-Remember THE JOURNAL clubs with almost any paper in the United States and when you want anything in the line of papers or periodicals call and see us and we can save you some money.

-The scarcity of news in THE JOURNAL this week is due to the fact that the editor has been troubled with a gathering in his head and therefore unable to work, and the foreman has been doing the heavy work or, rather, letting it alone.

-A petition is being circulated for the purpose of calling a meeting of the tax payers of this school district to look up some matters of importance to the district. There was some deal between the school board and the village authorities which will probably come up at the meeting.

-The man who went out to milk and sat down on a boulder in the middle of the pasture and waited for the cow to back up to him, was the eldest brother of the man who kept store and did not advertise, because he reasoned that the purchasing public would back up to his place when it wanted something.

-Reidy & Pollard are prepared to close loans to the amount of $50,000 on or before Dec. 10, 1889. A chance for those who have already proved up and not received their loan on account of the shut down to get money, and also for those who have advertised and whose proof will be made in a few days. Come in and make application at once.

-The ball at the court house on Thanksgiving evening was well attended and passed off very pleasantly. These attending enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. In the raffle for the horses the one put up by Mr. Blunt was won by Fred Smith and the one put up by Jas. Blatney with the supper tickets was won by Grant Guthrie. The dances given at Harrison are becoming deservedly popular and doubtless will be more frequent in future.

-C. H. Andrews and Miss Clara Redd were married the first of the week and arrived on Tuesday morning at Harrison. These are the ranks of the bachelors being thinned. Mr. Andrews and his bride are well known to the people of this vicinity and all extend best wishes for a long and happy married life. On Tuesday evening they were treated to a serenade, and while the music was not so melodious as it might have been, still it was appreciative. The new married couple will occupy the residence just vacated by Rev. Lusk.

-Make application for a loan with Reidy & Pollard.
-Do not fail to take advantage of our combination offer.

W. A. SNYDER,
HENRY SNYDER,
Dated November 28, 1889.

-For more than a week now the public cistern has been empty and the steam pump silent. Many of the private cisterns are empty and others nearly so and still no move has been made by the town board toward remedying the evil. When asked if anything was being done in the matter the simple reply of "nothing" is the only answer, and true enough it seems. When asked the reason, the reply is, "If the people are going to kick on the levy and say it is illegal and refuse to pay their taxes, we cannot get work done and pay for the same with town warrants." It is quite generally known that the city treasury is depleted, and for what? Partly for necessary expenses, partly for unnecessary expenses and partly for salaries that amounted to the height of extravagance and folly. The first official act by the new board last spring was to create all the salaried offices possible, fill them, and make the salary of each as high as the people could possibly be expected to stand—higher by twice or thrice than they had ever before. In order to meet this unnecessary expense the number of mills levied for taxes was made more than twice as high as the outside limit of the law will allow. What is the result? The people rightly refuse to pay an excess of taxes simply to give someone a good fat salary. If the funds were all judiciously expended toward improving the town, as they should be, it is quite likely that there would be no objection to the amount of taxes levied, but when a board has once been trusted with funds which they failed to apply properly, it cannot be expected that the people will make any donations simply for them to monkey with. If there is a board in whom the people have confidence, and who will work in the interest of improvement and advancement there will be no difficulty in raising the necessary funds to carry on any needed work.

-The stock of goods formerly owned by Ross & Thompson is a thing of the past. On last Thursday no legal papers could be served on account of its being Thanksgiving. From the opening of the store until the arrival of the train from the east, goods were disposed of very rapidly and at prices which attracted the public. When the train arrived Attorney Fisher took possession of the stock under a chattel mortgage and in the evening he loaded four wagons with goods and they were taken to Wyoming. Shortly after midnight attachments were obtained and that of Brookmire was served first and others followed. The stock was invoiced under the first attachment. On Monday the sheriff began to sell the goods. Attorney Conley got out a writ of replevin, the coroner being absent he handed the writ to the sheriff in person, but that officer paid no heed to it and the sale continued and by Tuesday noon the room was cleared. Senator Bartow came up from Chadron on Tuesday, he being the attorney for Brookmire, to dismiss the suit, and on investigation he found that the house had not given bonds and also that they had not authorized the instigation of any suit so there was no case of theirs to dismiss. Conley represents the Toller-ton & Stetson Company, of Sioux City, whose claim amounts to $1,400. The firm had put up their bond and the papers were issued by the clerk of the district court, and the result will be that action will be brought against Sheriff Frost and his bondsmen for the value of the stock of goods. It is even thought by some that some of the actions relative to the stock were such as to lead to criminal prosecutions. At all events it is certain that that stock of goods was not handled in a manner calculated to do justice either to the creditors or to the firm which had them, and the wholesale houses will be quite apt to see that the matter is sifted to the bottom. If a stock of goods can be taken before any suit has been commenced, and the goods sold out at prices which will clear out the room in less than two days, in open violation of the law which provides that at least ten days notice must be given in such cases before the goods can be sold, it would not be long until every wholesale house in the country would be driven to the wall. The matter will be settled in the district court and there justice will be meted out to all parties concerned.

-Reidy & Pollard can make you a loan on short notice.
-Do not fail to call on THE JOURNAL if you want a nice job of printing done.

On Thanksgiving day Mr. James Everson and Miss Sarah Bendick were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Surely Mr. Everson has something to be thankful for as has also his bride. A band of about twenty boys called upon the happy couple Monday night. We presume it was for the purpose of tendering congratulations.

On last Thursday quite a number of the friends and relatives met at the hospitable home of the Carey family to pay homage to a Thanksgiving turkey. The table that was spread for the occasion presented a most inviting appearance. In addition to the roast turkey there were pies, cakes, sauce, preserves, and in fact almost everything known to the culinary art that is palatable and nice. All present enjoyed the dinner as well as having a good social time. It was an occasion long to be remembered by all who participated.

The laws of health are taught in the schools; but not in a way to be of much practical benefit and are never illustrated by living examples, which in many cases might easily be done. If some scholar, who had just contracted a cold, was brought before the school, so that all could hear the dry, loud cough and know its significance see the thin white coating on the tongue and later, as the cold developed see the profuse watery expectoration, and thin watery discharge from the nose, not one of them would ever forget what the first symptoms of a cold were. The scholar should then be given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely, that all might see that even a severe cold could be cured in one or two days or at least greatly mitigated when properly treated as soon as the first symptoms appear. This remedy is famous for its cures of coughs, colds and croup. It is made especially for these diseases and is the most prompt and most reliable medicine known for the purpose. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. H. Andrews.
