is Bath: the firm if Arthur Sewall nd company. Its title to its honorable distinction re ts not only in the huge size, the beauty and the superb carrying qualities of Fs ships, but on the fact that all its phnage was constructed by the firm itself in the shipyard where it has been located for almost three-quarters of a century. The Shenandoah, the Susquehanna, the Roanoke, the Rappahannock, which was burned on one of her early voyages in the South Pacific, and the new steel Dirigo were and are unchallenged queens of the American nerchant mariy

The technical skill with which these essels have/ been designed, constructed and selled is not more notable than the mergantile ability with which their movents have been so directed as to take advantage of the most favorable tides of the world's traffic. With all its great age this famous house has the energy and progressiveness of youth. It has always been a pioneer in its profession. The Beston Journal prints an interview with the head of the house. Arthur Sewall, who makes an announcement which will be gratifying to all who have a patriotic pride in of a most ancient and one of our noblest industries. Mr. Sewall has been using lately in his shipyard/ steel plates, beams, etc., imported from angles. Great Britain. But now, says Mr. Sewall, "I have had plans drawn for another steel ship, and I find that can get all the material on this side eaper than by going abroad, and so next steel ship will be built out-of American material. Our and iron have become so cheap in and so good in quality that it es the British only the advantage wer cost of labor, but as our labor perior and our system of building tter, if we are allowed to build five ars longer we will build as cheaply on the Clyde."

This is most significant information. comes from an acknowledged aurity. It points to an early revival only of the shipbuilding but of terests of New Engand is

Flourishes Only in Opera-

Many Geniuses Have Been Deficient in

Mental and Moral Health.

Dr. James Weir observes that mechanical geniuses, or those who deal mainly with material facts, do not, as a rule, show any signs of mental degeneration. In proof of this, says the London Public Opinion, one need only instance Darwin, Galileo, Edison, Maxim. Watt. Rumsey, Howe, etc. It is only the genius of astheticism, the genius of the emotions, that is generally accompanied by unmistakable signs of degeneration. Swinburne's poems show the mental bias of their author, who is described as peculiar eccentric. Many of the men have aided in making world's history, were vieand eccentric. Many of the men who world's history, were viethe tims of epilepsy, as was Julius Caesar, military leader, statesman and author. Many men of genius have suffered from choleric and spasmodic movements, notably Lenau, Montesquieu, Buffon, Dr. Johnson, Thomas Campbell, Napoleon and Socrates. Suicide, essentially a symptom of mental disorder, has carried off many a man of genius, including such immortals as Chatterton, Blount, Haydon, Clive and David. Alcoholism and morphinism are now regarded as evidences of degeneration, and have had as victims Coleridge, Sheridan, Steele, Addison, Hoffman, Charles Lamb, Burns and many others. In men of genius the moral sense is sometimes obtunded or absent. Sallust, Seneca and Bacon were suspected felons; Rousseau, Byron, Foscola and Caresa were grossly immoral, and Casanova, the gifted mathematician, was a common swindler.

The Sparrowhawk.

There is a remarkable charm in the swift, agile, wheeling flight of the American sparrowhawk, that justifies Tennyson's line, ...Sometimes the sparrowhawk wheels along." The bird has powerful wings, and its poising, turning and wheeling in a high wind form a beautiful display of aerial gymnastics. The hawk rises in the face of a strong wind with an easy, graceful, wheeling flight, all aslant, yields to the impulse from without for a second or two, and then, gainingcomplete control of itself, soars away as if the atmosphere were perfectly still.

A Political Motto.

"My friend," said the truly patriotic citizen, "you are becoming prominent in politics." "That I am," replied the local leader. "I trust that you will adopt as your motto the good old phrase, 'Be sure you're right, and then go ahead.'" "Not exactly, though you are guessing purty close. De motto of our association is, 'Be sure ye get ahead; ye kin make it right afterward.""

> -OF THE-United States of America.

M. L. ZOOK. 1615 Howard Street, Omaha, Neb., Organizer for department of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Colorado.

ORANGE PRINCIPLES.

On behalf of the Loyal Orange Lodge of the United States of America, and with a view of correcting the false impression that enemies are endeavoring to convey to the minds of men who are unacquainted with Orange principles, are these few statements made: The Loyal Orange Institution is a brotherhood and sisterhood, bound by three tics-Justice, Truth and Righteousness. It has no hidden aims

It is Fraternal and Benevolent--assisting and protecting members while living and their widows and orphans when they are removed by death.

It upholds the right of private judgmentthe untrammelled freedom of opinion; believes the public schools are an essential safeguard of the state, and should be kept free from ecclestastical or sectarian control and that persons disloyal to the government -who hold a mental allegiance to the pope of Rome-should be rigorously excluded from teaching therein. It believes primary allegiance is due to the government which protects the lives. liberties and properties of its citizens, and that ecclesiastical authority should aot under any circumstances, be permitted to meddle in the affairs of state, and that coercion of a citizen in the exercise of his or her right of franchise, under the guise of relig-ious or spiritual authority should be punished as a crime against the state. That it is the duty of every citizen to defend the lawfully constituted authority and institutions of our country against corrupt and inimical influences, as well as against armed assallants, to the end that our glorious freedom be protected and transmitted unimpaired to posterity.

It encourages habits of frugality and in dustry among its members, and is proud to boast that Orangemen seldom become a public charge or accept pauper bread. It believes in the restriction of immigra-tion and the extension of time for the natur-alization of citizens, and that the public ands shall be held for actual American citi-zens who become settlers.

ands shall be held for actual American cili-zens who become settlers. The Loyal Orange Iustitution of the United States of America has certain requirements for membership: That a man shall be an actual American citizen, having complied with the laws of the United States with regard to naturalization, and without a mental reservation. That the applicant shall be a Protestant, and also that his parents and wife shall be Protestants.

That the applicate and wife shall be Protestants. That he shall be thrifty and successful in his business: honorable and truthful in his dealings with his fellowman, and shall be known as a law-abiding citizen. That he will endeavor to give his children or any children under his charge at least a good common school education, being care-ful to avoid all popish doctrines, and That he shall be in sound health at the time of making application. It makes no difference where a man was born, so long as he meets the foregoin requirements. These are the qualifications required o every applicant to the order, and we do not think that any patriotic American order can offer a better array of urinciples and teach-ings.

Brore occupied, doing a good business. was organized in Philadelphia on the 15th day of July, 1845. Its first inception was for the protection of Mechanics and Working men alone, and for a number of years none but operative mechanics and workingmen were admitted to its membership; but the great interests of principles involved in its existence, caused a departure from that plan, and the Order has for years existed and exists today as an order of speculative mechanics, recognizing every one possessed of the birth requirements, who works for a maintainance either by hand or brain or both as eligible to membership, and numbers among its members men of every profession and calling in life.

The objects of this order are to assist each other in obtaining employment; to encourage Foxe's Book of Martyrs. each other in business; to establish a sick and funeral fund; to establish a fund for the relief of widows and orphans and to aid members; and to ald members who, through Providence, may be incapacitated from following their usual vocations, in obtaining LeCaron the Spyituations suitable to their afflictions. a beacon light in every storm which threat-ens to engulf us. In this noble and patriotic work we ask the cordial and hearty co-operation of all good citizens. In this grand work we need the helping hard of all organizations holding the same views and principles. We have no time for jealousies and blckerings, but with a united front we should march forward, shoulder to shoulder, remembering that "United we stand, divided we fall." In the strictest sense we are a mational point al organization, but we oppose with unanisity the slightest taint of partisanism. "Our country" is our motio, and we keep this motto steadily before us. We are cordi-rant that there are great and powerful enemies within our midst, requiring the strictest surveillance of all who are at heart, word and in deed Americam. States, or under the protection of its flag. This order has existed for nearly fifty years and is at present, rapidly spreading throughout the United States. As an American born. and having the welfare of yourself and family at heart, as well as that of the nation at large, we would most heartily invite you to become a member of the U.A. M., as it is the only Order in existence founded especially to promote the interests, elevate the character and secure the happiness of the American mechanic and business man. It therefore appeals to the head and heart of him who wields the pen as well as to him who swings the scythe or wields the sledgehammer of the mechanic. In its councils, a free discussion of principles relating to the fostering and care of the interests of individual members is permitted; but nothing of a political or sectarian character is ever allowed to be discussed. It has no amiliation with such institutions as Trades Unions Knights or Labor, Sovereigns of Industry, or the like, and desires not to control either capital or labor, as it would be doing a gross injustice to many of its members, who are taken from both classes. The membership of the Order is scattered from Maine to Callfornia, and from all points comes the glorious news that the Order is gaining great strength in all jurisdictions.

An endowment branch is also connected with the Order, both national and state, which insures those who seek its benefits, enabling them to leave a sum, which is in all cases substantially and promptly paid, to the dear ones, when death marks its members for its own.

Each and all of the foregoing have their peculiar national organizations, and take pride in same. But the American joins order after order, composed of a mixture of nationali-societies. We would not belittle any of the existing secret beneficial associations. Far from it. They are a power for good in the community But we do ask him who is to the manor born to turn his thoughts to home and native land, so that he can join in the glad refrain:

"Thou art my native land,

I own thy fostering hand; Though far from these I roam, Still thou art my home."
