One of the test illustrations of the alvantages of ir i ation is to be found in the irrigated district surrounding Fort Murgan, Colerado, where during the last ten years half a million dollars have been spent in the construction of a system of irrigating canals which has no superior anywhere. A stretch of country perhaps 20 miles long by 15 wide has been brought under cultivation and now presents an appearance that is almost ideal. Fields of alfaifa, wheat, oats and corn lend brilliancy to excepting the double features; the broad plateau. Thousands of sleek cattle and countless flocks of sheep browse upon the nutritious grasses. Here and there an orchard bends be neath its luscious load. A more flourishing community does not exist. And the secret of it is-1:rigation and 1215 Farnam Street, OMAHA, NEB. Cattle. The Morgan county farmer lives on and from his farm, which never fails to yield double the average of nonirrigated sections, and he grows rich on cattle.

Men who are unacquainted with the results of farming by irrigation can form no idea of its superiority over ordinary methods of agriculture. Think what it means to be able to hasten or retard the development of growing crops-to make it rain when, where and in what volume you wish. True, all this means closer attention and greater labor, but are not the results worth it?

In Morgan county there are no cyclones; no extremes of heat and cold no malaria; no crep failures. The peceducational facilities all that can be desired. The markets high-priced.

Morgan county land is not "cheap"that is, not cheap in the sense in which that word is commonly understood. The price ranges from $15 to $30 an acre, including perpetual water right, but as a man can make a better living off 40 acres there than off 160 acres anywhere east of the Rocky Mountains, the apparent difference after all does not count for much. Eighty acres is the favorite size. One Morgan county farmer gives it as his experience that 10 acres under irrigation in Morgan and protecting members when they are rethat is, not cheap in the sense in which 10 acres under irrigation in Morgan county is preferable to the best and most expensive quarter-section in the Compromise Offered in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 23.-It is Langevin, the head of the Roman Catholic Church in this country, has submitted a proposition to Premier Greenway and the Manitoba Government for a compromise in the parochial school warfare and that the compremise will be accepted. The terms of the compromise are understood to be these: "Catholic separate schools may be established, but will receive no financial aid from the government. The Catholics, however, are not to be taxed for the support of the Protestant public schools. The Catholic school beard will be supplied with machinery to impore taxes on all Catholics for parochial schools except in instances where a Catholic parent prefers to send children to the public schools. In brief, the proposit on is that Catholics be not taxed for public schools, but be compelled to pay total cost of the maintenance of parochial schools. Such a compromise will satisfy both Catholics and Protestants and end the struggle.
