New Orleans

The Paris of America

LIKE a page of romance from the dim past of French and Spanish days are the quaint scenes, in the French Quarter of New Orleans. The houses, wrinkled and warped with age, with their old balconies and galleries, queer little shops where old furniture, brasses, bronzes and books are sold, the gray stone-arched entrances to the old Spanish courtyards where palms and flowering shrubs abound—all are replete with human interest.

Besides the hundreds of historic spots to see, are the latter day acquisitions of the city; great modern stores, theaters, restaurants, hotels and public buildings.

New Orleans is rightly called "The City Care Forgot." The hospitable people, balmy climate, interesting scenes—all will help to make your stay seem too short.

The Leading Hotels Are:

- The St. Charles
- New Monteleone
- The Grunwald
- Cosmopolitan

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Frank Koutsky, Three-Time Mayor, Enters Race Again Today.

GILLIN GANG PUTTING UP FIGHT

Koutsky is a Safe and Sound Business Man and Seems to Be the Choice of the People.

Frank Koutsky, three times mayor and reputable business man, goes into the republican primaries today for the nomination for mayor. Koutsky has made no campaign for the nomination, although he is being vigorously fought by the democratic Hector-Gilligan gang and their republican affiliations. Koutsky entered the race at the urgent demand of the united republicans of the city. He has refused to solicit votes for his nomination, holding that if the people want him they will nominate him over any opposition. Koutsky is a safe and sound business man, the friend of both rich and poor and his election will mean a business man's administration without regard to gangs or gang rule.

City Attorney Henry C. Murphy, whose fight against the machinations of the Hector-Gilligan gang has drawn upon him the open fire of every gang man and professional officeholder in the city, is making a campaign that is telling on the masses. Murphy has refused to allow the funds of the city to be spent for the political benefit of the officeholders' association.

Democrats Have Four Candidates.

Among the democrats there are four candidates for mayor, including Jerry Howard, George Hoffman, Dr. T. H. Enzor and Mayor Hector. Howard, who did not open his campaign until a week ago because he was engaged in trying to get better wages and better conditions for the working men of South Omaha, is nevertheless a strong man as the polls open. He has won backing from the north end democrats, who will not travel with the Gillin gang democrats. Many of the stockmen residing in the city are openly Howard men simply because they admire Howard's unshakable honesty and his determined fight in the interests of the poor people of the city.

Dr. T. H. Enzor is making a tremendous bid for the mayoralty. Enzor said last night that his fight was against Howard chiefly. He admitted, however, that Hector held the power to whip the gang men into line. "And he is using the whip," said Enzor. "Every city automobile and the city employees paid by the people to do the business of the city are out fighting to keep Hector and that gang in power. But at that I'll beat him," said Enzor, "unless strong arm methods are used at the polls."

Hoffman Gaining Ground.

George Hoffman, whose strength was not reckoned at the beginning of the fight, was gaining ground yesterday and it was predicted that he would be in the race up to the last minute. Hoffman is strong in the south end of the town.

Hector-Gilligan Gang Slate.

If the reputable democrats of the city ever had any doubt as to the workings of the Hector-Gilligan gang the following printed slate sent out by the gang this morning will remove that doubt. So late as Monday night the gang denied the making of a slate. This morning bright and early the slate appeared. It is as follows: Tom Hector for mayor, John Gilligan for treasurer, John Fennell for clerk, Eugene O'Sullivan for city attorney, Elyan and Pivonka for fire and police board; for the city council, John E. Walters of the Union stock yards, John Richie, saloon keeper; Tom Alton, packing house boss; William Wetzel, beer driver for Jetter; John Badura, packing house clerk; Sam Shrigley, barber; Mark Carey, railroad man. The appearance of the slate reveals at the last minute the Hector-Gilligan-Pivonka combine, with the gang on one side and reputable democrats on the other. A careful survey of the slate also reveals, it is said, the corporation backing of the gang.

Citizens' League Warns Voters.

The following notice is being published by the Citizens' league a democratic organization interested in clean elections. It represents the attitude of the reputable democrats of the city. The following speaks for itself: The Citizens' league has reliable information that in each precinct there are a number of heeled employees by the gang, each supplied with a list of registered democratic voters who are out of the city at present, with a view of having colonizers from Omaha vote on those names. It is stated that fifty colonizers from Omaha are to vote in each precinct on the names of men who are not in the city at the present time. There will be a reward offered by the league for the arrest of illegal voters on Tuesday. Friends of good government, be on guard and assist to prevent a rape of the ballot box.

Negro Republicans Meet.

A large meeting of colored republicans was held last night at the old Eagle hall, Twenty-sixth and N streets. A number of republican candidates addressed the meeting and urged the advisability of getting out the vote. Frank Koutsky's name drew much applause, and it was said the former mayor would be the winner today.

Sheep Butchers Walk Out.

For a moment yesterday it appeared as if the long-threatened labor troubles had begun in South Omaha. About thirty sheep butchers employed at Morris & Co., walked out at noon. The walkout was the result of a difference between the butchers and the management of the plant over the amount of time given the men each week. It appears that the butchers in all the plants were assured of a minimum of forty hours a week some weeks ago. Last week the Morris sheep butchers are said to have made only twenty-two hours. The men asked General Manager H. S. Culver yesterday to live up to the forty-hour agreement. Culver is said to have asked time to consult Chicago on the matter. In the meantime the butchers walked out and refused to return to their work until the forty-hour agreement was restored.

Superintendent F. J. Shepherd of the Morris plant said last night that the company had been making every effort to give the forty-hour scale. He said the difference was due to a misunderstanding and that the men would all return to work today.

City Polling Places.

The following are the polling places of the city. Every voter is urged to go to the polls and vote as early as possible so as to avoid the rush in the evening: The polls will open at noon and close at 9 p. m. The respective voting places will be as follows:

- First Ward—First precinct, Twentieth street and Missouri avenue; Second precinct, 22 North Twenty-fourth street; Second Ward—First precinct, Twentieth and S streets (daily); Second precinct, 19 North Twenty-fourth street; Third Ward—First precinct, Twenty-first street and Railroad avenue; Second precinct, Twenty-eighth and W streets; Fourth Ward—First precinct, 216 North Twenty-fifth street; Second precinct, 156 South Thirtieth street; Fifth Ward—First precinct, 52 North Twenty-seventh street; Second precinct, Thirty-second street between J and K streets; Sixth Ward—First precinct, 124 North Twenty-fourth street; Second precinct, 62 North Twenty-fourth street; Seventh Ward—First precinct, 298 Q street; Second precinct, Thirty-sixth and W streets.

Briggs Nails Two.

Quick work on the part of Chief of Police John Briggs and Detective Andrew McGuire, landed Tom Sexton of Twenty-fifth and G streets and Scott Tuttle of Fremont, in South Omaha police station on charges of having entered and robbed the hardware store of Peterson & Michelson, 248 N street, Sunday night. The place was entered through the alley windows and revolvers valued at $40 were taken. Both Sexton and Tuttle are said to have served time in the state reform school. Tuttle was arrested this morning by Chief of Police Briggs at Twenty-fourth and L streets. He denied any knowledge of the robbery at first, but later is said to have confessed his share in the deed and implicated Tom Sexton, who was arrested by Detective Andrew McGuire.

Magic City Ghost.

There was no council sheeting last night owing to the activity of the administration in primary election preparations. The Degree of Honor Kensington will meet at the home of Mrs. Burns, 122 North Twenty-second street this afternoon. Mrs. Frank Bear, 128 South Eighteenth street, will entertain the Kensington of South Omaha grove No. 29, Woodmen Circle, Wednesday afternoon. The young people of the First Christian church will give a social this evening at the home of the Misses Wilson, Twenty-eighth and D streets.
