The order presents the following claims to a candid mind:

1st. The order is ancient. 2nd. It is military.

It is intensely religious. 4th. It is fraternal and beneficial.

This ancient and honorable fraternity, therefore, calls on all who love our Lord Jesus Christ and the cause of Protestantism to enlist under its banners. The age of chivalry is past, but the Nineteenth century calls for a truer christian knightheod in the support, succor and assistance to the cause in time of need, that our Protestant faith may rise triumphant beneath the cross and in His name. The degree work is beautiful, sub lime and instructive and is so arranged that when a candidate has successfully attained it he will have gained a thorough knowledge of the fundamental principles of all life.

Open the Convents.

Why are not convents willing to be officially inspected as well as other ness which could not bear the test of public criticism.

When Garibaldi became dictator of Rome in 1849, one of his first acts was to visit, personally, every nunnery in Rome. He has left it on record in his report that there was hardly any nunnury found under which were not discovered secret vaults containing numerous remains of infant mortality. Why should the vaults under the building containing a community of pure-minded religious women be chosen as a receptacle or charnel house for infant mortality?

At St. Etienne, in France, during the revolution, the nunnery was broken into, but though well ransacked no bodies or bones were found. They then dug a door in the side of the supporting rock, and found themselves in a spacious vaulted dungeon, excavated out of the rock on which the building stood. With horror they discovered that the floor was heaped up several feet high with bodies and bones of murdered hundreds.

Why do not the authorities compel the managers of these institutions to place therein? The law provides that ment on your farm. Investigate.

Nuns Ride Free.

Last Sunday a reporter of the Times was riding on one of the tramway cars. Two sisters of charity stepped into the car and took seats, riding some distance without being approached by the conductor. A woman sitting near by observed that the sisters were paying no fare, and she went to the conductor with the inquiry. "Don't nuns pay fare now?"

The conductor was puzzled at the question and the woman repeated it. sisters paid no fare, and the woman replied with some spirit:

"We will have to see about this; they are no better than the rest of us who respond to their public solicitations for funds to keep their institutions alive" and the woman hustled off of the car with a look in her face that promised vengeance. - Denver Times.

THE · HORRIBLE · BOOK. Extracts from the Theological Works of Peter Dens On the Nature of Roman Catholic Confession and the Obligation of the Seal,

New Edition, Revised and Edited by STEPHALIUS, Editor of "Merry Tales of the Monks," This book was first published in New York in the year 1832, by an anti-Catholic agitator named Sparry E. Zosinius, a Monk of La Trappe, being the translator. It attracted great attention, and was the cause of much controversy. The sympathies of the press and public were with the publisher, and the advocates of Catholicism consequently met with defeat in their attempts to suppress the Book. A revised edition was afterwards printed in Boston. Both of these editions are now very rare. The present issue contains considerable additions, editions are now very rare. The present issue considerable additions, much new matter having been inserted without impairing the original text in the slightest degree. No man who regards the purity of his wife and children, or other female members of his family, should fail to peruse this book. And never would he, after perusing it, permit a female member of his family to frequent that HELL upon earth—a Roman Catholic confessional—or allow them on any pretense whatever, to hold any communion or intimacy with Romish priests or their 'emale jackals, the 'Sisters of Charity," or of 'Mercy, "or those of any other of the numerous orders of moskery that have of late become so plenty in the United Sistes of America. As nauscous and as outrageous to all decency as we know the matter contained in this book to be, we are still confident in the belief that it should be read by every head of a family in the Union. For, unless we probe the gigantic ulcer to its very core, that is now gradually eating into the vitals of our Republic, in vain will be our attempts to cradicate it. Price, in cloth, 75c; in paper cover, 25c. Cash must, in all cases, accompany orders. Address all orders to,
