OFFICES BACK IN PLACE

State House Begins to Take on Its Usual Appearance.

NEW ROOM TO BE PROVIDED

Insurance Commission Will Probably Have to Seek Different Quarters—Other Offices Move in Former Quarters.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, April 24.—(Special.)—The state house is beginning to take on its usual condition after the close of the legislative session. Many of the minor office forces which were moved to different offices to make room for the session are beginning to get back to their old haunts. There will have to be some provision made for the board of control, but at this time the matter is considerably up in the air.

The new insurance board, created by the Code bill, will have to look for new quarters unless some provision can be made to give the present quarters of the insurance deputy room by dividing up the bookkeepers' room in the office of the land commissioner.

The new stallion registration law creates a new board, and if the same is not left with the Board of Agriculture, room will have to be provided somewhere for that.

The physical department of the railway commission is very pleasantly situated down town, about four blocks only from the state house and it may be convenient to leave them in their present location instead of moving them back to their old rooms, now occupied by the secretary of the senate.

ADJUTANT GENERAL LAYS PLANS FOR MANEUVERS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, April 24.—(Special.)—Adjutant General Hall returned yesterday from his inspection of grounds suitable for holding the maneuvers of the National Guard of Nebraska this summer and will now confine his efforts to preparing a line of maneuvers, which will keep down the expense so that the guard can take the instruction. He proposes to make the movement just as nearly as possible along war lines as he can. The troops will be divided into two forces. The camp ground will comprise a field of 500 acres situated between Valley and Waterloo. One force will be known as the "Blue army" and will comprise companies of Fourth regiment. They will be detained at Wahoo, Elk City and Hooper and will move toward Fremont, where they will be mobilized. Companies of the "Red army," composed of the Fifth regiment will leave the trains at Louisville, Glenwood and some other point and march to Gretna. From these two points the two armies will move toward the camp ground with the expectation of meeting for battle near that point.

The plan of the movement is supposed to be two armies, the red composed of Missouri and Iowa troops and the blue of Nebraska and Kansas, the former having its headquarters in Omaha, where they are supposed to be stationed for the protection of that point. The blues are supposed to have designs on Omaha with the idea of occupying that city and driving out the reds. They will move from Fremont for that purpose, while the reds will go out to meet them in order to defeat their purpose. The maneuvers will take place somewhere about August 12.

DR. WALKER OF UNION FOUND DEAD IN OFFICE

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., April 24.—(Special Telegram.)—About 4 o'clock this afternoon the citizens of Union, this county, becoming alarmed over the absence of Dr. Alexander W. The citizens of Union are at a loss whether the death came about by suicide or murder. Dr. Walker has lived in Union for a number of years and has been a very successful practitioner. His wife, formerly Miss Jessie Gilmore, died five years ago. Dr. Walker was born and reared at Murray, eight miles from here and is the son of James Walker of that place.

WILSON VISITS THE CAPITOL

Sees Sixteen Senators and Thirteen Representatives in Hour.

TURLEY FOR PUBLIC PRINTER

Several Southerners Ask Appointment of Chattanooga Man—Coffey Boosted for Revenue Collector.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—President

today, but nevertheless, planned to attend the Boston-Washington ball game. Democratic National Chairman Mc-

Senator Newlands, chief among the senators opposing free wool. The British ambassador, James Bryce, the American minister to Colombia James Dubois, and the American commission, which will go abroad to study agricultural credits, are to see the president in the afternoon.

The president closed up his morning engagements just before noon and started for the capitol with Secretary Tumulty in one of the White House motors. Representative Jones of Virginia, one of the leading advocates of independence for the Philippines, had a short engagement with the president, and so that he might arrive at the capitol promptly, Mr. Wilson invited Mr. Jones into the car to talk on the way. At the capitol the president went directly to his room and began his conference with senators.

Boom Turley for Printer.

Senator Gore was the president's first caller. Senators Sheppard and Fletcher followed.

Representatives Oldfield and Goodwin of Arkansas, Hughes, Howard and Bell of Georgia, and Sisson, Collier and Stevens of Mississippi all asked the president to appoint W. V. Turley of Chattanooga, Tenn., as public printer.

"What did the president say?" they were asked.

"He listened very politely and smiled," said the spokesman.

The door to the president's room was left wide open and the small group which gathered in the corridor could see the president in conversation with those who came to call upon him.

Coffey for Revenue Collector.

Senators Sterling and Crawford of South Dakota had no objection to the appointment of James Coffey as collector of internal revenue for the Dakota district and the president told them he intended to nominate Coffey.

Senator Lane declared he did not discuss free wool with the president, but talked only of appointments.

Senator Hoke Smith and Senator Shields conferred briefly. Senator La Follette came for a short talk and had an earnest conversation with the president. He said it concerned appointments only.

The president summoned Senator Townsend of Michigan, republican, to inquire about J. J. Bell of Port Huron, who he has in mind for collector of customs there. Bell was defeated for congress on the democratic ticket last fall.

"I told the president the only thing I knew against Bell was his politics," said the senator as he came from the conference room.

Senator Tillman was the president's last caller and after having been at the capitol one hour to the minute, and having conferred with sixteen senators and thirteen representatives, the president rode back to the White House. He shook hands with several admirers as he passed out of the senate corridor.

WATERLOO, Ia., April 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Mystery surrounds the death of William Shaw, who died twenty minutes after being shot through the head in his wife's room at 4 o'clock this morning. His wife, Mrs. Winnifred Shaw, insists death was due to suicide, but results of a coroner's inquest do not uphold this theory.

Ferry Cable Breaks.

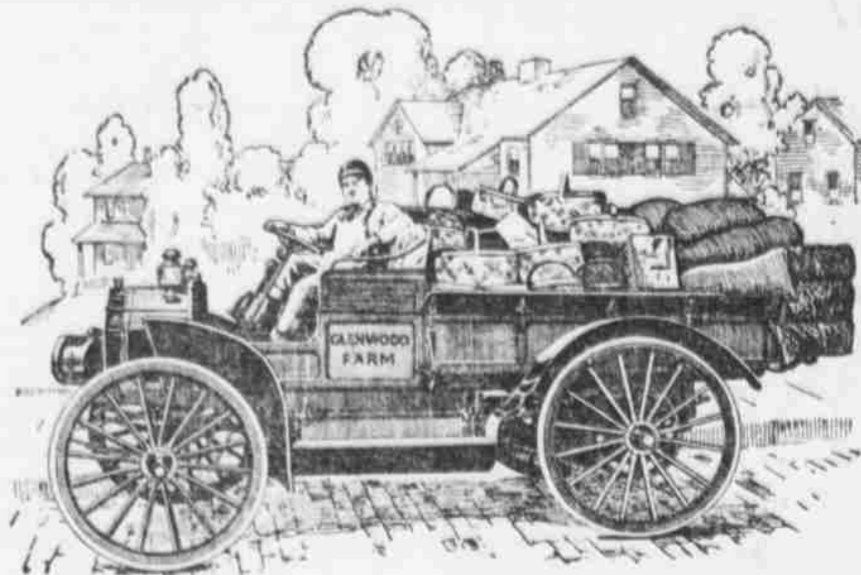

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., April 24.—(Special.)—James Sage and wife Wednesday, while crossing the Big Muddy on the ferry east of this city got more ride than their tickets called for. When near the Iowa shore the cable parted releasing the boat, which proceeded to drift down along the shore. Interior Department May Reverse Ruling

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(Special.)—The interior department is contemplating a reversal of its ruling that only qualified homesteaders can become assignees of entries on reclamation projects. The question arose recently through an inquiry from B. J. Seger of the North Platte Water Users' association as to the position of the department. It appears that the act of June 22, 1910, was construed up to about two years ago, to permit assignments of these lands to be made to persons who were qualified homesteaders. On September 14, 1912, the department made a different ruling, and entries have since been uncertain as to which opinion would prevail. In a letter to Senator Hitchcock today the department states: "It realizes the importance of these decisions and is making a full investigation of the whole subject. Pending any decision to the contrary the rules and regulations as issued will control." It is intimated, however, that the investigation may result in allowing assignments to be made to others than qualified homesteaders.
