The Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis the Fictim of a Great Loss.

St. Paul special: At 3:15 this afternoon St. Paul special: At 3:10 this sale of the majority of the was discovered in the basement of power and in the four-story general office building of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minnespolis & Omaha railway on the corner of Fourth and Wakout streets. Before warning could be given, even to those on the first floor, the flames had entered the single stairway located in the central portion of the building and the halls were filled with smoke so that the only avenue of escape for the occupants of the first floor was through the windows.

The 100 or more employes on the second, third and fourth floors were cut off from escape by the stairway, and there were no fire escapes attached to the building, they were compelled to await the arrival of ropes and ladders. wo or three engines were on the scene a few minutes after the alarm was turned in, but it was some twenty or twenty-five minutes before the ladder trucks arrived and rescued the immates of the upper stories, who were driven out on the balconies and window sills by the flames and smoke. All occupants of the upper stories escaped by means of ropes and ladders except two or three who, in their fear and anxiety for safety, jumped W. Cartis. to the ground before the ladders ar rived Among those injured was Fred Norris, a messenger boy, who jumped from the second story and was badly bruised. Fred Peterson, an operator, jumped and would have been killed had he not alighted on the shoulders of another man. As it was, his skull was fractured. William Jones was badly bruised by jumping from the second story, A. C. Race had a leg broken.

A. C. Race had a leg broken.
C. W. Johnson, chief engineer, attempted to slide down a water pipe which gave way, and he fell, receiving severe bruises.

J. H. Beck, an operator, and Fred Slaker, a clerk, were more or less burned by the flames while endeavor-ing to get out some of the records. The fire originated in the paper room, located in the basement. The damage will reach about $30,000. The insurance is covered by a general policy in the Home Insurance company of New York Home Insurance company of New York for $35,000, on the property of the entiro road. The fire was confined to the stair-way and top story. It was 5:30 before the flames were out. The Omaha will use the old general office building of the Manitoba road for their offices until the burned building is repaired.

Platt Will Not be in the Cabinet.

New York special: A special to the World from Washington says: I have positive information, obtained from an active member of the republicen national executive committee, only recently returned from the west, the publication of whose name is of course prohibited, but whose identity can be readily guessed, that General Harrison has decided not to appoint Thomas C. Platt to the secretaryship of the treasury, or, in fact, to any other cabinet position. He has also fully determined not to give Warner Miller the treasury portfolio, although he may invite Mr. Miller to become the new member of the presi-dent's advisory board—the commission-er of agriculture. Whether Miller will dent's advisory board—the commissioner of agriculture. Whether Miller will accept this appointment or not is a matter of conjecture. He is surious to "get in" and may throw aside the little disappointment he may feel in losing the more important position and accept the commissionership. The treasury portfolio is not to go to New York. You can put that down as a positive fact.
Where it is to go my informant did not know. New York will, however, be offered another portfolio in the shape of the navy, attorney generalship or postmaster generalship, and will thus have, should Miller accept, two representatives in the cabinet. Ontside of the secretaryship of the treasury and secretary of state it is certain that the president-sleet has determined upon the members of his official family. These two important offices are still debatable in his mind, although it is pretty clear that he has come close to a decision in one of them.
