MY MY SINCE TEXTER FOR THE PRO-SHOWING THEARTS.

CHAPTER IL The next some in this story is laid in the partor of the residence of the Joslyn's, situated on a fashionable street in san Algero. The reader must be conten! If the name of the street is not given, for to do so would reveal too much of the personelle of the narrative, which rests on facts, and can be vouched for by living witnesses. Mr. Joslyn had been among the earliest pioneers in the goldenstate, coming over the plains with an ox team, with his wife and household goods. He worked in the placer mines, getting something ahead, and then invested in hydraulic mining, where he gained more, and later he changed his occupation to that of merchant. Such a change is always accompanied with great risk, for habits are formed, and the connections and adaptations, the acquaintanceship and inner ways of the new business are all to be acquired. But Mr. Joslyn secured an able partner, and, as in everything else, he was successful, and the firm became a leading wholesale and retail dry goods house of the city. His wife had contributed largely to his success, for she had been a steady support, bearing adversity and prosperity with equal bravery. They both felt the deficiency of an early education and resolved that their child should have every advantage. As the only child she received their undivided love, which came near adoration. Zelda was born on the plains, during the memorable overland journey, when the unwieldly canvas wagon was their home. They rested for two days, the horizon meeting the expanse of grey sage and brown grass, except where the Sierras stretched like a line of clouds against the sky. What a responsibility was the wee babe on that wearisome journey, in the heat and exposure, and absence of all the comforts of civilized life! Yet she throve well in that free air, and grew strong, and in the restrained atmesphere of the city retained the impetus received in the beginning. A great burden; but how one's strength grows with such burdens! The man is not a true man, or woman a true woman, until fatherhood and motherhood. The child, the blended product of their came from continuous contact with sobeing, calls with a voice which is irresistible for their best, most earnest efforts. Love itself has not drank its complexion olive, her hair and eyes LaFarge. "There is a teacher on the goblet of nectar until its smile is re- dark; her mouth drawn back slightly at harp, a most finished player, the Sister flected by its incarnation. When in the the corners, compressing her thin lips Magdalene, with a voice like an angel states, Mrs. Joslyn had been an active member of the Congregational church and teacher in the Sunday school. Mr. Joslyn was outside the church, and what might be called a free-thinker. He, however, did not interfere with his wife, or in the training of their child, seemingly contradictory characteristics who grew up into a beautiful maiden, beloved by a wide circle of friends, and made her zealous in the cause she beloved by a wide circle of friends, and thought right, unscrupulous as to new term, commencing in about a of Columbus their own. It is hardly the life of the social gatherings where means; a jesuit to every intent and pur- month, Zelda shall enter the seminary she chanced to be. She was earnestly pose in her sphere of activity.

Her hair was a dark brown, her eyes s dark blue, large and expressive of I think others deserved them quite as friend, bend low and whisper a warning every emotion; a mouth sweet, with the | well as I." corners drawn slightly up into a dimpled smile. Altogether her face was not beautiful, but became exceedingly so because of its expressiveness; it was as finish your school days?" She asked tual overtakes us. mobile as the surface of a lake, reflecting every passing cloud or gleam of light and shadow. She was strong in her feelings, and firm in her conscientious zeal, which gave her strength of char- which gives sufficiently wide range of scter and at the same itme proved her studies. I am thinking of sending her Pilot contains an interview between greatest weakness and source of danger.

religious, inheriting her zeal, as her

ancestors, and his mild remonstrance

Thus introduced to the family, we may give attention to the residence. It is not externally different from the long blocks of buildings of which it forms a part. There are bronze railings at the side of the stone steps, while those on either side are iron, and this, aside from the number, is the only distinction. The parlor is exquisitely appointed. There are paintings by the old masters, and by renowned modern artists, cast bronze statutes, antique cabinets of bric-a-brae, and by the piano, resting its foot on a tiger's skin, a large harp. The very atmosphere has a breadth of refinement and culture. A lady is sitting in an easy chair, reading the morning paper. Time has dealt generously with her, and only ripened the promises of her youth. The lines trouble, pain, care and anxiety cause deeply in the face, were not there, but a happy smile of contentment and satisfaction. There were sounds of a voice singing low and grasingly; the door opened and a young lady entered. "Alone, dear mamma? You give a great deal of time that ought to be mine

to the newspaper."
"Ah! Zelda, you forget how much time I do give you, and as for the papers, I think it the duty of every person to read the news of the day and keep well informed. The newspaper is the mirror in which one sees reflected all the thoughts and events of the hour. To read the daily paper understandingly is to become well-informed." "Well, so papa says, and it must be so. Just talking about you, papa," she exclaimed, as Mr. Joslyn entered. 'Mamma is becoming a profound scholar by reading the newspapers!"

"You exaggerate, Zelda. I said we

a understand the exects of our time."

"Why not have a vises to school and saled the enthusiastic girl.

"The plan has been proposed," said her father; "but the papers at present are not edited for each use. They are prepared to please a volgar, coarse be contaminated by the horrible accounts of crime they admit. I hope some day to see the daily paper edited whacker and primering." Mr. Joslyn Bearing said this with strong emphasis. He who had given every energy to the lies." great undertakings of commerce, and of wife and child, whereby he had been had not grown hard and cold by business given usy" contact, but full of youthful generosity showed what a depth of devotion was in | despised. his love for her, mingled with a father's Æolian's strings.

"You would make a pretty picture, my daughter," he exclaimed. "If there were a painter in the city who could at all approach a perfect delineation, he might fix his own price on his work."

teacher in painting, proposed this very thing to me."

"He is not a great artist, and none other need make the attempt,"

"Oh! no, he is young, but he has remarkable skill, and if he succeeds it will assist him to be recognized."

"Well, arrange with him, and state success. If the picture is not like you, I'll not have it. I detest caricatures, and especially would I one of you,"

Here the servant announced a visitor -Mrs. LaFarge. The lady who entered moves a load from my heart." was tall, with erect and faultless bearing, a self-possession and ease which clety. Her face was a perfect oval that over her white, perfect teeth. Her face from heaven." was a study, so perfect in its parts, and yet not beautiful. She was magnetic for me," replied Zelda, for the first time and attractive, never intrusive, ap- manifesting interest. "To become prothe slightest shade of feeling. Her would indeed be delightful."

father jokingly said, from her pious Farge, turning to Zelda, said: "I hear were advised by a friend, at the time charming reports of you, my dear girl; they were influenced by an interested and cogent argument were alike un- how you easily won first honors in your availing to turn the course of her class and the prize in the school con- daughter and bring ruin and desolation test."

"Do not disparage yourself, dear girl. blandly.

"Oh! I hope not! I have only begun." "The fact is," said Mr. Joslyn, "there is no academy or college in this city east, to the states, where she can attend one of the long-established col-

"We are exceedingly anxious that she should continue her education, for she Roman authorities, both at the vatican gives such promise of high attainments," said Mrs. Joslyn, "much as it determined to maintain the hierarchial would pain us to have her absent, and unity of the church in America and to the great distance that would be be- allow no effort to be made in the name desire to have her go on, or at your solicitude for her. It is quite unnecessary for you to send her to the states for a higher education."

"It is quite unobtainable on this coast," replied Mr. Joslyn. but since the opening of the seminary of the Sacred Heart, every advantage is from one another as language, ideas lecture in Omaha, Thursday evening, afforded which can be by any institution and customs can make them, Many of April 7th, at the First M. E. church, of learning."

hesitatingly. prejudice at first, but wishing to give statements most false about the church in giant for the right in intellect and my own daughter superior advantages. America and the bishops of America, who morals. Buy tickets at THE AMERICAN I examined the school, and for the past are supposed to be at all times tinged with office, or after April 5th at Max Meyer month she has been attending, and is a patriotic American feeling. I am sorry Bros. & Co. delighted. It is so secluded. The to say that most of the articles written thoughts of the world which fill the in this spirit appear as correspondence minds of young girls are cast out. The from America, and manifestly are such, dead unborn infants is not the religion mind and body are disciplined as no as evidence the local coloring given to of the Bible. This heathenish custom where else. It seems to me that the the misrepresentations contained in has been practised here in Springfield graduates have a refinement and grace them. A short time ago at a general within the last three years, so we

that is not compalmory.

"I have taught my daughter to think have so reason whatever to put trust in read the morning paper for an hour?" [for horself, and now, while my work is his movements; his virulence I may not finished, it would be the one great say showing itself particularly in opmisfortune of my life if she should be postition to the bishops of the New turned aside."

"Oh! you need have no fear of any influence being exerted to alienate her taste, and the minds of children would from you. The love of children for their parents is enforced by the church as a cardinal virtue," softly spoke the visitor.

"What say you, Zelday" asked her in the cause of intelligence and culture, father. "Do you wish to sip wisdom and not to please the political boshs from this proffered cup of the Catho-

"You know best, papa; but let us not stood by the side of his wife's chair, a be hasty. Perhaps it is prejudice; we type of the strong man of business; one have heard so much against the Catho-

"My acquaintance with the members retained the warmth of home, the love of that church," softly said the visitor, "has been invaluable in removing my kept nearer to humanity with unabated prejudice. I have found them such excharity and benevolence. His modulated emplary christian people, and if we are voice and kindly face showed that he good, what matters it what name is

As with all !!beral-minded people, the and interest in these around him. He Joslyns were weak to the charge of turned to Zelda, and his expression prejudice, which was a quality they

"You will form delightful acquaintpride. She had scated herself on an ances, my dear Zelda. There are now as those sung by the wind on an cation in the best schools of Europe. You will, I am sure, be delighted."

It must be confessed that the one point of advantage, seclusion, surpassed all others combined in the mind of Mr. Joslyn. He had a father's anxiety, not to say jealousy, about the future of his "How fortunate, for Mr. Kensett, my daughter, and knowing that if she re- yielding bigotry, and their pointless more safely trusted to choose for herself, it struck him as highly advantageous to have her in a school where this disturbing element was excluded. Hence he quickly determined, and rethat his reward depends entirely on his sible, to attend the seminary of the Sacred Heart. The mother was influenced by other motives.

"It will leave you with us," she said to her daughter, "and that alone re-

"Well, dear mamma, anything to make you happy," laughingly said the loving girl.

"You will find one attraction, my

"Indeed, that would be an attraction parently retiring and sympathetic to ficient on my harp, and in vocal music, of the Sacred Heart. How blind are After the usual salutations, Mrs. La- human eyes! The Joslyns thought they spy, whose object was to steal away ther to that bright home! Why did not "It is true I gained these honors, but some kind angel, some dear departed word?

If we cannot avert the decrees of fate, We get none too many honors, any of us. it is well we know not the future nor You deserve the prize. And does this feel the shadow of evil, before the ac-

(To be Continued.)

Archbishop Ireland Defends the Catholic Church.

BOSTON, MASS., March 16 .- The Archbishop Ireland and its correspondent in Rome, from which this important passage is extracted:

"I am glad to be able to say that the and the propaganda, declare themselves of religion toward retarding the as-"Zelda has already acquired a ruputa- similation of the different populations tion for scholarship," interposed Mrs. in America and encouraging the politi-LaFarge, "and I do not wonder at your cal and social unification of all the citizens of the land. But, strange to say, this determination of Rome does not any Engineers will give a ball in Washprevent constant renewal of efforts to ington hall, April 18. The proceeds defeat this end. There are people in are to be given to the various charitable America and Europe who are under the institutions in the city. A pleasant time positive belief that the country is a is to be expected. Tickets only $1.00. "I admit it has been until recently, wild Congo, to be partitioned off into so many foreign colonies as distinct Hearning."

the European Catholic papers are onto on the subject, "Jesuit Aggression in listed to the movement. The Catholic America." He is one of the most 23 Main St., COUNCIL BLUFPS, IA. papers of Germany are today a veritable powerful thinkers of the day, known "Yes, it is Catholic, and I had my curiosity, teeming week after week with throughout Europe and America, a of culture given by no other institution." Catholic international congress at are reliably informed. -Protestant "It is a long way from my agnosticism Liege, Belgium, two gentlemen apto Catholicism," replied Mr. Joslyn, peared, Mr. Peter Cahensly and Rev.

ONVENT OF THE SACRED HEART, cought to road the newspapers in order expected to attend peacers, but even somewhat in its proportions. Here Mr. Villantuve is at present in Rome and I Engrand states," manea The story of the discovery of Ameriea contains to ender passage than that search for a new continent, had turned to Spain. He quickly gained the ear of Fordinand and Isabella, although they were then occupied with a war with Morocco. Through the influence of Salnguage can Salnguage. Fermando de Talavera, who had presonted Columbus to the king, a council of the most learned ecclesiastics was called, before whom Columbus was to lay his plans, and who were to determine on their practicability.

Columbus Before the Doctors of Sala-

On the other hand was the learning of all the libraries; the crystalization of all the knowledge of the past; the pomp, pride and authority of the church in the height of its power. On the iner steeped in the traditions of a continent far outlying the Pillars of Herottoman and taken up her harp. Her over a hundred young ladies of your age cules, who had listened and gathered fingers glided, though unconsciously, in attendance. Such sweet ladies for up the stories of unknown shores from over the strings, making chords as weird teachers, ladies who received their edu- castaway sailors, and for whom the new knowledge of the rotoundity of the earth, and such familiar things as winds and tides and floating drift, had a significance which to the proud clerics was foolishness and presumption.

We can imagine their dull pedantry, their pragmatical questions, their unmained heart whole until she had completed her education, she might be while Columbus waited, heart-sore and weary, sustained alone by the continued friendship of the king and queen. At length, spurred to decision, the ecclesiastics brought in their verdict-"Vain and unpracticable, and resting on solved to persuade his daughter, if pos- grounds too weak to merit the support of the government."

It was meant to be crushing. The conclave dissolved, the doctors passed out, and Columbus was left to the Gethsemane through which all lonely souls. isolated by the greatness of their ideas, must pass. At such a moment the pride of learning, the senile wit, and the priestly arrogance could add no additional pang. As Columbus sits there, would have delighted an artist; her dear, I have not mentioned," said Mrs. at his feet the discarded maps, it is not the triumphant priests nor the sculptured magnificence of the halls of Salamanca that he sees, but a vast continent fading before his strained eyes.

We all know how the story ended. On his way to France to lay his cause before the king, he met the largehearted, open-minded friar Juan Perez, who persuaded him to go back and renew his plea before Ferdinand and And thus it was arranged before the Isabella. He did so, aided by Perez, sible at this day to realize the nobility of soul and steadfast devotion to a great idea that lifted these four above the haughty dominion of the church and the polished sneers of the wise. But its great results we know and its fruition has been ours .- Harper's Bazaar.

> Take Union Pacific No. 5 For Denver. Why?

> Because it is a solid vestibuled train composed of Pullman Palace Sleepers, Pullman Dining Cars, Free Reclining Chair Cars and Modern Day Coaches. Because it makes fast time.

> Because it leaves at 10:00 A. M. a convenient time for starting.

> You can get your tickets and make your sleeping car reservations at 1302 Farnam street, Harry P. Deuel, City Passenger Agent U. P. system.

Another American.

Mrs. H. E. Ledyard presented her husband with an 11+ pound son last Monday morning, March 28, 1892. Both the young American and his mother are doing nicely, and the father will be able to resume his place in the business world in a few days.

A Charity Ball.

The National Association of Station-

Rev. Joseph Cook, of Boston, will

A religion whose priests baptize American.

"but a term cannot harm my daughter.
I did not know before of this school.
There are no attempts to force religion on the pupils?"

"Oh! no, not the least. The pupil is

We'll take back any sack of flour bought at our store which does not give satisfaction in every particular. This guarantee plan, together with the fact that we sell flour for less money than any other dealer dare, has built up for us, which the engraving portrays. Colum-tos, failing to enlist Portugal in the flour (which is the equal of any on earth, no matter where manufactured) and search for a new continent, had turned Salmon, can.

Comdensed tallk, can
String beans, can.
Lina beans, can.
Succotash, can
Wax beans, can.
Pumpkins, can Pens, can
25 bars B. B. scap
1-B package corn starch
3-lb sack salt

The Axie great

The Peoples Peerless Purveyors.

W. R. BENNETT CO., 1508 TO 1514 CAPITOL AVE.

other hand was a simple Genoese mar- THE B. H. OSTERHOUDT SPRING WAGON MANUFACTURING COMPANY INCORPORATED.

No. of Size of Lgth of Wdth of Capa-Price Wagon. Axle. Hody. Body, Inch. city. 2 1½ 7 ft. 6 ln. 40 800 845 3 1½ 7 ft. 9 ln. 40 1000 100 4 1½ 8 ft. 9 ln. 40 1500 125 5 1½ 8 ft. 6 ln. 40 to 44 2000 140 Above prices are cert

For Style, Quality and Price, we will not be outdone ALL WORK WARRANTED. 1801-1803 Cass St., OMAHA, NEB. Telephone 1657.

MOVING EXPRESS.

When you desire to change your place of residence and want your furniture moved without being broken or scratched, look for my wagons

NUMBERS BERS 77, AND 207, and you won't think two moves equal to a fire.

I. GARD. Fourteenth and Douglas Street.

OMAHA MILLING CO .. 1313 NORTH 16TH STREET, . . Only Flour Manufacturers in Omaha . . Our Leading Brand RELIANCE PATENT, is Unexcelled.

OTHER BRANDS : :

INVINCIBLE PATENT, LONE STAR SUPELATIVE SNOW FLAKE, FANCY FAMILY.

C. G. AHLQUIST.

— DEALER IN — Tinware, Cutlery, NAILS ETC. ETC.

Guttering. Spouting and Roofing a Specialty.

1302 Saunders Street or North 24th Street.

OFFICE:—S. W. Cor. 16th and Howard streets, Tel. 1664 YARD:—20th street and Poppleton avenue. Tel. 1222 HALD

Rock Springs, Ohio, Walnut Block, Hard Coal, Wood Kindling and Coke.

Council Bluffs Advertisemennts.

EVERYTHING IN THE-BOOT & SHOE LINE,

AT LOWEST PRICES. If you will call I will make it profita-ble and pleasant. A trial will convince you. Repairing a Specialty.

L. KINNEHAN, 820 Broadway. - COUNCIL BLUFFS. IA

Lund Bros., DEALERS IN

CROCKERY, GLASSWARE. Table Cutlery, Silverware,

and a full assortment of %LAMPS.條

Freight via the F. E. & M. V. and S. C. & P. RAILROADS.

H. G. BURT, General Manager. K. C. MOREHOUSE, J. R. BUCHANAN, Gen. Freght Agt. Gen. Pass. Agt. Omaha, Nebraska.

Do you want to borrow money? Apply to the Mutual Investment Co. 1504 Farnam St.

TELEPHONE 677

H. L. BURKET N. E. Cor. 24th and Cuming, Funeral Director and Embalmer. First Door N Citizens Bank

DR. J. W. SEARCH

402 N. Sixteenth St.

TELEPHONE 416. OFFICE HOURS-10 to 12, 8 to 5, 7 to 8

Eat Your DINNER at the

W.C. T.U. Coffee • Rooms,

121 No. 15th Street.

WRE I C DENISE . PRESIDE

WEST & FRITSCHER. Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Fine Cigars 1605 FARNAM ST. -t- Our Good and Prices will suit you. -t-

