Ethel Wootton Is Injured by Auto of Mark Savidge

Mark Savidge, son of Rev. C. W. Savidge, was arrested Wednesday afternoon and booked at the police station as a suspicious character. Savidge was arrested by Traffic Officer Rahling for running down a 12-year-old girl with his five-passenger automobile at the corner of Seventeenth and Dodge streets about 4:30 o'clock.

The car in which Rev. C. W. Savidge was a passenger was moving north on Seventeenth at a very slow rate of speed and had just run abreast three wagons, also northbound, when the girl, Ethel Wootton, 1723 Dodge street, happened to cross from the west. Savidge, by reason of the three wagons, was unable to see her and was unaware of her approach until she darted directly in front of the auto. Throwing on the emergency brakes the machine was stopped instantly, but the front wheel had already passed over the girl's left arm and leg. She was taken to the station, where a thorough examination by Dr. Fols showed some severe bruises.

Sympathy for Omaha Recalls a Sensation

Mrs. Stella N. Mummaugh writes to The Bee from Decatur, Mich., sending along with her letter a copy of The Bee of July 1, 1912, in which is published some account of the sudden departure from Omaha of L. L. Smith, "the merchant prince," whose death was the sensation of the day. In her letter Mrs. Mummaugh says: "I was once a resident of Omaha and am interested in the city, and more than ever since the terrible calamity. I wrote to my relatives in Omaha immediately upon reading the description of the tornado in the Kalamazoo Gazette. They replied that they were not in the cyclone swept section, as they lived on Twenty-sixth street, near St. Mary's avenue. "I lived in Omaha from May, 1878, till May, 1901, and enjoyed the western climate and liked the people whom I met. I was in the dressmaking business while there and did well.

"The loss of life to the Omaha people is a national calamity, and a blow that only time can help to mend. It will be decades before the city can be built up in the tornado swept section, and the loss of church property and school buildings will be severely felt also. My uncle sent me one of the souvenir booklets put out by The Bee, and it has made a great impression on my mind.

"I have a copy of The Bee of 1901, which I have kept, and would like to send it to you. Mr. Rosewater, senior, was the editor then, and probably not many of the staff are with the paper now. You might enjoy looking it over to note the changes in the paper, and the improvement in the city. I remember some of the happenings mentioned in this paper, as do doubtless some of the pioneers. I recall the failure of Mr. Smith, a merchant, who lost several thousand dollars in different cities. I never before or since knew his equal when it came to misrepresenting things.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Gilgin Adherents Run Head in Moose in Their Zeal.

ATTACK ON MURPHY REACTS Get Dates Mixed and Make Charges that Records Openly Show to Be Without Any Foundation Whatever.

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS

Thursday—At Stanek's hall, Twenty-third and S streets. Box hall, thirty-third and L streets. Friday—At Stanek's hall, Twenty-third and Missouri streets. Saturday—At Twenty-seventh and J streets.

Never has the malign influence of the Gilgin faction worked such dissension in the democratic ranks as has occurred since Tuesday night when Tom Jamieson, a recent arrival in South Omaha and a strong supporter of City Treasurer Gilgin, and the latter's candidate for city attorney, E. D. O'Sullivan, attacked Murphy in what is regarded as a peculiarly personal manner before an audience composed of men, young and old, who have formed the city attorney and his brothers for many years.

Jamieson promised some days ago that he was going to attack Murphy. At a meeting at Thirty-sixth and Q streets Tuesday night he returned to his favorite attack and spent the greater part of his time and energies decrying City Attorney Murphy to friends and neighbors who knew the city attorney before Jamieson was born.

The worst of the performance is that the charges made against Murphy by Jamieson are not able to be substantiated in fact and democrats and republicans alike knowing this resent the conduct of such a campaign as has been consistently followed by the Gilgin followers. In the Jamieson trade, Murphy was charged with being the cause of invalidating an O street grading tax. The record shows that the petition for the grading was filed November 2, 1909, the contract awarded January 11, 1910, the district created December 31, 1909, and the bond ordinance passed on February 10, 1910. Henry Murphy was not elected city attorney until April, 1910.

Assistant City Attorney S. L. Walters, one of the best known and most highly respected attorneys before the Douglas bar was the city attorney at the time the O street grading tax was levied and assessed. He said yesterday: "I was city attorney when the O street grading tax was levied and there is no reputable lawyer in the state that can successfully resist the payment of the tax.

"The two judgments cited by Jamieson as rendered against the city during Murphy's term of office were in fact issued out in my term of office. One of them, the Schickelshaus case, was not a judgment, but a settlement for $140.88. The other, the Kavan case, was one that the council ordered appealed to court after I had settled it for $1,500. The courts gave the plaintiff $2,900 until I carried it to the supreme court and had the case reversed, after which the council was glad to settle for $1,500, that is to say, the $1,500, plus costs and interest. "Naturally Jamieson knows nothing of this, since he is here but a few weeks. But he should learn to scrutinize the information handed him before attacking men who have grown up here, as Henry Murphy has."

The democrats were wroth over the attack upon Murphy. Men who were with the Gilgin faction and the democratic ticket until Tuesday night were loud in their condemnation of the unjust and unfair attack made upon Murphy for matters over which he had no control and which did not occur in his term of office.

Wheeler Has Double. While Perry Wheeler, city clerk, could never cop a blue ribbon in a beauty contest, he has always maintained he is the best looking school teacher, who has taken up politics for a pastime, and his feelings were hurt when he was ungraciously member of the leisure class with a large red nose and a tangled mass of dark locks cropping out from underneath a hat that might have seen service in the civil war, tried to palm himself off as the city clerk to several local business men—and personal friends of Perry's—at that.

"Say Perry, when did you all off the wagon," greeted John Hinchey of the Hinchey Laundry company. "I always thought you were a member of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and even limited the amount of muddy Missouri you drank each day."

This and like expressions from the merchants, who had been accosted by the fakir, made Wheeler believe he was the victim of a practical joke. When the whole thing was explained to him, The strange man had visited business houses that employ stationary engineers. At each place he introduced himself as the city clerk and informed the owner that his engineer would have to take out a license in order to retain his position.

What the purpose of the impersonator of the clerk was is not known.

May Day Ready. The Centurion club will give a May dancing party this evening at Rushings' hall, Twenty-fourth and J streets. Festivities appropriate for the occasion have been arranged, which will take place before the dance.

A young woman among the club members' friends has been chosen as Queen of May, and a retinue of maids have been picked. The queen and her maids will lead the grand march followed by the present officers of the club and the former officials.

More Get Licenses. After several adjournments the Fire and Police Board convened last night at 7 o'clock and issued sixteen more licenses for saloons. About ten were held up for further investigation. A good number of saloons in Brown Park, it is said, will not get their licenses until the last. Those issued are: Charles Lukonak, 326 Q street, bond by Illinois Surety company; Charles Tesnor, 416 S. South Twenty-first street, personal bond; John Cerveny, 351 South Twenty-sixth street, personal bond; John Duffy, 105 North Twenty-sixth street, personal bond; Gust Hedgren, 341 North Twenty-fourth street, bond by Illinois Surety company; Emil Hansen, 323 Q street, personal bond; Joseph Kopecky, 364 V street, personal bond; Dennis Eddy, 215 North Twenty-sixth street, bond by Illinois Surety company; John Rybin, 331 South Twenty-fourth street, bond by Illinois Surety company; Carl O'Brien, 327 Q street, bond by Illinois Surety company; Frank Stanek, 155 South Twenty-eighth street, personal bond; E. H. Tutsch, 28 South Twenty-

NEGRO SLAYS WHITE MEN

Two Killed and Three Perhaps Fatally Shot.

BLACK IS STILL AT LARGE Had Attacked Woman and, Armed with Revolver, Fled to Woods, Pursued by Band of Citizens.

HAMPTON, S. C., May 1.—Two Hampton county men were killed and several injured in a pitched battle today and tonight with Richard H. Austin, a negro, accused of attempting an assault upon a white woman at Luray, S. C. The dead are: Frank Downer, a planter, and Judge F. H. Edensfield of Allendale, S. C. George Hanna, Dr. S. C. Moore and an unknown man, probably were fatally injured.

The negro has not been caught. Austin was alleged to have gone to the home of a citizen of Luray and attempted an assault upon a young woman this afternoon. The woman's cries attracted passersby, but the negro escaped. Armed with a shotgun, a bag filled with shells, a large revolver and a belt filled with cartridges, he sought refuge in the woods.

When the pursuers approached the negro in the woods he opened fire. In the first round of shots Downer was killed, Dr. Moore fatally wounded and George Hanna was shot in the back. The pursuers retreated a short distance and kept up a scattered fire. Help was summoned from Allendale and Hamilton and bloodhounds were ordered.

Judge F. H. Edensfield of Allendale, who had joined the forces, led a dash to the negro's hiding place. He was shot and instantly killed and an unidentified man with him was probably fatally injured. A cordon was drawn around the thicket where the negro was at bay and reinforcements awaited.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the negro made a dash for liberty. At least five shots were exchanged, but he escaped. Bloodhounds are being rushed to the scene from Barnwell, S. C., and the state penitentiary. Governor Bleese has been requested to send troops.

PLAN TO ADVERTISE GOODS MANUFACTURED IN OMAHA Despite the fact that the tornado disarranged and disorganized many of the plans of the Omaha Manufacturers' association, that organization is still hard at work boosting Omaha made goods and protecting Omaha manufacturers.

One of the latest plans is the decision to advertise Omaha-made goods on all pay envelopes distributed to employees in the city of Omaha. A. W. Gordon has been delegated by Chairman Sanborn to prepare a form of pay envelope which will advertise homemade goods in the most effective manner and at the next meeting a sample will be presented together with a plan for distribution by the Omaha Manufacturers' association.

Chronic Stomach Troubles Cured. There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. It is not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit."

SLUGGED AND ROBBED ON DAY OF CONVERSION Albert Corey of Elwood, Neb., sat hugging his knees on a curb at Fourteenth and Douglas streets last night while a street evangelist exhorted a gathering to "get right with God."

Corey pondered for a long while and finally decided to join the forces of Light, so he followed the girl with the tambourine to a hall at Thirteenth and Dodge, where he heard some more about the sunny side of life. He was completely converted when he stepped outside, and his mind wandered over Elwood, Neb., where humming birds sip sweetness from fragrant blooms, when suddenly a negro with an extraordinary large flat knocked him down and stole his watch and several dollars.

At police headquarters, while the surgeon was working on him, Corey remarked that if the devil took his desecration so strongly to heart he was of a good mind to flop over again.

UNIVERSITY OF OMAHA ON BALL PLAYING TOUR

The University of Omaha base ball team is at Lincoln, where it will meet the Cotner university nine this afternoon and the University of Nebraska team Friday.

Saturday the local players go to Fremont, where the Fremont team of the State league will be the opponent. This will be the first trip that a base ball team representing the Omaha school has ever made. Notwithstanding that this is the first time that the University of Omaha has had a team in the field, it is playing stellar ball and is confident of making a very creditable showing against these teams.

This will also mark the first intercollegiate relations that have been opened between the Nebraska and Omaha universities. Omaha does not expect to beat St. John's Cornhuskers, but if a good game is played, it will do a great deal toward boosting the athletic standing of the smaller school. If the outfield will play the same grade of ball that the infield does, the score will be held down. Dow or Adams will be on the mound for Omaha in the game with Nebraska.

The Rhettians' chances against the Christians are said to be fairly good. If Omaha is able to win this game it will be in a fair way to lay valid claim to the championship of the Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic association. A return game will be played with Cotner Friday, May 3.

Those who will make the trip are: Dow, Adams, Slotky, John Selby, Paul Selby, Parish, Halsey, Rees, Percival, Arends and Rhoden.
