RANGERS TRIM THE KAWS

Topoka Visits Oklah-ma City to Be Downed in Ten Innings.

SHESTAK IS STAR OF GAME

Falls City Recruit Does Wonders in Hitting and Fielding, Brightening Heart of Rourke, Who Watches the Contest.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okl., April 3.—(Special Telegram.)—To George Shestak, the young catcher whom Pa Rourke recruited from the Falls City club and whom he hopes to send to the big show within the next year or two, belongs individual honors of a 2 to 1, ten-inning victory of the Omahas over Topoka here yesterday. He closed for two singles and a double in four trips to the plate and the fourth time Forsythe backed up against the left field fence to get under a drive which, but for a contrary wind would have topped the wall by yards; he caught a perfect game, made two beautiful plays to second and climbed into the grandstand in the first inning to catch Dullin's high foul and he crossed the plate with the winning run in the tenth frame.

Others in Spotlight.

Nor was Shestak the only recruit to get away with a large bouquet of personal glory; in fact, it might be termed a Yannigan game, for Grubb on third, Neff on second and Bright in left pulled off stunts in the field that were spectacular.

Every one of Grubb's three assists were made on slow rolling grounders which he scooped up with one hand while running at full tilt and threw to first with the speed and accuracy of a rifle bullet. Neff went into the air in the third inning to pull down with his gloved hand Dullin's drive which looked so much like a certain safety that Hornsby had turned third before he realized the ball had been intercepted and that he had been doubled at second. Bright's field sensation was a remarkable stop of McLarry's hit to left in the ninth inning.

Thomason is Regarded.

In the tenth, though, was registered the prettiest outfield play made on the local diamond this season when Thomason running with outstretched hands captured French's drive that seemed ticketed for two and maybe three sacks. While all this was going on in the outfield, Kingdon was earning himself a home in the box. With the score a tie, he relieved Fugate in the sixth.

He sent down his opponents in the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds in succession and it was not until after two were down in the ninth that he became a little unwary.

McLarry was the only Topoka man to get to first on him, however, and he tied there for Grubb retired the side an instant later by a great play of Rapp's grounder.

Omaha was the first to get a marker. Hornsby, the veteran Houston, Tex., leaguer, had retired Justice and Bright on infield plays when Thomason worked him for a free ticket. Congalton then drove the ball to left of center for two sacks, Thomason scoring in a walk.

STATE LEAGUER WHO MAY LAND WITH ROURKES.

A. M. KINGDON.

One of the young pitchers who showed good form during the two innings he was opposed to the Lincoln slugger last Saturday was Archie Kingdon, recruited from the Fremont club of the Nebraska State league. This is his third year in professional base ball, although he is just 22 years of age. He is of good size, measuring 5 feet, 10 inches, and weighing 165 pounds when right. He started with Fremont in 1911, then was out of the game for a while, coming back in 1912 and making good with twenty-one victories and eleven defeats. The first year he worked only six full games. In two of these he shut out his opponents, lost one, and battled a 6 to 0 tie with Cleoman in the other. Now he is opposed to Cleoman again, this time for a position with the Omahas.

CREIGHTON BASE BALL TEAM WINS FIRST GAME

The Creighton varsity base ball team had its first scrimmage of the year Wednesday afternoon, when the collegians met a pickup team composed of some of the fast local amateurs and professionals. In the lineup which opposed Creighton was Joe Bills of Omaha, Durham, Buster Brown of Columbus and several others.

The collegians won by a score of 10 to 5, principally because of the good pitching of Gaffney and Madden, who could not be touched when hits meant runs. Brown of the pickups poled a home run with none on, and almost broke up the game with a drive in the sixth. With three on bases he hit a line drive for the goal posts in left field, but McGuire pulled it down with a wonderful one-handed stab.

Morcy Miller worked against Creighton, while Pass, a youngster from Sacred Heart college, Denver, caught a good game for Creighton.

MRS. PANKHURST IS GIVEN THREE YEARS AT PENAL SERVITUDE will keep it up as long as I have an ounce of strength.

"I deliberately broke the law, not hysterically, and not emotionally, but for a set and serious purpose. I honestly believe this is the only way.

"This movement will go on whether I live or die. These women will go on until women have obtained the common rights of citizenship throughout the civilized world."

Justice Lush said: "I must pass a severe sentence on you. If you would only realize the wrong you are doing and use your influence in the right direction, I should be the first to use my best endeavors to secure a mitigation of your sentence. I cannot and I will not regard your crime as trivial. It is a most serious one."

An appeal for Miss Emerson. A letter from Mrs. Emerson of Detroit, Mich., was handed by Joseph Wadsworth, a Liberal, to Reginald McKenna today. It demanded permission for Mrs. Emerson's own physician to examine her daughter, Miss Zelle Emerson, the militant suffragette who is said to be suffering from the forcible feeding employed by the officials since she started her "hunger strike" in Holloway jail.

The United States embassy, according to Mrs. Emerson, has promised, in the event of failure of Secretary McKenna to comply with her request, to place the matter before the British foreign office.

A letter from a prisoner confined in the next cell to Miss Emerson states that the release of the American woman within a few days is necessary in order to save her reason and perhaps her life. This letter also asserts that Miss Emerson, by giving her neighbor a portion of her food, started her "hunger strike" fourteen days before the prison doctors discovered the ruse.

Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who later arrived here on board the admiralty yacht.

The women painted their greenlines in big letters on Smeaton lighthouses and at other points of vantage on the Hoop facing the sea. One of them ran: "To Winston Spencer Churchill: No security until you give women the vote, no matter how big the navy."

Another said: "To save the state from shipwreck, give women the vote at the court."

Immediately after the sentence of three years fell from the judge's lips, the women in the court room broke out in a chorus of "shame" and "outrage."

With Mrs. Pankhurst's defiance of the judge, "I'll fight, fight, fight," still ringing in their ears, the suffragettes went wild.

Women Hoot Judge. Standing on the seats they shrieked and shouted anathemas at the court. For three minutes they held full sway in the court room. The police were powerless.

The judge's warning that he would commit the entire party of women to prison for contempt fell upon deaf ears. The women mocked the judge and laughed at his threats and they finally left the court singing the suffragette "battle song." Such a scene never before was witnessed at the Old Bailey.

Outside the court room the militant women defied the police. "Arrest us, take us to jail, what do we care?" they shouted.

The street crowd greeted the suffragettes with a mingled chorus of groans, hisses and boos.

There is no possibility of Mrs. Pankhurst serving her sentence of three years. The suffragette leader will undoubtedly be released under home Secretary McKenna's new bill permitting "ticket of leave," which the suffragettes have christened "the cat and mouse bill."

If one single advertisement in a newspaper paid, printing presses couldn't be made big enough to turn out the papers

One advertisement in itself is only a step up the stairway of success. Advertising does it work by repeating what you want known until everybody knows it, whether they want to or not. Upward progress in business can only be made by a continued climb.

That's why a list like that reached by The Bee is so very valuable. Our subscribers read The Bee every day, year after year. Our advertisements can keep on talking to the same homes and make friends of people they never saw.

You can't do that with any kind of advertising except newspaper advertising. Furthermore, a paper that is delivered to the homes is the one that gives you a chance to talk each day to the same people and at last you have them as customers.

The Omaha Bee

goes every day to practically every one of your possible customers.

People like to buy from firms they know. They have confidence in firms that make themselves known. They become familiar with stocks and store policies of stores into which they have never stepped.

The day comes when they want your goods and you have a customer. It was the continued advertising of months, or perhaps years that brought them in.

It's continuous advertising that pays
