The literary at the school house last evening was quite a success for a beginning and arrangements for another of the kind, to be held Jan. 9th.

Rev. Father Engelbert Schmitt will be at Montrose on January 1st, 1889, at Five Points school house on Jan. 2nd, at Harrison Jan. 4th, and at Whitney, Jones county, Jan. 6th, to hold divine services.

A better attendance at the second of the club dances on last Friday evening was noticeable, but still there is room for a few more to-morrow evening. Come, and bring your lady, as an unusually good time is guaranteed.

The Berean Bible class will hold its regular meeting next Sunday at 2:30, and in the evening at 7:00 Mrs. Bassett will speak for a short time in answering the question as to why she is so interested in the spiritual welfare of friends and neighbors.

A. E. Gates, Thos. Lavenport, Joe Lecker and W. H. Kemp were in from White river last Thursday. Mr. Lecker brought up a damage case on error that had been tried before Justice Mason, the particulars of which are given by our Glen correspondent.

Another damage case Tuesday, S. L. R. Maine took up horses belonging to Cary Trumbor and James Northrop last week. The horses were recovered by wagon and the case came on for hearing Tuesday but was knocked out by an error in the replevin proceedings. The case will probably come up again.

Two brothers, Jas. and H. Stage, of Iowa county this state, arrived in Harrison last week and were looking over the country with a view to locating if it pleased them. They returned home on Monday last without taking land but may return in the spring. One of their principal objections to this county was the free range law.

Mr. Thomas Lavenport and Mr. S. R. Sherman happened to be callers at this office at the same time one day last week and in the course of conversation found that they had lived several years near the same place in Iowa, and their acquaintance with many of the people there was mutual. It was an agreeable surprise to both of them.

Thirty-nine dollars was the total receipts from the night cap oyster supper Saturday evening. As shown by the receipts, a large crowd were present and a universal good feeling prevailed. The musical talent present did some good singing during the evening. The select reading by Mr. Slaughter, and Miss May Tool's rendition of the "two days old baby," were meritorious and brought forth applause.

If I had been running a newspaper in a town for several months and a rival sheet should come in and in less than three months build up a better subscription list and secure a larger and better paying amount of advertising, I'd feel just about as the Judge does now—practically tolerably sick. It is just such sheets as the Republican, and its influence, that has driven trade that rightly belongs to Harrison, to other places.

WAR BONNET.

T. O. Williams is sinking a well for G. W. Hester on the divide.

Corvin Lewis started, last week for a visit to friends in Iowa.

We miss the genial countenance of "Ned" Andrews' bald faced pony on the prairie.

Nels Anderson says 't's a consolation to know that he isn't the only one that got left, and that he didn't have to go to his next appointment on an empty stomach. How is it Bob?

Why will some fellows come from town, ten miles in the country to a lye-cum when there is one in town on the same evening? Ask Mr. Christensen.

Fred Smith, one of the representative men of rawford helped Miss Stannard hold down her claim last Sunday and Monday.

Last week, Friday Evening, a literary society was organized in district No. 15. Officers were elected and etc., and the society adjourned to meet again Wednesday.

The fight among Sioux county politicians failed to cease with the winding up of the campaign. They have great staying qualities, those pioneers of the border.—Sheridan County Sun.

Yes we are sorry to be obliged to do so but our duty to God and man beckons us on and we intend to follow until justice triumphs and right prevails.

ANTELOPE VALLEY ITEMS.

Dec. 19, '88.

Still the weather continues fine.

E. H. Saulsbury is proving up on his claim.

Having been at work for sometime, items are scarce, but see the Judge is very busy digging down in the mud as it were, up to his neck. He uses the Herald to give vent to his vents. You want me to say something against the Herald so he can get up a charge and bring me into your court, and the result you already know. Good day Judge; you can't pin hook me in that way. I owe between 25c. and $3. at Montrose. Judge, you might make an item of that for your paper, it would be as interesting as most of your items.

Now as to what the Judge says in the Herald. I will not reply to his slang as it does not make a truth to say "you lie," "you villain," etc. Such language only shows the depth of brain in the man who uses it—if he has any. We knew you would deny the statement. Force of habit Judge, force of habit. I gave it to you as I got it, true or untrue. And you want to know who I am? If you would be so good as to cleanse your mouth and hands I will shake hands with you. I am always ready to help any poor creature though fallen ever so low, but you must first make an effort. As proof, he wishes to refer to Shattuck Bros. of whom he claims to have purchased the wagon. Now I will say this: There is no such firm as Shattuck Bros. in Scotland, Alaska, and the Judge cannot prove that there is. That is a good reference for you to give Judge: a bogus firm name, ha! ha! Come out in the country Judge, away from the clamor of city life and think up who you got that wagon from and then you may be able to remember whether you paid for it or not. Poor, poor Judge! maybe you mean well but you forget sometimes I think. Now if you have paid that debt don't pay it any more, if you have not, then pay it like a little man. Now I will close for this time by giving you credit for getting another paper to print your language. They must have a spite at you. I would think they were doing me an injustice if I had written such language and they would print it. Just to think that such language comes from the Judge of Sioux county! Too bad! If there is anything I can do to help you stop your raging Judge I will gladly lend a hand. You seem to want to know who that attorney is that got the letter? I would tell you but it would only cause you to use some of your saloon language on him and that would only be the worse for you in the eyes of thinking people. If you must brag, brag at me. don't think it hurts Langdon to be branded as a liar by you, if it was any other individual he would probably be sorry. So long.

WEED WESTLER.

No. 2.

We understand that Mr. John C. T. Rugland intends to have a dance on Christmas eve we think that it must mean something in the matrimonial line, we hope so any way for Jack needs some help. We understand that it is a general invitation to all the young men that will bring ladies.

Mr. Lewis Gerlach is building a new stable for the protection of some of his stock against the cold.

On last Friday evening, the 14th, of December, there was a prairie fire in the valley, started about dark by some unknown person, but by the efforts of Mr. Stannard Mr. Gerlach, Willie Gerlach, and E. H. Saulsbury the fire was extinguished without doing any damage.

J. W. Langdon is absent from the valley seeking employment to earn an honest living for his family.

J. H. Wain has gone to Crawford to work in a meat market.

Mr. Charles Brooks is hauling hay from the valley, over on Jim Creek, for his cattle.

Mr. Charles Brooks, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. J. W. Langdon, Miss Marion, Mr. Marion, and Messrs. Fisk and E. H. Saulsbury and family, all formerly acquaintances in Alaska, gave the Rev. Garton a pleasant surprise on last Sunday, his birthday, and in return they were treated to a splendid dinner.

E. H. Saulsbury has the first cultivated five acres on his timber claim in splendid condition for planting and we understand that he intends to plant it this fall to box elders if the fine weather continues.

Mr. Lem Loutt, of War Bonnet, butchered three large hogs last week, one of them dressing over three hundred pounds. Mr. Loutt, we also hear, is getting very tired of Bachelor life. Girls, you did better fellow suit as one of the young ladies of War Bonnet is knitting mittens for Mr. Tom Schiltz.

Mr. A. O. Gorton and family intend taking a trip to Iowa and Alaska on a visit.

S. R. Story is building an addition to his house.

Oscar Story is building stock sheds.

Mr. Pratt and Loren Johnson took a trip over into Alaska on a hunt, but came back minus the game.

Oscar W. Story has been breaking on his fathers timber claim the past week.

We understand that Mr. J. Pratt has filed a home-land on the northeast quarter of Sec. 10, Tp. 34, Rg. 54. We are glad to welcome Mr. Pratt in our neighborhood.

PAT. GUNNO.
