Dn. T. Himan Brehmer, an eminent German authority, says: "Consumption is always due to deficient nutrition of the lang, caused by bad blood." At the Breanton Hospital for consumptives, London, England, a statement has been published that 52 per cent. of the patients of that institution have unsuspected hidney disorder. This explains why the propriotors of Warner's Safe Care claim that they have received many testimonials which they have not published, because of the incredulity with which they would be received were it claimed that Warner's Safe Cure cures consumption. But the fact is that if your kidneys be cured and put in a healthy condition they expel the uric acid and poisonous waste matter, and provent the irritation of the delicate substances of the lungs, thereby removing the cause. When the effect is removed the symptom of kidney disease, which is called consumption, disappears, and with it the irritation which DR. T. HEMAN BREHMER, an eminent moved the symptom of kidney disease, which is called consumption, disappears, and with it the irritation, which caused it.

The Evolution of Ears. At a recent meeting of the Western ieroscopical club, of London, Prof. swart remarked that while we expect Stewart remarked that while we expect to find the ears upon the head in the larger animals, we look in vain for the ame arrangement in the lower inverte-brate creatures. Many of these, like the scallop, have no head, others, like crabs and lobsters, have their ears placed on their horns or antennæ, othcrs, like the green grasshopper, have the car on the fore leg; others, like the fresh water shrimp, have it on the tail.

In fact, it would seem that in these lower forms of life, whose origin was long anterior to the evolution of man, nature was feeling her way and making experiments at the fature recition of the ments as to the future position of the seuse organs.

"I've been learning the undertaker business in Indianapolis. Served two years at it. Have helped the old man out on thirty or forty scrub funerals and three or four first-class affairs, but this will be my first job all alone. It's my starter. Rich old brewer died yesterday and his wife telegraphed for us to come down and pull off the business?"

"But why are you nervoust" "There's half a dozen chances for a bad break. The parlor may be a small, tucked-up room, the minister may be late at the house, there may be a miscount as to the number of chairs and carriages. I'll be held for any plunder, you know. If the wid-ow is rich, and I know she is she'll be watching me like a cat. She'll shed tears with one eye and watch out of the other. There'll be flowers to arrange, pall bearers to coach, the driver of the hearse to instruct,

"Wish you had been. Wish you knew the house. I'm dreadfully wor-ried about the front door or doors." 'How?

"Why, if there's only one door, I can't guarantee the job. Sure to be trouble before we get out. If there are double doors, I'm all right, and will show those Tipton undertakers, who'll be on hand to watch and criticise, something to be remembered forever. I'm in a sweat over those doors, and you'll excuse me for any lack of interest in the Samoan ques tion or Harrison's policy."

"I hope there are double doors."
"Thanks. You exhibit the right spirit, and I can assure you that I appreciate your words. There ought to be a law that every house should have double front doors. If there was the undertaking business would become a work of art inside of five

Two weeks later I met him in Indianapolis, and as he gripped my hand, I asked him how he found things at Tipton.

New York Herald: One hundred Dr. Radway's Medicines so long and favorably knewn to the public, have never been more pepyears is not much in the history of glar than at the present time. Their excellence a nation. But three generations have passed away since King George concurred in our declaration of independence, and we are therefore at the very beginning of our career as a people

As the direction which the bullet takes when first it leaves the gun, however, determines its course toward or away from the target, so the benign or evil influences—political, social, commercial —which control our country to-day are a kind of prophecy of our future. If we may judge by the longevity of other governments we are still in the haleyon days of our national youth; are indulging in the visions, and perhaps the follies, which are incident to that period.

We have simply begun to make pre-parations for a work to be finished a thousand years hence. We have millions of acres waiting for the hardy courage which will ultimatey subdue them. Our magnificent streams are growing impatient to turn the mill wheels of factories yet unbuilt. The western and southern hills and valley hold unmeasured treasures which our children's skill will force from their hiding places. Sixty millions of people are but a handful in comparison with the population which will crowd into these large areas of waste and wilderness when we shall have been silently laid to rest with our forefathers.

The statesman's dream of the future republic goes even further than this. To his mind our manifest destiny will not reach its glorious comsummation till with our right hand we grasp the frozen north and with our left the torrid territory of Mexico and Central America.

How to Keep Lent.

The true forte of the emancipated mind is to self denial and self-sacrifice for others. The man who goes without what he wants and denies himself of needed comforts to meet his obligations and help the poor keeps the true Lent. The woman who turns her back on some great temptation and sacrices her pride and time and cares for the sick and destitute is the true Lent keeper. Long faces are no longer in order. People have no liking for the piety that makes one look as though he had the colic and talk as though there was a grave stone in his lungs. Sadness is no part of sanctity, and the Lenten season should be as cheerful as great hopes can render it, and filled wieh overflowing joy.

The Grain of Salt.

Going into Tipton, Ind., by rail, I shared my seat with a man who exhibited a spirit of friendliness, and down in the area to eat. A moment afterward, however, he rapped beseechingly at the door again, and on its being opened remarked with his hand upon his heart, "If I had but a little salt I should be perfectly happy." Of course he got the salt.

Human nature is always lacking some thing. Oftentimes it were better off without its wishes, yet it is universally mind in a measure by replying:

"Bless you, boy, I am as harmless as a kitten! I own up to being as a kitten! I own up to being which keeps good cheer fresh and preserves and sweetens life for the future.

> nervous, overworked generation is a problem worthy of our closest attention. It cannot be done with stimulants, which but spur on the over-worked nerves to fresh efforts, only to leave them more jaded and shattered. Nor with narcotics, which temporarily soothe, but to create an unnatural appetite, the terrors of which a De Quincy has so graphically portrayed. It may be asked, what is the cause of this extreme nervousness, lack of appe-tite, lung trouble, deficient heart action, failing eyesight, apoplectical tendency, etc. We reply, poisoned blood, caused by diseased kidneys, and the troubles indicated are after all, but symptoms of advanced Kidney Disease, which is but another name for Bright's Disease. Unless remelied there will be a complete breaking down of the great blood-puri-fying organs, the kidneys, and they will be excreted piecemeal, through the

Now, in the spring of the year, owing to the extra work which has been put upon the Kidneys and Liver, through a meat diet during the winter months these symptoms are more pronounced, and the danger to the patient corre-spondingly increased. It is therefore imperative that the poisoned blood be eradicated, and that the Kidneys be put in complete health, which can be speedily and effectually accomplished by the use of Warner's Safe Cure, a tried and proved specific in hundreds of thousands of cases.

Guerin that fresh milk may be easily transported to the most distant places in a frozen state, the freshness being retained for an indefinite period. When thawed, though days and weeks after freezing, the milk is said to equal new for cooking, yield of cream, production of butter and cheese, and in all other respects.

Time Rolls Its Ceaseless Course. Invention has been succeeded by invention, tending to the benefit of mankind; till the very alements have become subservient to his will.
