If the weather man only will be content with what he has done in the way of bad weather and will consent to serve up two weeks of sunshine without wind dressing, the Omahas will have no cause to regret their coming to Oklahoma City for spring training.

Tuesday Denver will be here for one game. The Hendrix aggregation has been even less favored than the Rourkes in the matter of weather, for they were unable to take the field for almost a week after hitting camp at Excelsion Springs and for a time considered pulling up stakes and hiking home. Wednesday originally was an open date, but last week Topeka was booked. Then Thursday and Friday come the first division of the Chicago White Sox, with Sieux City to wind up the week Saturday and
