FROST CEMETERY ABANDONED

Farm is Sold-and Bodies Removed to Another Location.

SOME BURIED NEARLY 50 YEARS

Graves of Some of the Ploncers of Western Iowa Are Opened Under the Direction of Local Undertakers.

Men are engaged in removing the bodies from the Frost cemetery in Hazel Dell township, the work being done under the supervision of Ben B. King of the Woodring Undertaking company Ten bodies were removed Thursday and twenty more are expected to be transferred by tonight

The cemetery is located on the Frost farm and it has been used as the burial place for the members and relatives of one of the oldest and most prosperous families in the county. The farm has been sold and the bodies are being taken Bee up and reburied, mostly in the Garner cometery, whose site is perpetually dedicated for cemetery purposes. Some of the bodies removed were placed in the cemetery nearly fifty years ago. Of these but little remains. Rough boxes. in some instances, were found to be entirely gone; in others there were but at crumbling streaks through the soil. In all such cases nothing but the bones of the skeleton and the hair remain. The hair in every instance was found to have withstood the assaults of the dissolving agencies with a tenacity equalled only by the enamel of the teeth, which appeared to be untouched. All of the costiy trappings had entirely disappeared, and every scrap of metal had corroded or rusted away. It was noticeable that where the coffins were not even thoroughly decayed only the odor of earth of the high school will make the closing address.

Among the bodies that have been removed are those of Robert Frost, jr., who died in 1871 at the age of 20 years; Wilhelmina Frost, who died in 1890, aged 25 years; Robert Frost, sr., 1891, aged 27 years; Patrick McCann. 1894, 76 years; Elizabeth McCann. 1894, aged 27 years; George Helwern. 1870, aged 7 years; John William Sells, aged 15 years; Mary Robert McGarn, 1881, aged 15 years; Mary Robert McGarn, who brought suit

Thieves Steal Miles of Copper Wire

The feat of stealing nearly twenty miles of copper telegraph wire, and getting away with it so adroitly that not a discernible trace was left, was the accomplishment of junk thieves, supposed when men went to the point to resume their work of reconstructing the lines. The wires were on the right-of-way of the Rock Island railroad. The storm left the wires in a tangled condition. and immediately after the storm temporary lines were run. The telephone company had nearly 100 wires and the Western Union and the railroad company had a number of copper lines. Since the storm linemen have been engaged in unwinding the tangled skeins. Thursday night four strands, nearly five miles long were left lying on the ground, the linemen went to the locality yesterday all of them had been cut up and parried away.

Traces indicated that several gangs of looters had worked, apparently simultaneously, at widely separated places, cutting up the wire and loading it into wagons.

All of the caskets were of wood, and it was observed that no matter how solidly nailed together the nails had rusted away and the coffins fell apart when the supporting earth was removed. One grave appeared to have been made in a place where the ground remains abnormally damp and both rough box and casket were well preserved.

Old Fashioned Spring Tonic Is the Best

(From National Health Journal.) Statistics show that not one person in fifty emerges from the strains of winter in good health. Due to various causes the system becomes clogged with impurities and the liver, kidneys and bowels fail to perform their functions properly. As a result we have faded, sallow complexions, liver spots, "spring this afternoon Mrs. W. E. Lange, who at Birmingham, Ala., April 24-25, are as fever," lost appetite, no energy-in fact, feel sick without knowing the cause. For correcting these disorders there is nothing so far discovered to equal the old-fashioned kardene tonic which can be made at home at small cost. Get an ounce of kardene from any druggist and dissolve in one-half pint alcohol, then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a quart.

A tablespoonful before each meal soon rids the system of impurities, clears the skin and restores the whole body to its row. He will go to work on supreme normal, healthy condition.-Advertise-
