

The Society Bee-Hive

By MELLIFICIA. Friday, April 4, 1913.

SOME of the militiamen in the West Farnam neighborhood are enjoying "club" life while off duty. The garages of Charles T. Kountze, Luther L. Kountze, J. F. Carpenter, on North Thirty-eighth street; the basement of the W. A. Smith residence, and also the Columbian school, have been turned into temporary club houses. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kountze have kept a supply of oranges and apples at the garage and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Kountze have fitted up their garage with chairs and tables. Both have also been serving coffee and doughnuts.

Nearly all of the Omahans who are residing in the storm districts which are being guarded by the militiamen have been unusually hospitable. "Come in and have a cup of coffee whenever you get cold," one man told a militiaman who was on duty near his house. Shortly after that the door bell rang and the militiaman came in. "Well, I took you at your word," said the man in the khaki uniform.

One hospitable man entertained two of the guards at dinner Sunday at his home, and doubtless many others did the same.

Incidentally, the attractive lawns of the two Kountze homes—with pergolas, swings and gymnasium outfits in the garages—have added much toward home comforts for the lads who have been guarding the property of the neighborhood.

The men stationed at Columbian school were not so fortunate, there being but few houses in the neighborhood, and heat was the only luxury.

Miss Margaret Sigel of New York was bridesmaid, and wore pink crepe over white. She carried a basket of white sweet peas.

Little Miss Lucile Newman of Chicago carried the ring in a lily.

Meat Prices Rise; Home Grown Onions on Omaha Market

Meats are still going up. In the last two months the price of mutton has doubled. Selling only a month ago at 7 1/2 cents a pound it is today 15 1/2 cents. Beef is high, although it has not advanced during the last week. Bacon and pork are 1/2 cent higher than a week ago. Butter also is listed among the commodities advancing. A 1-cent advance was recorded on the wholesale cost this week. It sells now at 37 cents a pound retail. Eggs remain at 18 cents a dozen. As for things declining in price, strawberries, which were a luxury at 50 cents a box a few weeks ago are now down to 10 cents. Pineapples have kept a level cost during the last month, but are now meeting with a demand which is raising the price. The best may be had at 15 cents. Grape fruits are taking the place of oranges and are retelling at the nominal figure of 5 and 7 1/2 cents apiece. Oranges are around 40 cents a dozen, the best selling for that and the cheaper grades as low as 35 cents. Lemons are 20 and 25 cents a dozen and becoming scarcer. Fruits and vegetables from Louisiana and southern states have experienced a rise in price lately and according to Al King, manager of the grocery department at Hayden Brothers heavy rains are deterring shipments.

Home-grown onions are now on the Omaha market. They look good and are priced three bunches for a nickel.

To Wed in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Heyman Glickman of Seattle, Wash., announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Hedwig, to Mr. Daniel Paine of Omaha. The wedding will take place in Seattle, Wash., Sunday, April 4, in the Temple Israel, and the ceremony will be performed by Rabbi Dornier.

Miss Elise Haubens, niece of Mr. Henry Haubens, and Mr. Hans A. Hulka were married Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the study of Rev. O. D. Baltzley of the Kountze Memorial church.

The bride wore a pretty gown of Copenhagen blue crepe trimmed with shadow lace and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulka have taken a house at Sixteenth and Bancroft, where they will be until they can locate another place. Their future home at Thirty-fourth and Cuming streets was wrecked by the tornado.

W. W. Club Celebrates.

The W. W. club celebrated its third anniversary Wednesday with Mrs. Charles Greenle, the organizer of the club, as hostess. A beautiful gift was presented to her by the fourteen original members present. A remembrance was also given to Mrs. W. R. Hampton for never having missed a meeting. The annual election of officers took place. The place cards were forget-me-nots, and the centerpiece was a birthday cake with three blue candles, representing the club's years. The next meeting will be April 16 with Mrs. W. S. Hampton.

Et-A-Virp Club Dance.

The next Et-A-Virp party will be given at Chambers', Thursday, April 10. The party for April 4 was cancelled.

Accident Policy Saves Family from Being Penniless

On the Wednesday preceding Easter Sunday C. F. Copley, traveling salesman for a silk supply company of Omaha, paid $2 for a three months' accident policy in the Iowa State Traveling Men's association of Des Moines, Sunday night Mr. Copley was killed in a pool hall near Twenty-fourth and Lake streets by the tornado. The $5000 due on that policy is all that Mr. Copley left his wife and children.

The persistency of a brother in urging Mr. Copley to take out the policy induced him to pay the $2. The plea was not successful until Mr. Copley read of a wreck in the seat in a newspaper. He and his brother were making a trip through Iowa when he applied for the policy.

Proof of the death of Mr. Copley was secured in the office of the clerk of the county court.

His home was at 320 North Twenty-fourth street. The pool hall where Mr. Copley met death was in the north side of the building where seven members of the Krinsky family met death in their bakery.

BOY SCOUTS WILL HELP CLEAN UP ON SATURDAY

The boy scouts of both Omaha and South Omaha will lend their aid Saturday to cleaning up the debris of the tornado district. The Omaha company of about 100 members will meet at the United Brethren church, Nineteenth and Lehigh streets, together with the South Omaha troop, which will send fifteen scouts. The former company will be under the command of Rev. M. O. McLaughlin and the latter under J. B. Arnett.

Rubel Asks Mayor of Minneapolis to Give Aid to Omaha

Frank D. Rubel, president of the Minneapolis Retailers' association, who was in Omaha last week, has addressed the following letter to Mayor W. O. Nye of Minneapolis. The letter which follows explains itself:

Having just returned from Omaha, where I have spent a week, arriving there Monday immediately after the cyclone, I desire to state that while the patriotic spirit of its citizens prompted Omaha to refuse outside aid, yet I believe that the situation there is very much more serious than the citizens of Omaha at first realized, and suggest that part of the fund which we are now raising for the Ohio flood sufferers be sent to aid Omaha. They are certainly doing magnificent work in the way of relief. They are thoroughly organized, but truly believe that the task that they have undertaken requires a much greater fund than was at first realized.

Although we have already subscribed to the fund now being raised, enclosed please find an additional check which we enclose with the firm belief that if Minneapolis realizes the seriousness of the situation that they will gladly send a large part of the fund to Omaha where it is sadly needed.
