

ANOTHER CLERICAL SWINDLER.

A Polish Priest Beats a Fellow Countryman Out of $3,200.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 22.—John Kramer has begun suit in the circuit court against Priest John Mazurkewski to secure the annulment of a deed in property in the Nineteenth ward. The plaintiff alleges that in 1890 his wife was arrested on a charge of larceny, when the defendant, who is a Polish priest, and an uncle to plaintiff's wife, represented to him that he would lose his property as a result of her arrest, unless he put it out of his hands for the time. Under these influences, Kramer alleges that he deeded his property, with $3,200, to the defendant, with the understanding that it should be returned to him as soon as his troubles were settled, but that the priest now refuses to give up the property. The plaintiff therefore asks that the deed be annulled.

This is only another sad commentary upon the idiotic trust which the puppets of the priest have in the priesthood and the utter corruptness of the latter.

How Rome Manipulates The Press.

Rome knows how to use an agency which Protestantism first won for civilization. The liberty of speech and of the press cost many a conflict, and was purchased by resistance to both civil and Roman Catholic encroachments. To-day the press is a giant that defies suppression. Seeing that it is useless to longer wage warfare upon it, Rome now seeks to utilize it. Within a few years she has been multiplying her own journals, many of which are edited with signal ability. Recently she has taken a stride forward which shows far seeing wisdom. At a late convention of her laymen, in New York city, the best means for getting before the public their distinctive tenets and of doing effective missionary work, were duly considered. After a comparison of views, the proposition which was regarded as most feasible and practical was for priests and laymen to individually exert their utmost to disseminate printed literature among non-Catholics. The following tells the whole story:

"Try to gain from the secular press the opportunity for free exposition of views. Let there be an apostolate of the press." Commenting upon this policy, the Evangelical Churchman, of Toronto, Canada, says: "To judge from the news in our daily papers, one would hardly imagine that the Roman church is suffering for want of publicity. Its doings seem to be recorded almost to the satiety of the reader. Indeed, so far as European news is concerned, Roman Catholics receive the lion's share of attention. This, we presume, must be due to the fact that they have been acting on the principles formally enunciated at the convention referred to." Certainly in our country, secular journals are giving increasing prominence to Roman Catholic news. Some observers have been so impressed by the tone of our American dailies as to trace a jesuitical hand at the helm of affairs, and the evidence of a shrewd censorship of the press, especially in regard to the facts that bear severely upon the priesthood. One thing is certain, and that is the Roman Catholic church is going to get all the free advertising it can from the press secular and religious, and intends to work for all it is worth. This is according to her principle of making every influential agency tell to her best advantage. Protestantism must keep pace with her, and use the press more and more for propagating a purer faith and a grander gospel. She must see that the secular press is fair to her interests and is not subsidized by Rome. At the same time she must employ the religious press to the fullest extent in pushing on her ecclesiastical, Christianizing and missionary enterprises.—The Presbyterian.

Wake Up! EDITOR AMERICAN, Omaha Neb.—Dear Sir: After having read a single issue of THE AMERICAN the other day, the work I am in, I can readily sympathize with you. I will send you a few extracts from a publication I am soliciting orders for and of which I am selling a good many, but I find considerable opposition and a great deal of indifference.

The Protestant churches are in a great deal of darkness or they would discern the signs of the times. Catholicism is gaining ground upon every side. Protestants have tampered with and patronized popery. They have made compromises and concessions which papists themselves are surprised to see and fail to understand. Men are closing their eyes to the real character of Romanism and the dangers to be apprehended from her supremacy. The people need to be aroused to resist the advances of this most dangerous foe to civil and religious liberty. Protestants little know what they are doing when they propose to accept the aid of Rome in the work of Sunday exaltation. While they are bent upon the accomplishment of their purpose, Rome is aiming to re-establish her power—to recover her lost power. The principles of Gregory VII. and Innocent III. are still the principles of the Roman church. Page 296-580 of the Great Controversy, by Mrs. E. G. White. Yours for liberty, J. J. HUGHES.
