WOULD ABROGATE TREATIES

Chamberlain Has Resolution to Abolish Pacts with Britain.

MAY BRING TOLLS ROW TO FOCUS

Negotiations Which Were Begun Last Summer Were Suspended Pending Change in Administration.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—A joint resolution to abrogate the Hay-Pauncefote and Clayton-Bulwer treaties in which Great Britain is basing its protests against the Panama canal act was introduced today by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon and referred to the foreign relations committee.

Upon the Hay-Pauncefote treaty Great Britain has protested against free passage for American ships in the Panama canal. Senator Chamberlain, a leader in the senate for the free passage opponents declared that he considered abrogation of the treaty the easiest and quickest way to get to the bottom of the affair.

He explained that while the Clayton-Bulwer treaty had been superseded by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty he included it in his resolution for abrogation of the treaty that were the Hay-Pauncefote treaty to be abrogated alone Great Britain might rebase its claims on the old treaty with the contention that the abrogation of its successor still left it in force.

Congress Must Act.

Abrogation of a treaty involves the joint action of both houses of congress and the approval of the president. The last treaty abrogated by the United States was the Russian treaty of commerce and navigation, because congress held American Jews were not treated on an equality with other Americans traveling in Russia.

One result of the introduction of the resolution probably will be to hasten the definition of the attitude of the administration toward the question of the exemption of the American shipping from tolls in the Panama canal, which, it is understood, President Wilson intended to keep in the background until the tariff legislation had progressed toward a conclusion in the house.

Status of Negotiations.

By tacit agreement, the negotiations began last summer by the presentation of Great Britain's preliminary proposal as to the question of the exemption of the American shipping from tolls in the Panama canal, which, it is understood, President Wilson intended to keep in the background until the tariff legislation had progressed toward a conclusion in the house.

CHANCE TO SETTLE UNIVERSITY MIXUP

three blocks of a saloon on the down town campus.

Last Report Rejected. When the report was made from the committee, Davis of Douglas, insisted on a roll call and raised the point of order that no quorum was present.

The argument, however, was on the committee report and turned on the one point of the liquor question. Gates, Buckner, Baker, Simon, all insisted that this would make a prohibition fight all over the state to the great detriment of the university.

Potts then moved to adopt the report rejected Saturday night, and this carried. Potts explained this was a new report adopted by another committee, but was a copy of the rejected report.

Jack Johnson Will Be Tried Tuesday

CHICAGO, April 21.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, will be placed on trial before Judge Carpenter in the United States district court tomorrow on a charge of violating the Mann white slave act.

New Turns at Late Hour.

The senate convened tonight at 3 o'clock when it was the purpose of the upper house again to take up the last conference committee's report that was rejected by the house and eliminate the reference to the saloons. With this done, it was believed the house would consider the McKisick bill again, making a three-fourths of a mill levy for the university for buildings which would clear up the situation, but would necessitate further consideration on the part of the house and open up the question in the lower body again.

HALF MILLION NOW IDLE

Strike of Socialist Workmen in Belgium Still Sticks.

COMPROMISE SEEMS PROBABLE

Indications that Cabinet Will Accept Terms Suggested by Liberal Leaders—Strikers Are Quiet and Orderly.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 21.—The general strike for equal suffrage in Belgium enters on its second week with the ranks of the strikers unbroken, and, in fact, strengthened by the addition of still further recruits, bringing their total up to nearly 500,000, according to the latest compilations.

A quiet spirit prevails among the working classes, who feel that the government will be obliged to yield at least to the compromise suggested by the Liberal leaders. This provides that the equalization of the parliamentary franchise shall be immediately taken up for consideration. A committee is now dealing with the provincial and commercial franchise and hopes to evolve a plan improving on the present method.

Cabinet ministers, on the other hand, are determined not to surrender if the government still commands a majority of the Chamber of Deputies when it re-assembles tomorrow.

The socialist national convention meets on Wednesday to discuss the situation. Acts of violence attributed to other causes than the strike. A large number of telegraph poles and wires have been cut, however, and the minister of war has notified all the owners of carrier pigeons that he will commandeer the birds for military purposes in case of necessity.

The printers' strike in Brussels has scarcely affected any of the newspapers and the two socialist organs and the Petit Bleu, whose proprietor has subscribed $20,000 to the general strike fund.

NOT PENNY WISE AND DOLLAR FOOLISH

The Electro-Oxygen Institute Instantly Discards What is Old Replacing it With the Latest Electrical Discoveries of the Scientific World Regardless of Cost—It is Business.

Why is it that today there lies in the navy yards of the world billions of dollars' worth of rusting vessels that five and ten years ago were acclaimed the pride of the navies they represented? Why are these warships sold to the highest bidder as old iron?

Why was it that the cable car system of New York City, in process of building, was abandoned for the electric car? Why was it that only last week a big shoe factory in Lynn, Mass., shipped to the junk heap $300,000 worth of practically new machinery and installed other apparatus costing many times as much?

It is because this is the age of progress. Because the navies of the world found that what was perfection five years ago is obsolete today. Because the electric car far surpassed the cable road. Because the proprietors of the shoe factory realized that the old machinery was excelled in its capacity for turning out so many thousands of pairs of shoes a day, perhaps threefold.

So it has always been with the Electro-Oxygen Institute. The best and latest thing in electric apparatus has never been too good for them. Today they have $12,000 worth of the latest electrical apparatus for the cure of the diseases installed in the office of the Institute. Should better apparatus costing $20,000 be perfected tomorrow, what they now have would be instantly thrown aside and the new installed. They have a standing order with the manufacturers of electrical apparatus and all inventors to supply them with the first fruit of their labors. They are philanthropists and business men combined. Carnegie builds libraries, Rockefeller endows universities, Morgan buys works of art. These doctors devote their lives to the treatment of disease by electricity.

If you will read the following incident and still refuse to believe, you are hopeless: E. R. Andrews, 418 Ferry street, had no reason to say anything on the subject of what he saw while waiting for the doctor one morning. He confessed himself at first skeptic. But he says: "I saw scores of people waiting their turn there. I felt honestly sorry for I thought it probably a humbug. Then a man came out of the private office and bade the doctors good-bye. He was William Booth of Mate Wad, W. Va. He was laughing and happy and he went under the crowded room with tears in his eyes and told those waiting to have confidence; that he himself had come there a wreck from stomach trouble and liver complications and had been completely cured."

Mrs. C. A. Heisman, who is quite familiar with Queen Alexandra's philanthropy by installing Electro-Oxygen in the Middlesex hospital, London, England, has twice married men of nobility and still retains her title. Electro-Oxygen Company. Gentlemen: It gives me great pleasure to be able to testify to the remarkable cure called Electro-Oxygen. At present it is all the rage in London, Paris and Carlsbad, Germany, among royalty and the higher classes. Indeed, the Queen of England always has been most interested in this, one of the world's greatest discoveries, as well as the Finzen rays, both of which have been installed, I understand, at her personal expense. She always has been interested in the welfare of those who suffer the ravages of disease, and is a frequent visitor at the Middlesex Hospital, London. It gives me additional pleasure to state that I have not only witnessed many remarkable cures on others, but was cured myself. When I returned from Europe two years ago I became ill with stomach and kidney troubles, which baffled the best physicians in this country and Europe. I continued to suffer in bed most all the time, until you arrived with Electro-Oxygen one month ago. I was one of the first to begin your cure. I could hardly walk upstairs or turn over in my bed. I am now able to do so with ease. I was benefited from the start, and sincerely hope that all my friends and acquaintances will believe me, trust my statement and take advantage of this, the greatest of all cures. I will be delighted to explain to anyone desiring to know about this method and the technique employed in curing me.

MRS. C. A. HEISMAN, 178 Jackson Ave., New Orleans, La. Sworn to this 23rd day of November, 1911. The hours are 9 to 12, 2 to 4, 7 to 8. 317, National Fidelity Bldg., 12th and Farnam.

Allen G. Thurman. Representative Bartlett, Hughes, Adamson and other members of the Georgia delegation discussed with President Wilson the prospects of filling the offices held by republicans. "We got the impression," said Mr. Bartlett, "that at the proper time the president would appoint efficient democrats to many of the places now held by republicans, and the democrats must be patient about it."
