Another Version of Killing of Americans

NOGALES, Ariz., April 14.—The two American sailors killed by police at Nogales last week were members of the provost guard, said a foreign mining official arriving here today. He reported that the chief of police was engaged in quelling two drunken members of the shore party. Struck over the head with a beer bottle by one of the blue jackets the Mexican official, dashed, fired two shots at the sober sailors, who proved to be on police duty and rushing to arrest their disorderly fellows.

QUARTER MILLION MEN IDLE

 To keep the mine's machinery in good order and the pumps working. The metal workers of the vicinity have only partially quit their employment, but it is understood tomorrow the remainder of the men in this trade will lay down their tools.
 LA LOUVIERE, Belgium, April 14.—The miners' strike here was general this morning. All the factories closed their doors except a pottery, which was running. The street cars were operated as usual during the forenoon as the strike of the motormen and conductors was timed to begin at 7 o'clock this evening. Some attempts were made early today to cut telegraph wires in the vicinity.
 QUIEVRAIN, Belgium, April 14.—Everything is closed here. Half the workmen have gone over the frontier into France to find temporary occupations.
 LIEGE, Belgium, April 14.—Work ceased this morning at the greater number of the industrial concerns here and in the suburbs. It is estimated that only 1,000 workmen remained at their machines. In the national arms factory at Herstal the strike was complete. All the coal miners in this district have stopped work.
 BONS, Belgium, April 14.—Of the 3,000 coal miners in this district, all have quit work except 2,000, who are keeping machinery running. All the machine shops, potteries and other factories are idle.
 GHENT, Belgium, April 14.—The potteries in this neighborhood are all silent today, but in the linen and cotton mills more than half the hands remained at work. The metal workers all went out, but a few cement mixers are still at work.

KING OF SPAIN FIRED UPON

Alfonso, for Third Time in Reign, Has Narrow Escape.
GREAT CROWD GROWS FRANTIC
 Known that Allegro, Footbrary Man, Was Recently Expelled from France for Being an Anarchist.

MADRID, April 14.—For the third time in his reign King Alfonso narrowly escaped yesterday being the victim of an anarchistic attempt against his life. Three shots were fired at the king this afternoon in the streets of the capital by a native of Barcelona, Rafael Sanchez Allegro, who was immediately overpowered.

King Alfonso owes his escape to his own courage, quickness and skilled horsemanship. Accompanied by his staff, he was riding along the Calle de Alcalá returning from the ceremony of swearing in recruits, when a man sprang from the sidewalk and seized the bridle of the king's horse with one hand, firing the revolver with the other. The king realized the situation rapidly, and dug his spurs into the horse which reared violently. His quickness saved his life. The bullet, instead of burying itself in the king's breast, struck the horse. So close was the range that the king's left glove was blackened by the powder discharge.

Assault Overpowered.
 Before the assailant was able to pull the trigger again a secret service man sprang upon him. The two men fell to the ground locked in each other's arms, struggling furiously. The assassin managed to free his revolver arm, and fired two more shots in rapid succession, but the officer knocked his arm aside and the bullets flew harmlessly through the air.

At the sound of the first shot, the king's staff forced their horses on the sidewalk and made a ring around the assassin, who fought fiercely in the grip of four policemen before he was overpowered and handcuffed.

King Alfonso, as soon as he saw that the man had been secured, raised himself from the stirrups, turned to the crowd, gave a military salute and shouted in a ringing voice:
 "Long live Spain!"
 He then dismounted and reassured his staff, saying:
 "It is nothing, gentlemen."

Then upon a mighty roar from the wildly enthusiastic masses, which rolled along in the king's way of sound, all the way as the king rode to the palace, cool, collected and smiling.

Arrested by Mistake.
 A spectator, a pensioned royal halberdier, pushed forward so impudently to offer his congratulations to the monarch that he was mistaken for another assassin and arrested. He was released as soon as the mistake was discovered. A young Frenchman who was standing beside Allegro also was arrested, but it does not appear that he was connected with him.

The crowds made a determined attempt to lynch Allegro, who was rushed into a house and kept there until an automobile ambulance escorted by mounted police transferred him to police headquarters.

King Alfonso was forced to tell of what he lightly called "the incident" to Queen Victoria and the dowager queen, Maria Christina, who were shortly alarmed. The king smilingly allayed their fears.

He had hardly been back in the palace ten minutes when an immense clamor arose. The two squares on which the palace looks were black with people of all classes, desirous of showing their joy at the king's safety and their admiration for his bravery. The king went to the balcony and acknowledged the cheers, and then sought the queen, and the two stood bowing to the throngs several minutes.

The police investigations have established that Allegro was recently expelled from France as an anarchist, after which he went to Barcelona.

He came to Madrid a month ago and obtained employment in a carpenter shop. He worked there until Friday.

It is stated that during his first examination Allegro declared that on seeing the king pass he was seized with a sudden evil impulse, and, having a revolver in his pocket, drew it out. Driven on by an irresistible force, he sprang forward and fired.

Story by King Himself.
 King Alfonso thus describes the attempt against his life:
 "I had reached the corner of Calle de Alcalá, opposite the house of the Marquis de Cuba, when I saw a man come out of the crowd with his hand inside his coat. He attempted to seize the bridle of my horse and while I failed to follow exactly what happened, he fired two revolver shots in my direction."
 "At the second shot my horse reared on his hind legs and, backing hastily, upset my assailant. Immediately two of my private policemen jumped upon the man who yet managed to fire a third shot, wounding a policeman. I then dismounted and found that my horse was only slightly hurt. A bullet had grazed him over the saddle girth. I remounted and returned to the palace."

It is said that the police found on Allegro a letter addressed to his wife telling her that she was morally responsible for his contemplated act because of not sending what he had asked for. The letter ended with the following words:
 "When your receive this the deed will have been consummated."

Allegro, who was questioned by Premier Romanones himself, declared that he acted alone. In his pocket was found several newspaper articles concerning Dr. Francisco Ferrer, founder of the Modern school, who was executed in 1909. Allegro repeated constantly that he desired revenge for Ferrer.

PLATFORM PLEDGES OF LITTLE MEANING TO THE DEMOCRATS

 Killed several hills to "further regulate" the stock yards, but it went further and relieved the stock yards from any obligation to buy from the Omaha water plant its supply of water and thus won for the stock yards a suit now pending in this matter. At least it was argued by the Water board lobbyist, before he tied up with the stock yards that was what the defeat of the original Omaha water district bill would do.

It was passed by an agreement between the board with an amendment to eliminate the yards from the jurisdiction of the Water board.

Rail Commission Probe.
 Another pledge in the democratic platform read as follows:
 We favor zealous guardianship of the right of the state to regulate common carriers with relation to intra-state commerce.

The house looked after this promise by appointing an investigating committee to investigate the State Railway commission. That committee has not reported and probably never will.

SHORT BALLOT GETS BOOST

Senator Hoagland Starts Something in Committee of Whole.
 LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special Telegram.)—The short ballot and all state officers to be appointed by the governor, was the bone of contention in the senate this morning, and occupied the stage until the committee of the whole adjourned for lunch without action.

The amendment was offered by Hoagland of Lincoln and was pinned on to house roll No. 210 covering a constitutional amendment raising the salaries of state officials. The house bill provided that the governor should receive a salary of $5,000 a year and that his term should be for four years. It also provided that he should be ineligible for re-election. The attorney general's salary was also raised to $5,000 and all other state officers to remain as they are at present.

The first amendment offered by Hoagland provided that the governor's salary should be $6,000; the attorney general's, $4,000; the other state officers', $3,000. This amendment carried. Hoagland then offered another amendment that the governor should appoint all state officers excepting lieutenant governor, and arranging for a cabinet similar to that of the president of the United States.

The question went over until after lunch in order to give several senators who were out on committees a chance to have some voice in the matter.

The lieutenant governor served notice on all committees who had senate files still in their possession which were not on the general file to turn them in.

Wednesday, April 15, was agreed upon as the time when the legislature should adjourn and finish up business. The proposition as set out by the adjournment committee set 6 o'clock p. m. as the time for closing up business, but several senators objected to 6 o'clock or any other state hour. Dodge said that the senate did not know what it could do. "We all know conditions over in the house," said he, "and that they have not been working," and he thought it would be unwise to set any specific hour for adjournment. The 6 o'clock proposition was, therefore, cut out of the motion.

Senators Remember Their Absent Members by Huge Bouquet.
 LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—When the senate was called to order this morning Senator MacFarland was absent. He is confined to his home in Omaha, so and of such a nature that he will not be present again this session, in all probability. A large and beautiful bouquet of flowers was sent him with the regrets of the members on his inability to finish the session and hopes for his speedy recovery.

Flowers Sent to MacFarland.
 Senators Remember Their Absent Members by Huge Bouquet.
 LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—The house has passed the Dodge bill, that provides teeth in the Sackett law. The bill provides that when charges are filed against an official to oust him, the governor shall suspend the official pending the final decision in the supreme court. The mouse voted unanimously for the bill, even Douglas county lining up solidly, notwithstanding this delegation favored a measure to repeal the Sackett law.

Second Report on Telephone Property at Lincoln.
 LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—A couple of months ago, when the hearing was on before the state railway commission on the complaint of the patrons of the Lincoln Telephone company in this city, University Place, College View and other points against the raise in rates to be put into effect after the consolidation of the Bell with the Independent lines, the complainants set out that the reports made by the physical valuation experts in the employ of the railway commission did not show the true conditions, and some of the complainants were not backward in making statements that they thought that possibly the experts had been influenced by the company, and asked that the hearing be held back until they could employ an expert themselves to go over the books and plant of the company and report to the commission.

The request was granted and for the past month or so the expert has been hard at work in an effort to discover the true condition of things with the telephone company. He has completed his investigation, and has filed his report with the commission. This report shows almost identically the same as did the report of the railway commission's experts and completely exonerates the commission experts and the telephone company of any attempt to make false reports or in making any misrepresentations in the hearing before the commission.

TWO NEBRASKA MEN WILL OPERATE SKUNK FARM
 UTICA, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—Two Utica citizens, J. C. Goodbrod and Harve Woodworth, will soon have the distinction of being the owners of the only skunk farm in the state of Nebraska, and one of the very few in the world.

The skunks will be raised for their skins, which are quite valuable. They are said to take readily to domestication and are very prolific.

By a simple surgical operation the scent bag can be removed from them, leaving them as odorless as other domestic animals. They are easy to care for and will be confined with a woven wire fence, the bottom of which, however, must be buried several feet under ground.

The skunk farms already in operation in this country are said to be very profitable.

NERVE AILMENTS A GRAVE MENACE

Every Day This Disease Is Continuing to Gain in Omaha.

ELECTRO OXYGEN VALUABLE

Trouble Is Giving Rise to Many Different Kinds of Complications Which Are Causing People to Think They Are Incurable.

"I have noticed a very different relation between nervousness and weakness in the consistency of the blood," says the celebrated nerve specialist who has charge of the Electro Oxygen Company offices in the National Fidelity Bldg., Cor. 12th and Fairman Sts.

When the nerves get out of order neither the red or the white corpuscles preform with necessary activity. Sufficient oxygen is not carried to every portion of the body for a conservation of natural energy.

"This is the reason why nervous people feel weak, run down and look so pale and also why tuberculosis and other horrible diseases take hold of the constitution."

Electro Oxygen not only relieves the cause, but it also helps to form the blood which carries health and vigor to every tired and diseased organ in the body. It has been particularly successful in all cases arising from impoverished blood or weakened nerves, which generally show their origin in the following symptoms: restless sleep, sense of fullness after eating, drowsiness, heavy feeling in the bowels, loss of appetite and a general rundown feeling. If you have any of these symptoms it is ninety-nine chances out of one hundred that your trouble originated in the blood or nerves.

The Electro Oxygen Co. will diagnose your case free of charge and if you are fortunate enough to be one of the first One Hundred callers you will be given a free treatment. Hours 9 to 12, 2 to 4, 7 to 8; Sunday, 11 to 12 only.
