HOW ROME REGARDS THE WAR WITH SPAIN

As a Contest Between Protestantism and Roman Catholicism.

Sentiment of Members of the "Sacred College" Also Unfriendly to the United States-Pope Sets Up Claimeto Cuba.

A Special Cable gram to the Globe-Democrat from Rome dated June 11,

Although every effort has been made in Vatican circles to prevent the matter from becoming known, the pope is in such a delicate condition of health that four times during the last three weeks Dr. Lapponi, his chief physician, warned his simmediate entourage as well as the papal camerlengo, Cardinal Oreglio, who, by virtue of his office, assumes on the death of the pope, charge of all the affairs of the papacy pending the election of the new pontiff, to prepare for the worst.

It is not that he has suffered from any specific illness, but there has been a most alarming decline in vitality and in strength, and that has brought about syncope of such alarming character that Dr. Lapponi expressed fear that the aged pontiff would never recover consciousness.

The physician as well as those about the pope do not hesitate to attribute his altered condition to his grief on the score of Spain, and he has on several occasions intimated to his attendants, and likewise toothe Marquis Mary Del Val, theil venerable Spanish Ambassador to . the Vatican, that he felt that his hour bad come, and that Divine Providence would assuredly not permit him to live to witness the downfall of a Catholic nation so dear to his heart

TANTISM, and that a defeat of Spain will be considered in the light of A BLOW to the CATHOLIC CHURCH.

As pointed out to me today by a foreign diplomat accredited to the Vatipower in the world, not even Italy it- Roman Catholic church owns vast in a conclave, that is to say, the elecself, which from time immemorial has property. maintained such intimate relations with the papacy as Spain. The latter has always been the chief ally of the holy see in combatting the reformation, and, since the council of Trent, the theology, the !philosophy and the entire influence"of the papacy has been Spaniso rather than Roman. Moreover, the three [most influential members of the sacred college at the pres ent moment, namely, Cardinals Rampolla, Jacobini and Mocenni, have all spent long years as nuncios in Madrid, and are avowedly pro-Spanish, while the favorite prelate in attendance on the holy father and the one who enjoys to the greatest degree his confidence and affection, is Mgr. Merry Del Val. the son of the Spanish Ambassador here.

The pontiff thoroughly disapproved of the present Liberal cabinet in Spain and deplored the policy which it has pirsued, as well as the neglect of which its members have been guilty in making proper preparations for the conflict with the United States. Premier Sagasta has never stood well here, owing to the fact of his being the grand master of Freemasonry in Spain, while the Liberals, whenever in office, have incurred the animosity of the holy see by introducing reforms that were antagonistic to the church.

While the pontiff is not prepared to put forward any arguments on this score with regard to the Antilles where the church interests are relatively unimportant, he is doing so in the case of the Philippines, and there is no doubt that, were France or even Germany to secure from Spain a lease of the Philippines in return for an advance of the money needed to pay the war indemnity, which will doubtless by a transfer to them of the fiels by the

Unfriendly Mexicans.

Phoenix, Arizona, June 11 -The Republican of this city says there is a prospect of trouble between the Mexicans and Americans, at the towns of Clifter, Morenci and Metcalf. Those of the fief and is unable to retain control of towns, especially Morenci, have been the scenes of frequent disturbances for erative, and the dependencies REVERT years. The present threatened outbreak is said to be based on the sympathy of the Mexicans with Spain. The Mexican population of those mining camps has been recruited chiefly from Chihuahua, and is said to be made up of a class of citizens who found it necessary to leave the southern republic to save their skins.

Gov. McCord lately received a letter from Senor Maximo Gavito, the Mexican consul at Bisbee, describing the condition of affairs in Eastern Graham be exacted by the United States, the county, whereupon the governor wrote theoretical claim of either of these two the district attorney at that place, inleading powers might be strengthened closing a copy of the consul's letter and of his own reply to it, saying that similar copies had been sent to the town marshals at each of the above mentioned towns in Graham county, with the request that they use their best efforts toward preventing friction and asking that the district attorney co-op-

THE ARCHBISHOP

in One Lie, Told Another to Clear Himself.

The Archbishop Went "Out Like Tallow Dip, With a Sizz and a Very Bad Smell," When Dewey Sent Him His Own Signed Pastoral Letter.

Washington, D. C., June 1 .- An off cial with Admiral Dewey writes friend in the Navy Department that the Admiral astonished a high church official out there at Manila very much recently.

"The Bishop of Manila," so the le ter runs, "bad been circulating pastorals, urging his people to rise up and kill 'los hereticos' (the heathen Americans,) who would not permit the sacra ments of matrimony or the last rites for the dying to be administered. Dewey waited until he could fix some of these stories definitely upon the reverend Ananias, and then wrote him a note, in which the Admiral expressed his astonishment that an Archbishop could so far forget and debase his holy office as to be guilty of lying, and lying to basely. If he heard any more of these falsehoods from his reverence or any of the minor clergy, he, Dewey, would turn his guns loose upon the Archbishop's palace at Cavite and the cathedral at Manila, and level both to the ground. 'False teachers shall not disgrace the holy name they pretend to reverence by uttering the most absolute falsehoods in the name of God."

"A French priest, who has a brother that is a chaplain in the United States navy, undertook to carry the note to the Archbishop. In three days there came back a most at ject apology to the American commandant, in which the boly man denied that he had ever said, or thought the wicked things imputed to him. In rep'y, Dewey simply sent the Archbishop his own pastoral words and expressions the arch, on the islands for christian missionar-and political are beginning to have a President has received very strong representation upon the subject from religious bodies. The Protestant churches are taking a deep interest. Some anniversary gatherings have adopted me morials. Eminent ministers on their way to or from assemblies and cenferences have stopped in Washington and given their views to the administration and members of Congress. Religious reasons against the return of the Philippines to Spain are being advanced. The same influences are pressing the government to take and hold the Carolines and the Ladrones.

Methodist ministers, who are leaders in their denomination, to which the President belongs, have called on him to says that the moral sense of the nation will not submit to the restoration of Spanish rule in the Philippines. They declare the United States owes it to the Philippines to give them religious liberty. They argue that this nation has christian duties to perform, and that it will disregard its obligations if it suffers misrule and religious intolerance to resume full sway when it has been almost banished. These ministers talk with much feeling. Their convictions are very positive. It seems that they are backed by considerable sentiment of the same kind in the churches. If this religious argument regarding the Philippines is as widely entertained as it appears to be, it will figure in the determination of the government's course. The Protestant bodies make the point that missionary efforts to better the condition of the natives to civilize them have been prohibited in the Philippines by the influence of the Catholic orders with the Spanish authority.
