THE AMERICAN

SUBSCRIPTION BATES LOS FAVOR TO POSITION

PORDY C. THOMPSON, Batter CHARA NEE, NOV & 1808.

All the cardinates on the Republican ticket are Protestants.

of any friend of the public schools.

would address a thound ward club was placarded shortly after the reported arrival of a $6500 republican bordie member of the disreputable Resewater garg who are attempting to foist themselves upon the public through Repub-Hean particanship, they deserve to be robbed blind, and to have their liberties stelon from hem-

T. W. Blackburn was defeated as a candidate for county attorney because he has been a henchman and tool for Resewater. He is known to have expressed the opinion early in the campaign that the Republican county ticket would be defeated.

Special Attorney W. D. Beckett that if the county board attempted to stop them by an order of court.

line item to fill out this first column on the editorial page."

sick is always seasonable. Put it in pope-the "German Catholics." again."

The friends of E. S. Emmons will regret to learn that he met with a forts to hold the fair open next year, painful though not fatal accident by We hope they will not make the same being shot in the back in Indian territory. The bullet entered a lung and remains there. At last reports he was der the success of the enterprise. If improving, and he expects to return to the promoters of the scheme will see Omaha.

Catholics: J. E. Riley, Thos. Plyon, port. We would suggest also that the es Housh, John Liddle and Thos. Hostor. It is due both Mr. Riley and Mr. Hoctor that the statement be made that they have both displayed, on more than one occasion, their independence of the power of the church. Mr. Hoctor's opponent is a Protestant, but he is a man we cannot endorse, as he spends too much of his time in the salooss in his home towa. Were we in their district we should not vote for commissioner.

The record of Commissioner Kierstead in point of damage to the public, is so much like that of Frank E. Moores, that Kiers'end ought to arrange with Judges Keysor, Pawcett and Slabaugh for a public indersement. The Bee is a little more guarded than record, and that a few business men it was in the Moores case, but it is who know nothing of his record would nevertheless an imposition upon the people for a newspaper to indorse such a scandalous record as that of Commissigner Kierstead. It was to be expect. ed that the court house and contractors ring would do what it could to keep Kierstead in power, and acone will be Constantine J. Smyth, the Pasion ty government. candidate for Autorney General, is a member of the Roman Catholic church. He is also believed to be a member of vote the fusion legislative ticket. that terrible, bloody, organization, which is equivalent to saying that the the Society of Jesus, (known as Jesuite), whose mission is the destruction of existing governments, (the United States licket. A good many of the readers among the rest), by making them conform to the laws of the Roman Catholic church, which do not recognize any marriages as legal except those performed by a priest of that faith, thus regarding ALL Protestant wives as to this the opportunity which Kierimpure and their children as illegiti- stead has availed himself of to vote mates (see Quarterly Register, Vol. III., p. 89) which is the declaration of Plus VII reaffirmed by Leo XIII; and which laws deny to ALL Protestants the right to hold, transfer, or inherit property. Do you want to vote into office a man who belongs to an outfit that endorses such treasonable doctrines? Vote for Jackson.

WHERE WE STAND

You want to know whose the American stands in this campaign? It stands firmits against every man who has been unfaithful to the people who elected him or whom he is said to supresent; it is against C. J. Smich. John Liddell, Tom Firms, and James Roach, because it betteres they are Roman Catholics first and citizens aftorward. It neither endorses nor condomas Thos. Hector or Jan. R. Ribey. because although nominally Roman Catholics, they are the equals, if not the superiors, of the men against Oce. Iroy should not receive the vote whom they are pitted. It apposes W. I. Kierstend, because he has been a tool of Hosewater and permitted the The announcement that Hosewattr countr to be robbed; it opposees G. R. Williams for the same reason. It leaves the vote of Hitchcock and Mercer in the hands of the people of this district, and they can be trusted not to make a mistake. The republican state ticket, barring Mr. Williams, If the people do not clean out every should receive the support of every reader of this paper, as should also the school board ticket, with the exception of Mr. Irev.

Emperor William has reached Jerusalem, and a dispatch from that city, dated October 31, states that he "proceeded to Mount Zion today, where occurred the ceremony of hoisting the German and Turkish flags on a piece of ground which according to tradition, was formerly occupied by the abode of the Virgin Mary, and which the sultan presented to the German emperor. The latter subsequently FORMALLY PRESENTED GROUND TO THE GERMAN CATH-OLICS." This fulfills the following section of Daniel's prophecy: "AND should explain what he meaut when he HE SHALL PLANT THE TABERsaid that he represented the tax payers NACLES OF HIS PALACE REand not the county commissioners, and TWEEN THE SEAS IN THE GLOR-10US MOUNTAIN; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him." allow the outlawed claims he would That Scripture, according to our reading, and its connection, refers to the papal power. Webster says a taber-Foreman of daily paper to Managing nacle is a "temporary habitation; es-Editor: "We need about a five or six pectally a tent." It is not at all improbable that William set up a tent or had already built a temporary house of boards over which the flags Maraging Editor: "That item you were unfurled, and within which are used Monday about the pope being housed the representatives of the

The friends of the Trans-Mississippi enterprise are making strenuous ef-The partiality shown in the employment of help has done much to hinto it that protestant Americans receive equal favor with Roman Catholics this These fusion candidates are Roman paper can give it its unqualified supliberally with. The management will find that it pays to favor them if they would make it a success.

> At the last meeting of the fire and police board W. W. Cox was appointed a captain on the police force to succeed Moystin, discharged, and Frank Urban was transferred from the fire department to the police force. Oscar Karbach, also at this meeting, was appointed assistant secretary to the chief of police. It is announced that other changes are soon to take place.

> Voters should not be deceived by Bitty Kierstead's so-called inflores ments of business men. It was to be expected that the men who profited by the allowance of $100,000 of outlawed Douglas Addition claims would secure for him an indorsement of his be wheedled into endorsing him.

When Kierstead meets a democrat he tells him how much he has done for the democratic party by way of political appointments in the tax department. When he talks to a republican meeting he appeals to the partisanship of his hearers by advising influenced by anything they may say- them to re-elect him so that republicans can continue to control the coun-

The World dierald says the only way to vote for Benator Allen is to only way to vote against Senator Alien and in favor of John L. Webster of that paper are friends of John L. Webster.

Billy Kierstead and two members of his family have been kept on the county pay roll for a long time. Add money on outlawed claims to himself and friends, he has had his share of Islands; and secondly, they have to public pap and has earned a retire-

That Rosewater will deliberately lie is generally believed; that he did lie in the city campaign which resulted Ocean. And these two things-suin putting defaulter Moores into the premacy in the Carribean and the Mexoffice of mayor is now a judicially es- lean Gulf and the maintenance of an tablished fact. Then why should his effective influence in the Pacific-are indecrement or condensation amount as cloudy connected that both together to surthing?

Our friends will make no mistake time to come.-Pall Mall Garette. a voting for John P. Hella la place of G G levy as a member of the binard of education. Mr. Helin is a loudness man of experience and the interests of the schools will be safe in his hands. The American heartity endorses Mr. Helin.

It is said that Hosewater will endors : Tom Fiyns and J. E. Kroupa imbead of Walker and Koutsky. Probably the only reason for his doing so can be found in the fact that they can got the Roman Cat unlis vote.

It is reported that ex-Mayor Moores has announced his purpose of "knifing" some half dozen men on the republican ticket. The public indorsement of either Moores or Rosewater to enough to politically cripple any candidate on either ticket.

One of our friends assures us that Mr. John L. Neble is a protestant-one of the publishers of the Danish Pioneer. We never know a Dane to be a Roman Catholic.

pers have been issued twice in succession without any reference being made to the popo-

Something is wrong. The daily pa-

A public office is not a one-family institution. There are a few other families to be considered.

The election occurs next Tuesday,

The people can be trusted to choose the best men. We are done with Romanist John J. Coppinger. He has been retired.

Saturday, November 5, is the last day for registration.

THE UNITED STATES AS A PA CIFIC POWER.

ternational isolation was formed by

Washington in his farewell address, and has come down to us indorsed by a long line of great statesmen. It is a rule that could hardly have been more closely adhered to if it were in the constitution itself. There are many cases in which laxity cannot be excused by an appeal to this time-honored rule. If in Turkey we can protect our missionaries by making a temporary alliance. The rule has been outgrown by our natural development and expansion. Washington said that the time might come when we might take part in European affairs. We are have nothing else to offer; that we newspapers of the country be dealt port our blustering words, and consepolicy of isolation, left with no friends among the nations of the that the United States should inter-ion, then the cry of "jingo" goes up, and all we do is to somewhat tardily tender our "moral support." Is that the position for a great nation to take? and admire us; we must do something notice. There is no man in America whose opinions have had more weight with the thinking portion of the American gist, Captain Mahan. If this able and suggestive writer has had a profound influence upon our own views, not merely of naval strategy but of international relations, he has naturally been even more effective with his own countrymen. No one who has studied the pages of Captain Mahan's books with any attention can have failed to see that the drift of his teaching is to urge upon the United States the paramount necessity of equipping itself with a strong pavy and a sufficient military establishment, in order to play Its part in that new sphere on which be foresees that the country will be bound to enter. It is extremely significant and interesting that the regions marked out by the captain as the special points for the display of American activity are those where the sailors and soldiers of the United States have been hard at work for the last few months. At any time during the last seven or eight years Captain Mahan has been endeavoring to impress upon his countrymen that the future has in store for them two gigantic responsibilities. In the first place, they have to exercise a controlling and paramount influence in that enclave of blue water which washes the shores of North, South and Central America and the West Indian realize that they must bear a large part, if not the largest part, in the struggle for the economic, military, and political development of the continents and islands of the Pacific are likely to determine the character of American foreign policy for some

BUDBOY TUTLER VIEWS The Catholic Citizen of October 13th one a prominent article promining

Archidshop Keaste's views as to what this government should do as to the Philippines. He has returned from an extended European tour to meet with the board of directors of the Catholic university at Washington who ent him on this mission, as its real object is not revealed. Why this government shall care to know that the Pope of Rome "is deeply concerned regarding the Church in annexed territories can only be explained by Catholic pricate. The archbishop was sent by some power and freely says that he found popular sentiment in France and Italy strongly against the United States and in favor of Spain. This is refreshing! The archbishop, had he read the newspapers, could have learned that without an extended

Perhaps no minion of the Church stands higher, or is more implicitly trusted than Kenne. Whoever sent him on this journey to Europe; sent him for the purpose of influencing this government. He represents the vote of the Catholic Church, which he boastingly says is ten millions strong in the United States. With soft phrases, he says:

"Serious apprehensions are naturally entertained lest America, in reorganizing her new possessions, should be too arrogantly oblivious of vested rights and time-honored privfleges there existing, and of the disastrons and far-reaching consequences to which disregard of them would lead. In Rome concern of this kind, as might be expected, is especially felt as to the rights and privileges possessed for generations and even for centuries by the clergy.

A sweeping and immediate applieation of our American system, cutting the very ground from beneath the missions, would nearly everywhere imperil religion and civilization, and would, in certain places, be equivalent to a second confiscation. Our country is the last in the world to ignore such considerations, and although the solution to be desired is not clear in its details, it is hoped It is the priest more than the Spanish government that is responsible for the wretchedness and poverty of always offering our moral support, rule that is responsible for the degrauntil the nations of the earth think we dation, cruelty and ignorance of Spain successful here. A vast revenue came itself. That country felt the power are mere swaggerers, who cannot sup- of the Inquisition in its full force and garded the Philippines as the choicest poured out on the recking alters. and every man and woman who dared lap. globe. . . No foreign question arises Church, was doomed to the rack, the American representatives he advises nowadays, but as soon as it is hinted fagots of flames or the festering dua- this government to forbear and leave gepn. Civilization indeed! On these fere and play its part in a manly fash- islands owned by the priests who on the throat of the people satiating have the poor natives reduced to a state far worse than slavery, for it is advice, most unselfishly given! slavery not only of body but of spirit, these priests in their infernal flendish-It is not enough for us to pose and ness revived the tortures of the inqui to call upon the world to look upon us sition, and hundreds of the insurgent natives, whom the great archto justify our claims to be worthy of bishop claims his Church has conhave shrunk from!

True Rome has possessed the right Church has been swelled by the bloody sweat of the tolling people. helpless, hopeless against her blast ing selfishness because supported and maintained by Spanish rifles. "Our country," says this oily tongued Irishman. If there is possible a Protestant country this is one. Every principle fundamental in our Constitution is in defiance of Catholicism. Had the Pope the power this free republic would not exist a day. It is a loved country now for the one reason that it allows the Catholic marplot to enjoy its magnificent priv-Heges, and concoct his schemes undisturbed for its overthrow.

The real animus of this Catholic interference may be read between the lines of the considered phrases of the Archbishop, and is clearly stated by the Rev. P. A. Boyle as reported in the same number of the Catholic Citizen.

Says this arrogant mouthpiece of the Pope: "Were I in authority I would persuade every Protestant minister to stay away from Manila. I would select the most thorough Americans among the Catholic priests of the country an establish an entente cordiale between them and the civil authorities. I would appoint as governor-general a broad-minded military man-one who understands the inner workings of the Catholic religion. He need not be a Catholic, but he should have no antipathies against the Church, and should strive to gain the instical authorities."

Dayle or any other priest had thorns," there would not be a Prominister alive tomorrow morning. The authorites? the anothing battlefields, the million cries from gibbett, scaffold and nameless torture, tell us what has been and would be the fate of Protestanton and Irvedom of thought.

What is the meaning of this brazen interference of the Catholic Church is affaire strictly political? No other religious denomination has considered it a duty to send a representative to Europe to find out how the people there regarded us. None other has had the audacity to advise the government. The Protestant sects might do so with better grace than the Catholic which has been a curse to the fair islands the strong hand of the government has saved. One not blind can see that Rome has not repudiated the principle that she has maintained from the beginning, that all temporal power is derived from God through the head of the Church, and no government has the right to exist without her sanction. The only government a Catholic can consistently serve. the one to which he is a sworn slave to put all other duties aside for its least command, is that of which the Pope is head. His talk of allegiance to any other is deceptive because it is impossible.

A governor-general, such as the 'Holy Father" desires, would be to every intent and purpose a Catholic, in fact would never receive the appointment unless he was known to be an adherent of Rome. He must have that superlative quality of gaining the "sympathetic adherence of the ecclesiastical. Now in the outspoken opintion, of all the qualifications this one he should not have. The governorastical tripe who have made those Catholic religion shall not be a curse

In all history there is no example for the principles involved, will lead State for the purpose of enslaving to wise and satisfactory conclusions," and dispoiling the people as in the fair Isles of the Pacific. The priest and the soldler, the bishop and the tax collector walked hand in hand. the Philippines. It is the Catholic It is an illustration of what has been the church's efforts in all lands, most to the Church from it. The Pope refor centuries its most noble blood of his jewels because of the steady attento of revenue it noured into hi-No wonder he is disturbed at dissent from the decrees of the Holy the prospect of its loss. Through his the old tiger of despotism fastened with their life's blood! Most holy

We cannot believe our government has anything to do with this matter. Archbishop Keane was not sent by its desire. We prefer to think that the constant effort that has been made to influence the governing power has verted and civilized, were subjected spread directly from the innate arrato torturing such as an Apache would gance of Rome in her belief that the world belongs to her, and no one else have any rights she is bound to repeople than the distinguished strate; to tax the poor Philippines to the last spect, and further that to gain her farthing, and the vast revenue of that ends, no means, however despicable, are to be discarded.

HUDSON TUTTLE.

POPERY AND TRELAND.

Popery has ever been the curse of Ireland. That assertion will be received with derision by the ignorant, but those who have read history will see in it a plain statement of fact, backed by overwhelming evidence, The Irish people have been taught by paid agitators to consider the English as their most inveterate enemies, but have they been told that it was a pope who sanctioned the invasion of the Emerald Isle by Henry II., King of England? J. R. Green, Short History of the English People, 1876 edition, chap, vil., devotes several paragraphs to the relationship of England toward would refer our readers.

Adrian (or Hadrian) IV., the only Englishman who has occupied the papal chair, began to reign December 3, he issued a very remarkable document one which Roman Catholic controversalists never willingly allude to in public. We do not, we cannot, blame them for so acting, because the said grened by fraud." documents shows how Romanists acted towards each other in the good old deria, "Constitutiones," 1, p. 15, and Press Agency. is as follows:-"Hadrian, the bishopthe servant of the servants of Godsends health and apostolic benediction to his most dear son in Christ, the il-Iustrious king of the Angli. Your magnificence employs your thoughts wards rob. sympathetic adherence of the eccles- very meritoriously and happily in spreading a glorious name over the earth, and laying up a reward of shor leter to stay away from Manila is a nal happiness in heaven. For you, like obvasant way of stating the matter a Catholic Prince, proceed to extend Every one well known that if Father the boundaries of the Church—to make known the truth of the Christian Inch. to ignorant and savage tribes-to pinck up the seed plants of evil from the sull of the Lord; and to accomplish your purpose more properly you week the counsel and favor of the Apostolic (Just so!) In this undertaking we are confident that with the favour of the Lord you will make more successful progress in proportion as you proceed with higher purpose, and greater discretion; and our confidence is grounded in this, that all designs which have taken their beginnings in ardour for the faith and love of religion, generally attain a happy result and termination. [Hadrian wrote before the time of Armada; he lived in 1588, he would have begun to think that the fortunes of the Papacy had taken a turn for the worse. Spain was then at the senith of its glory. What is it now??

"Truly it is no matter of doubt that Ireland and all the islands upon which Christ, the sun of fustice, bath shone, and which have received the evidence of that Christian faith, belong to the dominion of St. Peter, and the holy Roman Church, wherefore the more willingly do we plant among them a faithful shoot and seedling of the faith inasmuch as we foresee that it must be watched over steadily by us within that country. [How ungrateful to St. Patrick and his co-labourers! And what arrogance on the part of the pope!]

"You have signified, indeed, to us, most dear son in Christ, that you wished to enter the Island of Ireland, in order to subdue that people to the laws [what laws?], and to pluck out the shoots of evil; and that you wished to pay to St. Peter for each house an ion of the Protestant press of the na- that is the essential point, money. annual tax of one penny [for Hadrian money!], and maintain the rights of the churches of that land unassailed general of the Philippines should have and inviolate. We, therefore, attendthe courage to say to all the ecclesi- ing your pious and laudable purpose with a suitable approval, and bestowfair islands a hell to the people for ing a benign assent upon your recenturies, that their evil rule has quest [Henry, observe, desirous of come to an end, and henceforth the robbing the land from the Irish, applies to Rome for permission to do so, and a means of oppression even to which is readily granted], declare it starvation, but the rights of all shall agreeable to the end approved by as be respected and freedom guaranteed, that you should invade that island for the sake of extending the boundaries that a due regard for these facts, and of such complete union of Church and of the Church, of restraining the course of vice, of reforming morals and implanting virtues (so the Irish were not perfect in 1154], for the increase of the Christian religion; that you should carry out what concerns the honour of God and His salvation; that the people of that island should with honour and reverence receive you as Lord, saving, nevertheless, in perpetuity the inviolate and untouched rights of the churches, and saving to St. Peter [in other words, the Popes and their nephews!, and the holy Roman See the annual payment of one penny for every house [the Pope had an eye to business! I

"If, therefore, the design which you have conceived you shall have determined to carry out with corresponding results take care to train that nation in good morals, and endeavor that the Church there shall give honour as well through you as through those whom you shall have judged suited to this end from their faith, language, and mode of life, that the religion of the Christian faith should be introduced there and spread ["introduced"] We are under the impression that as early as 640 (or thereabouts) Ireland was converted to Christianity. How, then, could the Christian religion be "introduced" in 1154?1, and that all which relates to the honour of Go1 and the salvation of souls should be so arranged that you may be able to obtain from God the crown of an eternal reward, and to receive a glor-lous name upon the earth." There is just one point which must not be overlooked-that is, that the claim of the Popes to the islands of the world, referred to above, depended upon the forged donation of Constantine. (See The Pope and the Council, by "Janus" (Dr. Von Dollinger), p.

It was the late Father A. Gratry, of the French Oratory, and Member of the French Academy, who, in his Second Letter to Monseigneur Dechamps (J. T. Hayes), p. 46, asked his Ireland; to which full account we superior, in reference to the forgeries to commodity in which the Church of Rome has dealt extensively), "Do you know, Monseigneur, in the history of the human mind, any question, 1154. In the first year of his short theological, philosophical, historical, or otherwise, which has been so disgraced by falsehood, bad faith, as the whole work of the forgers? I say again, it is a question utterly gan-

No Protestant could possibly use stronger language than that.-By A. times. It is copied from Rymer, Fae- Le Lievre, Secretary of the Protestant

> When the forces of patriotism are divided treason comes out ahead.

> If Rome does a charitable act it to to gain favor with those she can after-

Truth may be put in the grave, but it won't stay there.