PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL WORK.

The Close of the Most Satisfactory Convention Yet Held.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—The most satisfactory general convention ever held by the Protestant Episcopal church, because of its results, adjourned after a three-weeks session. The last day of the convention was spent in clearing up miscellaneous business. Two bishops who were appointed last Friday—Rev. Dr. James H. Johnson of Detroit for northern Michigan and Rev. Dr. S. R. Herrit of Iowa for China—declined, and others were appointed. These were Rev. Dr. William Hood Thomas of New York for northern Michigan and Rev. Dr. F. P. Graves of Woodhull for China.

The first business of the deputies was to instruct President Dix to send a message of sympathy to President Harrison.

Rev. Norman G. Dunham, secretary of the Christian unity commission, submitted the commission's report to the deputies. Much progress was reported and the commission continued to confer with all similar commissions for the restoration of the unity of the church.

At a meeting of the board of missions Bishop Cox of Western New York made an appeal for the support of church work in Greece.

On motion of Judge Bennett of Massachusetts the proposed new canons on marriage and divorce were referred to the next convention with all matters upon which action has not been heard.

Numerous resolutions of thanks for courtesies, etc., were adopted and the business session ended.

The pastoral letter, read by Bishop Thompson of Mississippi at the night services, gives a resume of the work accomplished by the convention and enters largely into recommendations for the conduct of church work pending the meeting of the next general convention three years hence.

We ask you to join us in thanksgiving to our gracious God that a great and serious work which has engaged the church for many years has been completed and closed in the convention of 1922, and that the Book of Common Prayer, revised, amended and reached by the labors of good men, has been constitutionally set forth for the use of the church.

We have very gravely considered the canons concerning ordination and the due preparation of candidates for the sacred ministry. The door to the priesthood should be greatly guarded, even more than heretofore. Our brethren of the clergy should remember that the foremost of all their duties is to "preach the gospel," the first command in our commission.

It is with sad foreboding that all Christian people must see how the sanctity and permanency of the marriage bond has been outraged and broken by the lawless legislation of so many of our states. The church of God can have no regard for such legislation; it has no more respect or validity in her consciousness than the legislation on the same subject of Turkey or the customs of Dahomey.

MADRID, Oct. 26.—The Marquis of Boglio, Italian ambassador, protested a short time ago against the speeches made at the recent congress of Spanish Catholics in favor of restoring the temporal power of the pope and against the projected organization in Spain of a society to that end.

OMAHA, Oct. 26.—The Young People's union continued its exercises at yesterday's session of the Nebraska Baptist anniversary. Officers were elected as follows: The committee on nominations then made the following report for officers for the coming year: Frank Carpenter, Omaha, president. W. T. Perry, Beatrice, vice president. Miss Lottie Legg, Fremont, treasurer. Mrs. R. M. Broderick, Central City, recording secretary.

MASON CITY, Oct. 26.—The state convention of the Baptists of Iowa opened in this city. The session will last four days. The annual sermon was delivered by the Rev. G. E. Farr. Rev. J. S. Malon spoke on higher education for young men, and in like manner Mrs. A. Laughridge spoke on higher education for young women.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Illinois led all other states in the rifle shoot at Fort Sheridan, her team making 1,654 points, or an average score of 165 for each man. Wisconsin was second, 1,577 points, and Iowa has a score of 1,570. The regular army team brought up in the rear with only 1,554 credits. The weather was favorable, and individual competition for medals highly interesting.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 26.—The British consul here recently sent a telegram to Bishop Tucker at Mombassa, announcing that, in accordance with the recent decision of the British government respecting Uganda, missionaries going to Uganda henceforth will proceed at their own risk.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—For Nebraska: Fair, northwesterly winds; warmer in eastern portion. For Iowa: Fair, westerly winds; slightly warmer.

THE FAIR FIGHT.

National Board and Local Managers Again Disagree.

THE QUARREL IS ON THE RULES.

The Commissioners Declare Their Arrangements Will Stand and President Higginbotham Absolutely Refuses to Recognize the Work.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—As a result of the quarrels between the local and national officers of the world's fair, two sets of rules have been issued for the government of the exposition. The set prepared by local directors is incomplete and does not furnish exhibitors any information that they did not have over a year ago. Such important matters as the cost of all kind of electric lights and a thousand and one other things that all exhibitors want to know before sending their displays are not mentioned in the regulations issued by the local board. On the contrary, those prepared by the national commission cover the field thoroughly. These are what are known as the St. Clair rules and were prepared by the commissioner from West Virginia.

Judge Lindsay of the national commission said that the rules adopted by that body would stand in spite of anything the local directors order. If the directors attempt to evade these rules he said exhibitors can go into the courts and compel them to obey the modified regulations.

President Higginbotham said that the local board would not recognize the right of the national commission to make rules on new subjects. They have no authority to do other than modify the rules we sent them, as it is not possible at this time to make regulations for conduct of the exposition. When the time comes we approve the regulations of the national board. If they suit us we will approve them, if not we will reject them.

The greater part of yesterday's session of the national commissioners was devoted to rules for the governing of the exposition. The rules as adopted provide that the exposition shall be open from May 1, to Oct. 30, 1923, every day except Sunday, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m., except on special occasions. The most important rule was that the exposition shall be administered by the council of administration, instead of by either Director General Davis or Mr. Burnham. The rate for storing empty packing cases was fixed at 50 cents for cases of twenty-seven cubic feet capacity or less and 1 cent for each additional cubic foot. About 8,000 words are devoted to rules for the Columbian guard, the hospitals and the exposition fire department, which are similar to those in force in similar departments in Chicago. Director General Davis has authority to appoint janitors for all the buildings. For the six months of the exposition a charge of $3 is made for furnishing power for each sixteen-horse power electric lamp. The rate per horse power for electricity varies from $20 for one-fourth horse power to $60 for three horse power, or more.

The charge for connecting with main line is made according to the amount used. For arc lamps for the six months $90 each will be charged. The charge per horse power for steam powers is $40, and for compressed air $60. The rate per horse power for electricity in the electricity building from $15 for one-fourth horse power to $40 for three horse power. The rules as adopted are subject to alteration without calling a special session of the commission, each member being allowed to vote by letter.
