

FINAL DRAFT OF BILL MADE

California Legislature is React to Pass Measure.

NO COMPLAINT IS REGISTERED

State Department Has Received no Formal Protest from Any Head of Foreign Government.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 13.—The final draft of the proposed anti-land law that is to take the place of all bills that have been introduced relating to the same subject, was adopted by the senate late Saturday on second reading and will come for final passage in the upper house of the legislature next Monday.

Senator Newton W. Thompson of Los Angeles, acting on behalf of the judiciary committee, prepared the measure in its present form. The principal provisions are as follows:

Section 1. No alien shall acquire title to or own or hold real property within this state or any interest therein or take or acquire or hold same by devise, bequest, purchase or otherwise, except as otherwise in this act provided.

Section 2 (A). Any alien may hereafter acquire title to or otherwise, excepting by devise or descent, any right, title or interest in or to any real property within this state and may hold the same for the period of one year, after the date of so acquiring such title, right or interest, but no longer.

Section 3. Any alien who acquires title to or holds real property within this state and who is not a citizen of the United States at the time of so acquiring such title, right or interest, shall be subject to the provisions of this act as if he were an alien.

Section 4. Any alien who acquires title to or holds real property within this state and who is not a citizen of the United States at the time of so acquiring such title, right or interest, shall be subject to the provisions of this act as if he were an alien.

Section 5. Any alien who acquires title to or holds real property within this state and who is not a citizen of the United States at the time of so acquiring such title, right or interest, shall be subject to the provisions of this act as if he were an alien.

Section 6. Any alien who acquires title to or holds real property within this state and who is not a citizen of the United States at the time of so acquiring such title, right or interest, shall be subject to the provisions of this act as if he were an alien.

Section 7. Any alien who acquires title to or holds real property within this state and who is not a citizen of the United States at the time of so acquiring such title, right or interest, shall be subject to the provisions of this act as if he were an alien.

Section 8. Any alien who acquires title to or holds real property within this state and who is not a citizen of the United States at the time of so acquiring such title, right or interest, shall be subject to the provisions of this act as if he were an alien.

Section 9. Any alien who acquires title to or holds real property within this state and who is not a citizen of the United States at the time of so acquiring such title, right or interest, shall be subject to the provisions of this act as if he were an alien.

FREE SUGAR IN THREE YEARS

Democratic Caucus Determines Upon Compromise. House Leaders Spend Major Portion of Day in Coming to Understanding on Proposal.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Immediate free sugar was rejected Saturday by the house democratic caucus by an overwhelming vote, following an appeal of the democratic leaders to vote by the president and the ways and means committee.

This leaves the sugar schedule unchanged from the compromise form in which it was presented to the caucus by Chairman Underwood and his colleagues of the committee, following conference between the White House and leaders of both houses of congress. The democratic members of the committee, including such free traders as Representative Harrison of New York, and Rainey of Illinois, stood as a unit for the three-year gradual reduction to a free sugar basis.

Besides this action the caucus left open the exact date when sugar would go on the free list in 1916. An amendment proposed by Representative Hardwick of Georgia, proposed that the time it should take effect should be May 1, 1916, so as to be effective before the beginning of the canning season. The caucus agreed to leave the matter to be brought up by the ways and means committee, after all the rest of the tariff bill has been disposed of in caucus.

End of Argument. The overthrow of the immediate free sugar movement came at the close of a day of arguments and the amendment proposing that sugar should become free with the operation of the new tariff law was made by Representative Hardwick. It precipitated the real fight of the day and was lost by a vote of 165 to 28.

"We will concede," House Leader Underwood said, agreeing with some of the opponents of the bill, "that immediate free sugar would put the domestic planter out of business. But we assert also that free sugar in three years will do us no legitimate injury."

"Those who have invested their money in sugar lands and have planted crops will have a chance under the plan of revision to pay their bills and adjust themselves to new conditions."

Mr. Underwood argued against the immediate free sugar amendment as well as the amendment to extend the free sugar time from three to four years. His speech was received with loud applause and cries of "Vote! Vote!"

Representative Rainey of Illinois appealed to the caucus to stand by the democratic administration.

Representative Dupre of Louisiana, replying to Mr. Underwood, challenged the statement made by the majority leader that free sugar ultimately would save the consumer $15,000,000 annually. Mr. Dupre declared that if the entire saving that would follow free sugar fell upon the consumer the per capita saving per day would be only one-third of a cent.

If there had been any doubt about the result of the fight during the day it had disappeared after Mr. Underwood concluded his presentation of the situation and the members were getting anxious to vote before Mr. Dupre concluded. When the Hardwick amendment was finally brought up the result was overwhelming.

The caucus quickly disposed of the tobacco schedule without any change and will take up the agricultural schedule on Monday when consideration of the bill will be resumed. Several fights lie ahead in this schedule, citrus fruits and flour being at issue among the democratic members.

The senate finance committee demoted the two-hour meeting and continued their discussion of copyrights and glass schedules. They did not finish, but will take up the same schedules at a meeting on Monday.

LEADERS LACKING AMONG LAWMAKERS; LET PLEDGES FAIL

WILSON'S POSITION STRONG

First Week of Tariff Session of Congress is Past. LONG STRUGGLE ONLY STARTED

Senate Leaders Have Pledged Their Support to Administration's Plans Minority Leaders Active.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—President Wilson emerged from the first week of the special tariff session of congress, apparently in a stronger position as the active leader of democracy than at any time since he assumed the presidency.

Within the brief space of seven days he had won a victory in the caucus of the house democrats for his free sugar program; had formed a working agreement with the democratic leaders of the senate, which it is believed, will insure general support of his tariff program in that body; and had established precedents of presidential co-operation with congress, which if successful, are expected greatly to influence the entire program of legislation throughout the Wilson administration.

At all points where Mr. Wilson's decision was instrumental in the fixing of rates in the new tariff bill, the full democratic membership of the house voted to sustain him in caucus by heavy majorities. House leaders, who deferred to him in fixing of many of the tariff rates, have supported his decisions and successfully rallied party support to his defense as the bill has been fought over by the democratic members.

The tariff revision fight admittedly is only begun; but the developments of the last week have convinced party leaders that there are likely to be few changes from the rates favored by the president; and little dissension within democratic ranks over the final approval of the bill.

The wool fight will come in the house caucus early this week. While a democratic minority organization of forty or more representatives will attempt to undo the president's free wool program, it is expected that the administration will be sustained by a large majority.

Senate leaders have pledged to the president their support of the sugar and wool provisions as finally accepted in the house. Senator Myers of Montana, who has been counted on by some of the anti-free wool forces as their ally, has informed members of the finance committee and has stated publicly that he favors the free wool program and will uphold the president's course as to this schedule.

The full democratic membership of the house will resume consideration of the tariff behind closed doors tomorrow.

Republican members of the house ways and means committee who had no part in preparing the Underwood bill, are now working on substitute cotton and wool schedules.

Alaskan railroad legislation, which also is to be the subject of senate hearings, will be pressed for early action. Senator Pittman, chairman of the territories committee, will attempt to have an Alaskan government-railroad bill passed through the senate before tariff revision is taken up.

Creighton Block is Damaged by Flames; Origin is Mystery

Fire of unknown origin Sunday morning did $300 damage to the Creighton block. Fifteenth and Douglas streets. The flames were confined to the rooms occupied by the Wells-Fargo Express company, though the entire block was filled with dense smoke. The Rapid Shoe repair shop and the offices of Dr. George Wilkinson were damaged to a slight extent.

Firemen and detectives who were in the vicinity at the time the alarm was turned in rushed to the scene and worked desperately in awakening people who were asleep in the block. The upper story is occupied by about thirty people as rooming quarters. All were able to leave the building in safety.

PRISON PLANT DESTROYED

Twine Factory at Kansas Penitentiary Burns. FLAMES FED BY THE INMATES

Four Buildings in All Are Destroyed, Though None of Prisoners Mutily or Make Their Escape.

LANSING, Kan., April 13.—Fire that destroyed four large buildings and caused a loss estimated at $500,000 in the Kansas state penitentiary here this afternoon, was spread by convicts who scattered burning papers in the buildings not in the path of the flames, according to a statement by Fire Chief Michael Bahler of Leavenworth.

Parole Officer John Higgins and Prison Physician A. T. Axford confirmed the opinion of Chief Bahler. Warden J. K. Coddington said he believed it improbable that convicts had fed the flames.

Prison officials made every preparation for a mutiny and the towns of Lansing and Leavenworth were in great fear of an outbreak, but the convicts as a whole preserved the best of order, hundreds of them giving valuable assistance in fighting the flames.

Their efforts largely were responsible for saving the building occupied by the women prisoners and the criminally insane. Believing this building doomed, the women were taken out and the insane convicts transferred to the cell house. The building was only slightly damaged.

The scene of greatest excitement was in the insane ward. The fifty insane convicts, driven to a frenzy by the sizzle of the flames and heat from the fire, screamed and with clenched hands beat upon the iron bars of their rooms. Warden Coddington moved them to another part of the prison. This was accomplished with the greatest difficulty, many of the prisoners having to be dragged out. A number of them fought their rescuers.

Six prisoners and one guard were burned slightly during the fire. Guard J. M. Brook was burned on the head and hands in trying to put out flames in the tailor shop.

CONDITION OF POPE ALARMING; THOUGHT DEATH IS AT HAND

HUNDREDS AVOID SURGEON'S KNIFE

Use of New Treatment Shows That Many Troubles Are Caused by Impurities of Blood and Nerves.

DISEASE CAUSED BY FEAR

Electro Oxygen Will Detect Whatever Organ is Weakest at the Time That the Ailment Begins to Show Itself.

The first symptom of nervous and blood debility will show in that portion of the body which is weakest whether it be the stomach, heart, kidneys, liver and lungs," says the president of the Electro-Oxygen Co., the famous nerve specialist who has opened an institution for the treatment of chronic diseases by the latest methods which have recently been procured from European inventors.

The method is the injection of Oxygen intravenously directly into the blood stream and the driving of oxygen directly through the skin. By exhaustive experiments this method has proved the most effective in overcoming obstinate cases of long standing. Because one has been in the habit does not necessarily follow that their kidneys are diseased. Perhaps the trouble is temporary, caused from constipation, strain or nervous debility, owing to the fact that the line of communication between the brain and the kidneys have become deranged.

"If this be true the cause can be quickly removed by Electro Oxygen which will once more put the brain in direct charge of the kidneys." Hundreds have been restored by this method; it is not an experiment. After a thorough examination the Expert will tell you and truthfully whether your case can be benefited by this method or not. If you are incurable you will be told of that fact, and your case will be respectfully refused.

On the other hand if you can be relieved your case will be accepted and you will receive the best attention that medical science is in a position to give you.

A few of the symptoms to which users of Electro-Oxygen have testified are Anemia, and all impurities of the blood stream, paralysis and weakened conditions of the nervous system, any weak organ caused by a diseased germ, lack of nutrition or lack of nerve force, insomnia and numberless cases of weakness of women or men.

One hundred cases will be accepted and treated free of charge on the open day in rooms 213-217 National Fidelity Bldg., corner 15th and Farnam, Hours 9-12, 2-4, 7-8.

RESINOL CURED AWFUL ERUPTION

Her Face So Red and Itchy She Could Not Stand It.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 25, 1912. "I suffered awfully with skin trouble of the worst kind for about three months. My face was so red and itchy that it was impossible to stand it any longer. I wasn't able to even rest at night. It used to get me so nervous that I wasn't able to speak to anybody. I tried several other remedies in vain, until I noticed the advertisement of
