Only a Wooden Building. The building was of wood, 135 by 36 feet, two stories high, with a big yard on each side. It was built twenty years ago and had fifty cells. One woman escaped to the yard, but was burned to death there. The building cost $15,000. The main building, in which were over 100 of county poor, caught fire, but was saved by the heroic efforts of the inmates who carried pails of water and extinguished the flames, although many were burned in so doing. The Dover fire department was summoned, but owing to the distance, the blinding snow storm and the icy roads, it took ninety-five minutes for the department to get there and were too late to be of The smoking ruins show the charred bodies still lying on their beds. At 5 o'clock flames were issuing from the basement of the Continental hotel and in a few moments the fire, which originated from the furnace, had enveloped the entire three-story brick building. The alarm was given and the guests were awakened. The hotel has long been the subject of much comment and predictions of disastrous results, should a fire ever break out, have often been made. These predictions have proved correct, for thirty guests, and a number of regular boarders were penned in by the flames and escape seemed almost impossible. Those who were in the building made an effort to get out the front way, and those who were on the first and second floors succeeded, but guests in the third story were not so fortunate and a number of them sus-

William Hale, who represents J. Fecht Bro., of Ottumwa, was late in waking and when he arose his room was filled with smoke and the hotel in flames. He rushed to the window and leaped. Whether he struck the wires which were outstretched along by the side of the building or not, is unknown, but he was thrown forcibly to the frozen ground and picked up unconscious. He is in a very precarious condition and his injuries may prove fatal. Three of his ribs were fractured, a thumb torn off and he sustained probably internal in-juries. Mrs. McKee, the landlady of the hotel, leaped from the third-story window. She was a very large woman, weighing 250 pounds, and the fall

PLACING THE GUILT.

New's Friends Responsible for Senator Russell's Abduction.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 10.-There appears to be no hope of breaking the deadlock. The joint ballot shows that New has a few followers who will stand by him to the last. The ballot stood: Frank M. Foote (Rep.), 22; Judge Corn (Dem.), 12; A. L. New, 7; Governor Baxter (Dem.), 26; Brown, (Pop.), 5. The committee are investigating the abduction of Senator Russell and have examined half a dozen witnesses, and their evidence is very clear that the abduction was brought about by the New men. Senator Russell says he will make a statement when all the testimony is in. New is growing desperate and has established a paper of his own which is going for his enemies right and left. This is printed in the be remembered by the keeper, as his books Stock Journal office.

There were some members and thought his conduct nuwarranted.

From Minister Stevens. Late at night Secretary of State Foster received the following despatch from Minister Stevens:

HONOLULY, Feb. 1, via San Francisco Feb. 9, 1893.—Secretary State: Provisional government of Hawaii gaining power and respect. Everything is quiet. Annexs tion sentiment is increasing. Dead mon tion sentiment is increasing. Dead mon-archy and opposition to annexation is supported chiefly by lottery and opium ring. Today, at 9 a. m., in accordance with the request of the provisional gov-ernment of Hawaii, I have placed the government of Hawaii under United States protection during negotiations, not interfering with the execution of public affairs. Dispatches by mail will give full details. STEVENS.

Acting Without Authority. Speaking of the dispatch and the developments of the day in the Hawaiian situation Secretary Foster said that the action of Minister Stevens in declaring the Hawaiian islands under the protec torate of the United States was taken without instructions from the department of state. In fact the movement for the change of government was un-expected and had not been anticipated by instructions from Washington. Mr. Stevens had, therefore, been compelled to act independently and upon his best judgment as the emergency had arisen.

Instructed to Protect Americans. The only instructions given by the department was the telegram of the 28th ult., already published, approving Mr. Stevens' recognition of the provisional government, an act on his part which has been followed by all other foreign representatives in Honolulu. He had been further instructed to protect American citizens and property. Secretary Foster stated that American citizens were the owners of at least threefourths of the entire real and personal property of the islands and they were more interested than all other res idents in the preservation of peace and good government.

No Conference.

There was no conference between the secretary of state and the Hawaiian commissioners, as Thursday is diplo-matic day at the department, and the secretary was fully occupied with the calls of foreign ministers. ig, Mr. Lorrin A. Thurs ton, with the consent and approval of his associate commissioners, made a of the Hawaiian cabinet.

ENVOYS OF THE QUEEN.

Representatives of Liluokatani on Their Way to Washington,

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb 10 - Paul Neumann and Prince Kewananako will go to Washington to lay Queen Liluokalani's side of the question before the president They may be accompanied by J. E. Bush, but the chances are that he will remain in San Francisco and address public meetings on the Hawaiian question. E. M. Cook, an interview with whom was sent in the dispatches, is a member of the provisional government and bears dispatches for the commissioners who are now in Washington. In a subsequent interview Mr. Bush said the queen is not angry over the sudden turn affairs have taken. She has retired to her estate and is awaiting with patience and dignity the decision of the United States. She well knows the fairness and uprightness of Uncle Sam and felt assured, when I saw her last, that the authorities at Washington would do nothing until both sides of the story had been fairly presented.

What Hawaiians want is restoration of the old government under an American protectorate. The men now in power do not want that; they want annexation or nothing. When informed that the United States steamer Mohican had been dispatched to Honolulu and that the Adams would likely follow, Mr. Bush declared that it was useless to send a fleet of vessels to Honolulu.

Prize Fighter Found Guilty.

NEWPORT, Ky., Feb. 10. -In the trial of Abe Lloyd for engaging in a prize fight before the Newport Athletic club, he was found guilty. Judge Helm fined Lloyd $350, and sentenced him to jail for three months. The sentence was a surprise to Lloyd and his attorney, Theodore Hallam, as both expected an acquital. It is understood that Lloyd will jump his $500 bond rather than serve out the sentence. His bond was signed by George Tippenhauer of the Newport Athletic club. Mike Norton the other defendant has not yet been tried, and probably will not be, as he will forfeit his bond. The result of Lloyd's conviction will be the death blow of glove contests in Newport.
