Vote the straight republican people's ticket.

A vote for the straight republican people's ticket is a vote for the best interests of Sioux county.

When you go to the polls on November 5th do not do any scratching, but vote for the straight republican people's ticket, just as it is.

Kinch West was arrested in the Indian territory a few days ago for the murder of a man by the name of Martin in 1870. Justice usually overtakes evil doers, although they may elude the grasp of the law for a time.

Mayor Grant, of New York, has issued an order prohibiting the use of overhead electric wires or any other kind until they are made absolutely harmless by insulation. He is entitled to credit and support from every one.

The English syndicate has at last closed the deal for the Omaha breweries and now Nebraskans can drink English brewed beer. It will probably be labeled "imported" so as to suit those cranks who think nothing is made by foreigners.

The reports from all parts of the county are to the effect that the people's ticket will be elected by good majorities. The people are thoroughly in earnest in this matter and know that it is to their interest to vote for every man on the republican people's ticket.

The way Judge Groff is making a record is a matter of pride to his many friends in Nebraska. He takes the view that the land officials should look to the rights of all parties so that in cases of contest both the contestant and contestee get all rights to which they are entitled.

Senator Manderson is now in Washington hard at work for the interests of the state. Luring his absence to Alaska Senator Paddock spent most of his time at the national capital, but now that Gen. Manderson is there the latter is in Nebraska with his family and looking after his private business interests.

The law of New York providing for the execution of criminals by electricity instead of hanging, has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of that state, in the case of Kemmer, who was sentenced to death by electricity a short time ago. This will give the defendant a lease of life for a while longer.

The Carbon county grand jury adjourned on the 19th, to the 24th inst., without bringing any indictments against the murderers of Jim Averill and Ella Watson. Buchanan, the only eye witness of the tragedy, who was under bonds as a witness has skipped and it is probable that the crime will go unpunished. It is to be hoped that justice will yet overtake the perpetrators of this crime.

The democratic state convention nominated John H. Ames, of Lincoln, for supreme judge, and W. I. McKenna, of Adams county, and P. W. Hess, of Platte county, for regents of the state university.

An investigating committee is after the Cass county officials and it is reported that a number of present and past officials are short. A short time ago the books of the various officers of Nance county were investigated and several thousand dollars shortage found, which was made good by those whose accounts were found short. A good deal of carelessness has been the rule in many counties but tax payers are becoming alive to their interests and are after the men who do not keep the trust given them.

The assessed valuation of Sioux county for 1889, as taken from the official records at Lincoln and published in the Nebraska Farmer, shows an increase of nearly $25,000 over the assessed valuation of 1888. That is not a bad showing for a county that settlement has just commenced in, and the gain of 1890 over 1889 will be much greater than that noted above. At the rate the land is being taken and improved and stock, implements and other goods are being shipped in, the assessed valuation of 1890 will nearly, if not quite, reach three-quarters of a million dollars.

The Herald in the issue of Oct. 19th contained a list of the real estate of Sioux county on which taxes were delinquent and the treasurer announces that he will sell the same on Nov. 4, 1889. It looks like a waste of time, trouble and money to publish the list at that date for the law provides that the advertisement shall begin the first week in October and continue three successive weeks. A tax title issued by the treasurer on the advertisement beginning so late in the month would not be worth much and people will not care to purchase a tax title with a law suit tacked on to it. It is singular that it was not published earlier.

On last Thursday President Harrison appointed Green B. Raum, of Illinois, to the position of commissioner of pensions to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Corporal Tanner. The appointment is reported as giving the best satisfaction to all the leaders of the party and the most prominent G. A. R. men of Washington express themselves as satisfied that the choice was a wise one. Gen. Raum was an excellent soldier, a lawyer of marked ability and is well versed in the rules and practices of the pension office. It is safe to say that the pension department will be administered with justice to both the old soldiers and the government.

The republicans of Mississippi have appealed to the nation for relief as it is absolutely impossible for a person to advocate republican principles in that state. They say that for fourteen years, ever since the infamous Mississippi plan was adopted, the path of republican leaders has been marked by the blood of their slain. The matter must soon come to a crisis and be settled, and the sooner the national government takes a hand in the matter the better. It seems to be out of the question for the political questions in Mississippi to be settled peacefully and the government will be called on to protect her citizens.

The proposed constitution of Wyoming contains very good points. It provides for the Australian ballot system, creates a universal registration law, so that voters either in cities or country precincts must register prior to election day, and it also demands that no one be allowed to vote unless able to read the constitution of the state of Wyoming. That is a step in the right direction and we hope it will not be long until such a law will be in operation all over the land. In addition to that it declares that citizens of both sexes shall be entitled to all election franchises alike. The result of the ballot on the constitution and work of the state government under it will be watched with great interest. It is quite certain that the new states are not afraid to reach out and grapple with questions that many of the older states fail to take up.

Judge an officer by his official acts. He may be as nice a person as one could wish to meet in private life, and yet his official record may be such that he ought not to receive the support of any honest man. In politics it is the public record of a man that is open to inspection. Unless his private life is worse than the average man that need not be questioned, but his acts as a public officer are the property of the people who he asks to support him. It is also frequently the case that a good man is put up as a candidate on a bad ticket to lend respectability to the rest of the ticket and thus draw strength. In such cases it is necessary to judge a man by the company he keeps. That is a rule which is used by business men in the selection of clerks and others in whose hands it becomes necessary to entrust a portion of their business, and we do not see why the same rule will not apply in politics. Remember the story of the good dog Tray.
