PERSONAL.

Ed Maine was at Chadron last week. John England called on us yesterday. Miss Maggie Slattery left for Lusk on the 5th.

C. H. Andrews was at Chadron over Sunday.

Mrs. Don Weir was a Harrison visitor Saturday.

Clem Wells spent Sunday with friends at Chadron.

D. H. Griswold went to Casper Saturday and returned Monday.

County Treasurer Lockwood was at the county seat Saturday.

Henry Brundidge and his brother were in Harrison last Thursday.

W. P. Devenport, of Crawford, passed up the Elkhorn on Monday.

Miss Clara Bodd went to Chadron Saturday and returned Monday.

Robert Parish went to Chadron Monday and returned Wednesday.

Thos. Devenport was in Harrison yesterday and made a call at this office.

Attorney Fanning, of Crawford, was in this place on Tuesday on legal business.

Atty. Conley made a business trip to Chadron on Thursday and returned on Saturday.

Mrs. R. K. Post went to Chadron last Saturday to attend the camp meeting and returned on Tuesday.

Commissioner McGinley, accompanied by his wife and daughter, arrived last Thursday from Hot Springs, Dak.

County Commissioner J. G. Morris called at our new quarters last Tuesday and gave us the cash for THE JOURNAL and Farm News.

Thos. Reidy and S. Barker were at Collins, Dak., the first of the week. They report a pleasant time in most respects but think Sioux county good enough for them.

C. C. Colco, of Carroll, Iowa, is in this place looking over the country with a view to locating in the hardware business. He is a rustler and we should be pleased to have him with us.

Hon. J. L. Caldwell, of Lincoln, passed through this place last Monday on his way to Wyoming. He was accompanied by his son and they were prepared for a genuine outing. When he greeted us at the depot we hardly recognized the silver-tongued orator of the House of representatives. Mr. Caldwell is pretty well used up with hard work and we hope his trip will give him renewed health and vigor.

Last Monday's mail brought us a letter from our old friend, Attorney General Leese. Besides the best wishes of General Leese for our success, the letter contained a draft for a year's subscription to THE JOURNAL, which is duly appreciated by us. Gen. Leese has opened a law office in Lincoln and takes cases in which the state is not a party nor in any way interested. The fact that he has been three times elected attorney general of the state is all the endorsement Gen. Leese needs to secure him a large and lucrative law practice.

—On last Sunday the horse thief, McNab, who has been confined here for some time, managed to cut a hole through the floor of his cell large enough to allow him to get out. He went out in broad daylight and got into a small yard back of the jail, climbed on the fence and seeing two men near by he remained on the fence a short time to avoid suspicion. He proceeded to C. N. Wadsworth's new house southwest of town and procured a hatchet and then made his way to the residence of a man by the name of Moore, where he took a horse that was picketed, and rode southwest. The night was dark and he lost his way and on Monday morning he left the horse and started out on foot. He was seen by Jack Cook, and it did not take him long to determine that he had no business running loose over the country, and he took him in. McNab claimed to be a deserter from Fort Mead and begged to be let off but it was thought best to hold him. Word was sent to this place and officers went after him. Sheriff Pfost and all his deputies were out in all directions and while the new party was on the road to Cook's they were met by the sheriff who turned and accompanied them, and on Tuesday they returned with the prisoner. Sheriff Pfost was spoken to about taking him to Chadron for safe keeping but he replied that he proposed to keep him right here, and he went to work and had some good shackles made and riveted on the man's ankles and then chained him to the wall of the cell, and there he will stay until Judge Kinkaid can come and dispose of him. A petition has been sent to the judge asking that he come as soon as possible, and it is probable that it will not be long that the sheriff will have to take care of the fellow. It would be no more than justice to the officers if a better place was provided for keeping prisoners. The sheriff is held responsible for the safe keeping of prisoners and the place furnished is not safe to keep any one.

—A replevin suit was up before Squire Jones on Tuesday between contractor Lyons and Henry Brundidge, for the possession of the mule mentioned in our last issue. The court decided the title to the property was vested in Lyons at the time the suit was begun. The case will go to the district court.

—On last Saturday afternoon as Mrs. W. T. Moore was picketing a cow near her home southeast of town, lightning struck near where she was standing. The bolt shocked the lady considerably but did not injure her. A calf which was standing a short distance away was knocked down by the lightning but was not killed.

—The ladies of the church have arranged for a lawn festival on Friday evening, at the residence of Mrs. D. H. Griswold, just north of town. There will be refreshments, such as ice cream and cake, served, and everything done to make it enjoyable. If you want to spend a pleasant evening, be sure to be present. Should the weather be unpleasant the entertainment will be at the church.

—The new keyless lock postoffice boxes were set in position a few days ago and they are great favorites already. The patrons of the office are giving up the key boxes which stand right beside the new ones and are renting those fitted with the Morris Keyless locks. The people of Harrison know a good thing when they see it. It will not be long until more of the keyless lock boxes will have to be ordered.

—On last Monday the new division superintendent, H. C. Mahanna, passed up the line for the first time. Like all the Elkhorn officials Mr. Mahanna is a pleasant gentleman to meet and has no high notions about him. In the course of a few moments conversation he told THE JOURNAL man that as soon as he could get settled in his new quarters he would make Harrison a visit and get acquainted with the people, and take a look at the country.

—The recent rains have done much good in Sioux county. In some cases the oats crop will be short but this is largely due to shallow cultivation. The wheat is good and corn is reported to be much better than any year previous. The hay crop may be a little short in the valleys, but compared with the reported condition of crops at other places the people of Sioux county have been more fortunate than the people of many localities, and the future prosperity will not be impaired by a crop failure, such as is staring many of the new sections of country in the face.

—Harrison has a brand new double acting force pump for the town use. It is a fine one and with a reasonable amount of hose will be of great benefit in case a fire should break out in the business part of town. The pump is in position and a fence built around it to keep stock or teams from getting close enough to damage it. A little more is needed and that is a good spout leading to the trough and a piece of hose which can be easily attached for pumping water into tanks or barrels on wagons. These would cost but little and would be a great convenience. The new pump is a great improvement and the trustees are entitled to credit for the good judgment shown in its selection.

—Quite a romantic marriage occurred at Chadron a few days ago. On the afternoon of July 5th Friedrich Stemmer, one of the sturdy German homesteaders of Sioux county, took the train for Chadron. There he met Miss Regine Wayenlander, who had come, by agreement, direct from Beurn. They proceeded to get a marriage license and were shortly after made husband and wife. The contracting parties had known each other in childhood, but the young man had left his native land about eight years ago and came to America, so that the courting was all done by letter, at long range. The newly wedded pair arrived in Harrison Tuesday morning and soon left for their country home in the northern part of Sioux county. They have the good wishes of all for a long and happy wedded life.

—On last Monday a couple of men from White river, by the name of Mason and Sisson came to Harrison and swore out warrants for John Shay and his wife, Mary Shay, charging them with threatening to kill. All the officers were out hunting for the escaped horse thief, except the coroner, C. H. Andrews. The papers were placed in his hands and he brought in the man and woman on Tuesday. The case was called in the county court and the defendants waived examination and the court fixed their bonds at $400. On Wednesday Thos. Devenport came to this place and offered a certified bond, but the court refused to accept it, and the man and wife and two children are still here in care of the sheriff. We are informed that the matter will be taken before Judge Kinkaid, asking for a writ of habeas corpus. At any rate the county is in for a good, big bill of costs.
