The Society Bee-Hive

By MELLIFICIA. Wednesday, April 30, 1913.

THE dispatch announcing the death of Mrs. Ralph, better known hereabouts as Miss Elsie Reasoner, recalls a lot of things to those who were socially busy in Omaha during the exposition year and the year or two following. It was then that Miss Reasoner helped the younger crowd set the pace, and there were few affairs in the well set at which she was not one of the popular belles. Her contribution to the social calendar was the famous Dutch dinner given in conjunction with Miss Nettie Collins, now Mrs. Herbert E. Gates, on the return of the two of them from attending the coronation of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. This dinner was given at the Omaha club for a company of about twenty, and it was Dutch from start to finish, the souvenirs being Delft ware from Delft, and many of the Dutch dishes having been personally conducted through the customs house by the two hostesses. The dinner was the talk of the town for many a day. Miss Reasoner not only had literary talent, but was also an artist, doing drawing and sketch work. It is reported that after her marriage to the son of Julian Ralph, likewise an artist, she took up modeling and did some work which attracted very favorable attention in the London salon.

There were four generations at the wedding, which included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Odell; her mother, Mrs. L. E. Mrs. Crane and Mr. Junkin Are Married

PARIS, April 30.—Mrs. Emily Hutchinson Crane, widow of the late Richard T. Crane, ironmaster, and Francis T. A. Junkin, both of Chicago, were married today at the mayor's office and later at the American church on the Avenue D'Alma. Mr. Junkin is general counsel for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad. The wedding was the culmination of a romance of twenty-five years ago when the groom was a struggling young lawyer in New York City and the bride was Miss Emily Hutchinson, a belle of Viennese society, her father being connected with the American diplomatic service in the Austrian capital.

Mrs. W. J. Bryan Taking Rest Cure

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, wife of the secretary of state, is taking a two days' rest cure at a local sanitarium. Since coming to Washington Mrs. Bryan has had the task of furnishing and getting settled in a large home as well as meeting the great social obligations due to her position as wife of a cabinet officer. The absence of Mr. Bryan in the west gave opportunity for a brief respite. Mrs. Bryan expects to return to her home tomorrow.

SAYS WOMEN WASTE MONEY AND NAG HUSBANDS

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Announcement of the intention of Secretary Lane of the Department of the Interior to appoint Mrs. Annie Rogers, a leading suffragist, to be receiver of the public land office at Leadville, Colo., because he believes that "money can be handled more safely by women than by men," brought the following letter from a New York man to the secretary: "This notice of your appointment of Suffragist Rogers has caused as great surprise as your remarks about men. 'The women you know may be of such a type, also the men; but most of us meet women who throw away a great deal of money on dry goods and fool hats, such as inclosed pictures of them and nag their husbands for their hard-earned wages, until we men are fast going to the criminal class to get money for our wives to squander. 'Please use your influence to give men work and make women stay at home and keep it for the comfort of husband and children, so the homes will not be broken up and the children run wild and unruly."

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY TO BE GIVEN MAY THIRTIETH

Coach Thomas H. Mills announces that the senior high school class play will be given May 30. The play is "She Stoops to Conquer." Such interest has been taken in the play that the class believes an unusually large sum will be realized from it. The entire cadet regiment assembled Tuesday afternoon and held its first regimental dress parade. They were reviewed by Commandant J. A. Stritzinger and Lieutenant Colonel James A. Durkee. Tryouts for places on the musical program of the commencement program this year will be held within the next two weeks.

A campaign for subscriptions for the high school register will start next week, with the last issue of the register for this year.

MAJOR M'CUNE FINDS DOG LOST SINCE THE TORNADO

"Brownie," valuable canine belonging to Jim Ainscow, lost during the tornado, has been found. Although Mr. Ainscow had all his laundry drivers searching the city for the dog ever since the tornado, he could not be located, and then it was his old master who found the dog. Major William M'Cune, just back from giving the Buffalo Bill Wild West show a good start on the season, had just started from his home, when the dog came running up to him. Not knowing that the dog was supposed to be missing, M'Cune took him to the Merchants hotel, where the owner was soon apprised of the finding of his pet.

BUZZINGS

Frank Koutsky, running for mayor of South Omaha, has filled the office several times before and always made good. Gus Rense makes the other fellows wear wigs, but draws the line on wearing one himself badly as he needs it. Preston E. Myers used to compound pills as drug clerk for Norman A. Kuhn. John F. Behm has come back. He is back in the house moving business after being out of it for twenty-five years. Attorney Robert S. Patrick was once nominated on a forlorn hope democratic ticket for the high and mighty office of attorney general for the great state of Nebraska.

HEAT CUTS DOWN THE DISTANCE TO BE WALKED

Because the temperature soared to the 80 degrees mark this afternoon Lieutenant Lerschbough and Dr. F. B. Cochran of the local navy recruiting station had to walk but six and two-thirds miles on the monthly hike required by the Bureau of Navigation. If the temperature is 70 degrees above zero or lower the officers must walk ten miles. The route chosen today by the officers was the south boulevard.
