

A BRIDE'S ACCOUNT OF ST. BARTHOLOMEW.

I have met with an exceedingly interesting report of the horrible night of St. Bartholomew. It is from the pen of Margaret, the Bride of Navarre.

Accounts of personal incidents, given by Roman Catholic writers, aid in forming opinions of the unexpectedness and severity of the massacre.

When interviewed by a reporter, Priest Schrage, of St. Agatha's Church, said: "I did not see the casket, as it was not removed from the church."

John P. Restle, a well-known contractor, called at the Victor office to-day and stated that he had presented a bid for certain work to be awarded, and that it had been thrown out because it was a Catholic.

"Yes, it is true that I instructed the architect not to accept any bids from Catholics, and I meant exactly what I said, and propose to stand by it."

When the hearse containing the coffin remains of Jacob Pfeiffer, of 3307 Lemp avenue, was backed up to the curb in front of St. Agatha's Church at 3 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, preparatory to the casket being borne into the church by eight members of Hassendeubel Post, No. 13, G. A. R., an obstacle was encountered that prevented the religious ceremony.

bers and Post Commander J. G. Zimmerman, who also attended, wore their G. A. R. badges, and the casket was covered with the United States flag.

Father T. A. Dette, assistant rector at the church, was on the steps of the edifice to receive the cortege. He observed the badges worn by the veterans, and as Undertaker Millens ascended the steps before the casket was removed, Father Dette descended to meet him and anno nced that they could not enter the church until they had removed their badges.

"That we shall never do," responded Mr. Zimmerman, who was in advance of his comrades. Then he gave the orders to turn, and the veterans marched back to their carriages, the coffin remaining in the hearse.

"I have personally a high regard for the members of the G. A. R. as men who have nobly served the country. I myself am a native-born American and love this country as much as do the members of that organization."

Pfeiffer had been a member of St. Agatha's Church ever since it was built, over twenty years ago. He had been a member of Hassendeubel Post for an even longer period, having served faithfully in the Union army throughout the civil war.

an appetizing chicken or rabbit which may after all be a decoy stuffed with saw-dust; while as a matter of fact his case is that of the cowardly servant in the parable, who, for fear of losing his talent, hid it in a napkin, and in the end was deemed unworthy of his stewardship.—North American Review.

Rome and Education. It is the claim, even the boast of Rome, that she is the friend of education, and that she seeks to have her children educated, as much as do the Protestant denominations and others who are not Catholics.

WHEN papers of the Roman hue jump on the other side of the fence to catch more advertising, always give them some strong meat to eat, such as an A. P. A. lecture. It will take the wind out of their sails every time.

THE Citizen, of Boston, tells of four drunken orlists in one day. Where are Satoll and Watterson? The saloon men are showing what kind of men are trying to "put them out of church."

Sickness Among Children is prevalent at all seasons of the year, but can be avoided largely when they are properly cared for. Life's Health is the title of a valuable pamphlet accessible to all who will send address to the N. Y. Condensed Milk Co., N. Y. City.

Archbishop Kain Explains. ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 6.—Archbishop Kain, in explanation of how the action of the college of the propaganda in regard to his elevation to the archdiocese of St. Louis came to be misconstrued in the Associated Press dispatches from Rome on Tuesday, says: "The college of the propaganda on May 21 issued a decree enlarging the powers of the coadjutor archbishop of St. Louis, but in no way changing his dignity or title. The decision of the propaganda was made in writing, signed by the cardinal, and a copy of the document was spread upon the records of the Vatican. The paper was then referred to the pope, who immediately saw that something more was needed, and signified his intention of issuing a bull transcribing Archbishop Kenrick and promoting his coadjutor. Notification of this action by the pope was conveyed to me in the cablegram, a copy of which has already been given out. This bull is now being prepared and is not yet upon the records. When on Tuesday the news of Archbishop Kenrick's removal was cabled from St. Louis to Rome the press representatives there probably looked up the records, and finding the action of the propaganda upon the books, concluded that a mistake had been made."

Archbishop Kain states that he does not expect the papal bull to reach him before ten days from now. He expects the letter mentioned as being on the way in Cardinal Ledochowski's cablegram within the next two days.

To Restrict Naturalization. NEW YORK, June 7.—The court of common pleas and the superior court, in compliance with the provisions of an act which Governor Morton has signed and which goes into effect immediately, decided to cease naturalizing aliens. The law provides that the supreme courts, in their respective judicial districts, and the county courts, in their respective counties, shall have jurisdiction of all declarations to become citizens.

In order to prevent frauds by political parties, in regard to naturalization, the act states that "no political committee or committee of any political parties and no persons who received or accepted nomination for any political office shall make any payment or promise of payment of money to or on behalf of any person for fees for primary or final declaration or application for naturalization, or for service as attorney or counsel or act as agent or otherwise in assisting or enabling any person or persons to make such declaration or application. Who violates any of the provisions of this section of the act shall be punished upon conviction thereof by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000."
