C. L. Tracy.—The blacksmith and wagon establishment of C. L. Tracy appears in our advertising columns this week. Mr. Tracy is prepared to supply the wants of all in his line. Give him a call.

—Mr. Henry Brundidge, foreman of the Lozier 34 ranch, was in Harrison purchasing supplies on Monday. He is not so frequent a visitor as formerly owing to his more distant location.

—In this issue appears the advertisement of Isidor Reichen in which he offers his services as contractor and builder. He is here for business and will be pleased to figure with those who contemplate building.

—Do you see the new advertisement of J. F. Post? He has a large stock of all kinds of farm implements and will take good care of all his customers. Read his advertisement and when in need of anything in his line call and see him.

—Last week Joseph Stasny was arrested on a complaint filed by Ben Moore, charging him with threatening to shoot his son. The case was called in the county court, and on motion of Attorney Conley, who appeared for the defense, the case was dismissed.

—So far nothing has been done toward getting a piece of pipe or hose to attach to the main pump for the benefit of those who have not yet got wells or their claims. It would cost but a little and would save the farmers much valuable time. Let something be done in the matter.

—Among our advertisers this week appears a card of Mrs. R. K. Post, announcing to the public that she can supply anything in her line. Mrs. Post purchased last week a large addition to her stock of millinery and will be pleased to have all call and examine her goods and get her prices.

—Why would it not be a good plan to have a brass band in Harrison? We see evidences of a former band and should like to see it reorganized. This is something every citizen should take an interest in and do all they can to help along. It is hardly in keeping with such a town as Harrison to do without a band.

—One day last week a couple of mules were resting quietly in the middle of the street, when some of the boys of large growth took a common fire-cracker and after lighting it threw it near the animals. It exploded close to one of them, and to say that some vigorous kicking was done, is drawing it mild.

—The authorities should use every effort to prevent accidents or fires from the use of fire-crackers around the business portion of town. Too much care cannot be taken in this matter. Should a fire be caused in the business part of town it would make it a pretty expensive celebration. A word to the wise is sufficient.

—G. Guthrie has as fine a prospect for an excellent flax crop as one could wish to have. It will prove a good test of the flax producing qualities of this soil and climate as there is fifty acres of it. At present it looks as if it would be a great success, and if it proves such Mr. Guthrie will have flax seed enough to supply a large number of farmers.

—The question of fruit growing in Sioux county is gradually being settled. (On yesterday County Commissioner Morris showed as a sample of cherries grown at his home, that were as nice as one could wish to see. This is the first season that the tree has been large enough to bear. We predict that it will be but a few years until Sioux county will come up smilingly with as good a fruit showing as any portion of the state.

—3 boxes of sardines for 25 cents at the Ranch Supply House.

—Griswold & Marsteller received another car load of barbed wire last Monday.

—See the new card of W. E. Porter in this issue. Mr. Porter has had extensive experience in his line of business, and if you contemplate building it will pay you to consult him.

—If you wish to keep your friends in the east informed as to the growth and prosperity of Sioux county, just call at THE JOURNAL office, give us their name and address and the price of a year's subscription.

—A large number of teams and grading apparatus passed east through Harrison last Monday. It was the outfit that passed through here a few weeks ago going west. It is said they are going to work on the B. & M. extension.

—John Stratton has purchased the timber claim just south of town, formerly owned by Robt. Parrish. There are no improvements on it except about fifteen acres of breaking and that amount taxed and the stipulated price was a round thousand dollars. Sioux county land is good property.

—Last Saturday evening the preliminary steps were taken to organize a baseball club. The boys have been having a good deal of sport among themselves but have not got in shape to meet the clubs of other places, but now it looks as if a good, strong nine would be selected and Harrison be favored with some interesting games during the season.

—The board of county commissioners are still in session as a board of equalization. They expect to close their work in that line, not later than Saturday. There has been a vast amount of work necessary to get the assessors books in shape. It is to be hoped that more care will be taken in the future by the assessors, both in the valuation of the property and also in the making up of the books. A little carelessness in those matters makes a great deal of confusion and by using due care it can be avoided.

—Sheriff Post informs us that he has applied to Judge Kimball, asking that the case of the man here in jail for horse stealing be disposed of at once, instead of waiting until the September term of the district court. The Sheriff informs us that his prisoner admits his guilt and it is a needless expense to the county to keep the man here and the place now used as a jail is not the safest place in which to keep prisoners. We hope the court will take early action in the matter.

—Among our advertisers this week appears a card of Mrs. R. K. Post, announcing to the public that she can supply anything in her line. Mrs. Post purchased last week a large addition to her stock of millinery and will be pleased to have all call and examine her goods and get her prices.

—The institute is progressing finely. A large increase in the attendance is noticeable this week and the number enrolled is 26.

The instructions given by Profs. Stevens and Maxville are well received by the teachers and the result cannot but be beneficial to the interests of the schools. Those in attendance are taking great interest in the work and seem determined to get all the good out of the institute possible. The teachers are a bright, intelligent lot of people and we believe that Sioux county can boast of as good a set of teachers as any new county in the state. The manner in which they handle the subjects given them shows that they are fully alive to the important duties devolving upon them in the school room and also that they are able to cope with any emergency that may present itself before them. The following is a list of those now enrolled and all except four are those actually engaged in school work:

Mabel Robinson, Lizzie Sutton, Ida Hester, Mrs. H. T. Conley,

Eddie Davenport, Arthur Adams, C. F. Slingerland, Asa C. Davis, Manda Davis, B. B. Smith,

Ruth Elbert, A. J. Babcock, A. J. Marette, L. J. Simmons,

Amy M. Love, Janie Hunt, Elsie Merriam, Wiza Price,

Chas. Grove, Anna Price, Flora Hobbs, Minnie Crane,

Adda Arner, Martha Cody, Ella M. Conner, Mrs. Don Weir.

To-day closes the institute proper, and the remaining two days will be occupied by the examination of those who desire to teach during the coming year.

The lectures on last evening by the instructors on educational topics, were quite well attended and interesting.

Taken altogether the institute has been a success and cannot but be encouraging to all interested in the education of the youth of Sioux county, and the thanks of all are due to County Superintendent Cox, and Profs. Stevens and Maxville for their efforts during the two weeks of the institute.

—As announced in our last issue Mrs. C. M. Woodward addressed the people of this place on the subject of temperance at the court house on Thursday evening.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the local W. C. T. U., and all details were looked after by them.

Mrs. Woodward is an earnest worker in the temperance cause and has devoted her entire attention to that business for a number of years. The attendance at the lecture was very satisfactory and all report the lecture as having been good.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Woodward addressed the teachers' institute on the subject of teaching the effects of narcotics and stimulants on the human system, in the district schools. The response was timely and well received.

The Institute.

The institute is progressing finely.
