains New Complexion By Peeling Her Skin

(Julia Off in The Queen.) "Keep still, sad heart, and cease weeping, behind the clouds is the sun still shining."

Another treatment that brought more sunshine was one to remove wrinkles. A face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered axolite in 1/2 pt. witch hazel, soon chased away my lines.

The Make-Over Feather Shop

All kinds of feathers repaired, cleaned, dyed and carried. KATE O'NEILL and BERGHOFF. Miss Bertha Kruger. Phone 13, 2824. Room 424, FAIRBANK BLDG.

Turner Abandons Woman Twice as Dead; She Still Lives

Mrs. H. H. Putnam, 1146 Rurt street, is not dead, but rapidly recovering from her tornado injuries at Wise Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Putnam had an experience that befalls few women. Twice she was picked up by C. W. Turner, doing rescue work with his electric auto Sunday night, and twice set aside for dead, while he sped on first to the living.

The Bee was overjoyed at the call that came to it over the telephone this morning that Mrs. Putnam was living and recovering. She is at Wise hospital, has regained consciousness and reviewed her terrible experiences.

CARPENTERS RAPIDLY REPAIRING THE DAMAGE

On Spencer, Wirt, Blinney and Locust streets, between Sherman avenue and Twenty-fourth street, in the tornado zone, 500 carpenters are working on buildings that were damaged, or partially wrecked by the tornado.

An immense amount of work is being done on the streets and already much of the debris has been cleared away. Binney street, that Wednesday morning was almost impassable for pedestrians, is now open, the trees having been cut up into wood and the brush hauled away.

BARN IS DEMOLISHED, BUT HORSES STAY IN STALLS

One of the remarkable freaks of the storm is the experience of H. Spigle, whose large barn in the rear of 1916 North Twenty-fifth street, was lifted and carried away, leaving his horses unharmed in their stalls.

Two carriages and two horses were in the barn. The wind took the building, even the partition between the horses' stalls, the vehicles and everything but the horses, and whisked them off. Neither horse was injured in the slightest.

LOUIS METZ MUST WEAR SOME LOUD UNDERWEAR

Charity workers evidently do not like the shade of underwear worn by Louis R. Metz. When the first call for aid in the way of clothing went forth Mrs. Arthur Metz invaded the home of Louis R. and took three suits of splendid underwear, wool and silk.

BENEFIT BALL TO BE HELD AT DOUGLAS AUDITORIUM

A benefit ball will be given by the Douglas Auditorium association April 1, in the auditorium at Eighteenth and Douglas streets. The entire proceeds will go to the relief of the tornado sufferers.

THE SOCIETY OF THE BEE-HIVE

By MELLIFICIA. Thursday, March 27, 1913.

SOCIETY women are lending valuable assistance for the relief of the tornado sufferers.

All day yesterday, Mrs. Charles T. Kountze and Mrs. Warren Rogers worked at the relief station at Fortieth and Farnam streets, which is under the supervision of George H. Kelly, Mrs. John T. Stewart, Mrs. F. S. Cowgill, Mrs. Louis Nash, Miss Katherine Beeson and many others, assisted in the afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Luther Kountze and Miss Louise McPherson, both officers of the Visiting Nurse association, are spending all of their time with the relief work.

Sunday evening, following the storm, Mrs. Louis Nash had nearly fifty people in her home for the night. There were about thirty sisters from the Sacred Heart convent, two Hungarian families, besides several relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Nash, whose homes had been badly damaged by the storm.

The school teachers are lending aid valiantly and helping serve meals. Among those assisting at the city hall were Mrs. W. A. Redick, Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. T. L. Davis, Mrs. W. D. Hosford, Mrs. W. T. Burns, Mrs. Sam Burns, Mrs. Richard Grotte, Mrs. Day, Miss Lowden and many others.

Teachers of Long school and women of the Calvary Baptist church are in charge of the relief station located in that church. Coffee and food are being served to all who call.

These tables are in charge of Mrs. T. E. Beebe, Mrs. J. M. Lowe, Mrs. Arthur Lockwood, Mrs. H. J. Joseph, Mrs. C. J. Ziebarth, Mrs. W. H. Barlow and many assistants.

Where They Are. Mr. and Mrs. John Barker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith have taken a house at 2224 Harney street.

A. E. Goodson is recovering at his home, 429 Farnam, from injuries which he sustained during the tornado.

Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. John Friberg were pleasantly surprised at their home on West Dodge street last Sunday, in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Carlson. Mr. and Mrs. John Vedergren. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jarl. Mr. and Mrs. A. Palm. Mr. and Mrs. Axel Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. A. Want a Stenographer? An inefficient stenographer is an irritation of many offices. She makes mistakes in your correspondence; she cannot remember what you tell her; she does seem to be able to do anything without detailed instruction—there's no use of your continuing with such an employ in your office. Get a stenographer who will turn out clean copy in your letters, who knows what to do all the time, and who really takes the place of a man in your office. The Bee will get one of this kind for you. Use Bee classified ads and the results will bring you a stenographer upon whom you can depend. Bee Want Ad. Department TYLER 1000.
