NEW YORK, April 16.-The crew of the schooner, Lottle R. Russell, which was abandoned seventy miles off Cape Henry on April 13, rfeached New York on the oil tank steamer Georgian Prince. For forty-eight hours they were adrift, most of the time without food and in a small open boat surrounded by sharks.

The schooner sailed from Charleston, S. C., for Philadelphia last Friday Saturday morning it was hit by a terrible gale and soon became waterlogged Nearly all the provisions were swept away and as the cook could not leave the pumps, the crew of seven men and the wife of the mate lived on a few mouth fuls of brine-soaked bread.

At 2 o'clock Sunday the vessel was abandoned. During the time the crew and the mate's wife were adrift they had no water and lived by wetting their lips with the juice of canned peaches, of which they had a small quantity. The Georgian Prince was sighted and they were taken off on the afternoon of Monday, April 14.
