

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Though Trading is Active, Sales Show Heaviness at Close.

MANY NEW SECURITIES ISSUES

Expected Offerings Came with First Improvement in the Investment Demands.

NEW YORK, April 9.—After a showing of strength in early trading, the stock market turned heavy today, some of the leading issues being more than 2 points from the best price of the morning. Trading was active at times and movements were irregular. The improvement of the morning was based on the more cheerful feeling abroad, cable advices reporting betterment of both political and financial affairs. London bought about 15,000 shares here, specializing in Erie. Bull traders operated confidently for a time, buying large blocks of favorite issues and forcing further short covering. The turn in the market came with the announcement of a new security issue, chief among which were St. Paul's sale of $50,000,000 4 1/2 per cent general mortgage bonds and Pennsylvania offering to stockholders of $40,000,000 stock at par. It has been generally understood for some time that these companies, as well as many other large corporations, were only awaiting an improvement in the investment demand to float new security issues. There has been some improvement in bond buying recently. The effect of Pennsylvania's offer was to depress the market for the time being, the lowest figure since 1908. St. Paul's movements were narrow. The point of interest in connection with St. Paul bond issue was that the company had it necessary to pay 4 1/2 per cent, previous issues under the general mortgage having been made at 3 1/2 and 4 per cent. St. Paul's general 4 1/2 have declined 2 points in as many days. Bankers predicted that the effect of the high rate of interest on the sale of bonds would be felt by other issues of similar character. Announcement that the attorney general was opposed to the Harman district plan, which is to be presented to the federal courts, contributed to the heaviness of the market. The market was especially in the railroad stocks. Steel and the copper shares also were sold heavily. Bonds were under slight pressure. Total sales, par value, $3,800,000. United States bonds were unchanged on mail.

Number of sales and leading quotations in stocks were as follows:

Inquisitive Stock Man Finds Rooster Alive in Gallon Jug

Peter Richling of Creighton, Neb., spent three days in Omaha just after the tornado had done its work, putting in a great deal of his time looking over the ruins. He was in search of some of the great phenomena which he had heard of and frequently revealed. He found a prize, according to his friends who heard the story from Richling's own lips. Richling is not a scientist. He is a grower and feeder of live stock. Yet he searched the ruins for curiosities with a critical and discerning eye.

After the first day he came to the home of P. A. Wetman, 1302 South Thirty-third street, where he was visiting and reported that he had not yet found anything extraordinary. He was out for big game, such as trees, cloven sunder by the force of a flying piece of tin, or a large trunk of a tree driven through a little bathroom window 12x14 inches. He had heard the story told by Wilmer R. Blackett, who lives at Forty-ninth and Center streets, as to the tornado driving all of the water out of the well, but that was not enough, he wanted to see some of these things with his own eyes. So he kept on and covered the territory from the southwest corner of the city to where the tornado leaped into Cut-Off lake and was there about to give up in despair when he espied a gallon jug in upright position near the edge of the water. He looked and thought he detected a slight motion at the top. Approaching it he made a closer inspection and found the supposed cork was not a cork, but was something else.

"There was a live rooster in that jug," said Richling in relating the find, "and he had his head sticking out of the hole." Mr. Richling stopped his search for phenomena at once. He did not show his find to his friends, but said he expressed the juggled rooster to Creighton.

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—COTTON—Market strong; middling, 12 1/2c; sales, 275 bales; receipts, 5,738 bales; shipments, 5,301 bales; stock, 36,900 bales.

Tornado Victims Are Robbed of All Money They Have

Probably as mean a piece of thievery as has been perpetrated in Omaha for some time took place Tuesday night at the temporary home of Abraham Israel, 208 Clark street. The Israel home was destroyed in the tornado and since then the family has been living at the above address.

Yesterday morning, some time after 1:30 when the family was assembled upstairs in the sick room of the father, who had just taken a sleeping potion, the front door was silently forced open and a check from the Modern Woodmen of America for $10, 300 in cash and two gold rings were taken.

The check for $10 had been given them for relief, they being practically destitute since the storm, the 430 represented the savings of the two youngsters, Lewis and Mordcau, from the sales of newspapers, and the two rings were heapeakes given Florence Israel by her mother just before she died two weeks before the tornado.

The thieves even went so far as to steal a little penny bank with 30 cents in it.

Mississippi Will Rise Higher Than It Did Last Year

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—Weather bureau officials here tonight estimated that the high water mark at Memphis of the present Mississippi river flood would be approximately one foot higher than the record stage of last year, 43.3 feet. The crest is passing New Madrid, Mo., and should reach Memphis within two or three days.

All of the main levees along the central reaches of the river, with the exception of the embankment at Graves Bayou, Ark., which went out this morning, are intact, but the situation is growing more acute.

BUNDY, TENNIS CHAMP, IS OUT OF THE GAME

ST. FRANCISCO, Cal., April 9.—Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles, joint holder with Maurice E. McLoughlin of the national tennis doubles championship, will not participate in the preliminary Davis cup matches in New York June 5 and 6. Business interests prevent his making the eastern trip at that time.

McLoughlin, national champion in singles, will leave for New York several weeks prior to the matches, in order to obtain necessary practice on the turf courts. What little playing the champion has done during the winter has been on asphalt.

Two members of the Australian Davis cup team are scheduled to arrive at San Francisco April 25. Arrangements are being made for several exhibition matches, in which they will compete against McLoughlin and other Californians.

Jones and Rice are the Australians who are making the voyage across the Pacific. They will be joined in New York by Harold, the third member of the team, who is now in England.

SUSPECT PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE OF VAGRANCY

Fred Metzger of Chicago, who was arrested Sunday morning at the Plaza hotel as a suspicious character and who has since been held pending the investigation of juvenile authorities as a suspect for aiding and abetting the delinquency of a 17-year-old girl, has pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy and was given a sixty-day sentence.
