

The Special Session Recalled.

DEATH OF NEBRASKA; EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT—To the Members of the Twenty-first General Assembly:

A legal question has arisen which may effect laws results as to legislation to be enacted by the legislature at the proposed special session to convene on the 5th day of June next. I am advised by eminent authority, among the very highest legal authorities of the state, that grave results may follow the passage of laws by the legislature in its present condition, and that such laws may be declared void. This opinion is most pronounced and emphatic. Another opinion, equally eminent, is that the question is surrounded with very grave doubts. The cause of these opinions is found in the fact that several districts in the state will be without representation. The spirit, intent and purpose of the constitution is, that all the people of the state shall be represented. In the districts referred to the people have had no opportunity to elect their representatives for the purpose of filling vacancies, and, therefore, they are deprived of the right of representation from so fault of their own. The difficulty has arisen from the fact that a number of members have been appointed to lucrative positions in the cities and counties, and others have removed from their districts, which fact disqualifies them from holding seats in the legislature. They had not tendered their resignations and the official knowledge of such vacancies and therefore could not order them to be filled. The statute requires that before the convening of the legislative body in special session the vacancies shall be filled by special election; the command is imperative. Therefore in order to remove the difficulty, it would be necessary to postpone the time of the meeting of the legislature to a subsequent date and to order elections in the vacant districts, which might extend the session to mid-summer. Rather than to prolong the agitation of this special session and to cause elections to take place at this time and to save expense to the state, and in view of the legal difficulty, I have decided to rescind the call for a special session.

Now, therefore, I, John M. Thayer, governor of the state of Nebraska, do hereby issue this, my proclamation, revoking the call for a special session of the legislature contained in my proclamation of date, the 24th day of May, last, convening the legislature on the 5th day of June next, and do hereby declare that there will be no special session of the legislature.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state.

Done at Lincoln, this 31st day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety, of the state the twenty-fourth, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and fourteenth.

By the governor: JOHN M. THAYER, Governor.

DEW. R. COWDERY, Secretary of state.

Hon. L. D. Richards' boom for governor gathers momentum every day. It already looks as though it would be useless for any one else to apply.—Fremont Tribune.

The act of Gov. Thayer rescinding the proclamation for a special session of the legislature, appears to give quite general satisfaction. The prevailing opinion is that there was no emergency demanding an extra session.

Judge Kinkaid fined a school district treasurer $500 for contempt of court, in Cherry county a few days ago. The court had ordered the school officer to pay certain warrants and he failed to do so and upon the fact being proven to the court the above fine was imposed.

The political aspect indicates that L. B. McKinney, of Fremont, will be the republican nominee for governor. Mr. McKinney is state central committeeman and has been. His nomination will be opposed by the republicans of the 24th district.—Kinsell Ob.

Just as sure as hot weather comes there will be more or less bowel complaint in this vicinity. On last Monday a third proclamation from Gov. Thayer was published. It was rescinding the proclamation calling the legislature to convene in extra session on June 5th. The last proclamation was expected as ever since the call for an extra session a great deal of pressure has been brought to bear on the executive to get him to rescind the call. It is quite evident that the governor had been led to believe that a few men represented the majority of the people of the state and that a special session was demanded, but public meetings were held and petitions circulated, signed and sent to the governor which proved clearly that the people of Nebraska did not desire an extra session, and the result was the recalling of the order.

It is now in order for the people of the state to take hold of public matters as they should. Let every one go to the primaries of their respective parties and send delegates to the various conventions who will select men for legislators who will work and vote for the Australian ballot system and a board of railroad commissioners to be elected by the people. It rests with the farmers and laborers of the state whether such laws are passed or not. They have the power for they have the numbers, but if they do not take interest enough in the affairs of the public to exercise the rights given them they should not raise a howl because things are not done to suit them. See that honest men are elected to represent you, or rather, see that honest men are nominated. Do not stay at home until the nominations are made and then kick, but take a hand in the selection of the men.

The reports from Washington indicate that there will be no silver legislation. The west ought to rise and make a united demand that there be legislation of that kind, and also that it be of a very liberal nature. It is stated that a party of importers representing $800,000,000 went to Washington to protest against some of the items in the tariff bill, and that will certainly have some weight, but if the united west should make an appeal for free silver coinage, a much greater power would be represented than the capital of the importers. The west wants an increase in the volume of the currency. It is true that it would decrease the purchasing power of a dollar, but it would not decrease the debt-paying power of the dollar, and the west wants to get out of debt.

The Herald makes a great ado about the selection of census enumerators for Sioux county and appears to feel bad because the recommendation made by the fusion county committee were not heeded. It also states that the status of affairs in Sioux county are known outside the borders of the county. That certainly is a fact. It is pretty well known in republican circles that the committee of which the editor of the fusion-ring-organ is chairman, is composed partly of democrats, and that a democrat is the guiding power of the fusion political organization in Sioux county, and it is safe to predict that the actions of that committee will be dealt with as they deserve. If any man or set of men expect recognition from the republican party they should not fuse with the democrats.

There is no question but that the general agitation of the labor question all over the country will result in remedies being provided for many of the abuses now existing. The new law in New York providing that employees shall be paid at the end of each week and that wages cannot be assigned to the employers or their agents is certainly a step in the right direction. A law prohibiting large companies from establishing stores of their own and compelling employees to purchase of them at exorbitant prices ought to be in force in every state. The tendency is to assist the laboring classes and farmers and if they continue to take an active part in the public affairs they can get all the relief to which they are entitled, for they have the numerical strength to compel recognition.

The candidacy of Judge Kinkaid for congress in the third district is becoming stronger every day. Reports come in from good, reliable sources that the popular jurist of the northwestern district will go into the congressional convention with the entire twelfth judicial district solid for him and will also have a large number of delegates from other parts of the congressional district who would like to see Kinkaid sent to represent this district in congress. The fact is that Judge Kinkaid is a man of honesty and ability and wherever he is known he is respected and admired, and the republicans of the third district would honor themselves by honoring him.

If congress would stop the buckering on the tariff and pass the free silver coinage bill they would do more to relieve the west than by any other action they could perform. The sooner they do that the sooner they will do what a vast majority of the people of the west want them to do.

Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson in an interview a few days ago denied that he had sent in his resignation or that he ever contemplated doing so. The news gatherers at Washington are constantly in search of some sensational news regarding officials and it appears that the reports of the resignation of Clarkson was a newspaper fake.

Church Howe has resigned his position with the Missouri Pacific railroad, and it is rumored that he will be a candidate for congress in the first district. There is one thing certain and that is that Church Howe is one of the ablest men in the state and if he gets out of railroad circles, a great many would support him who have always been opposed to him for public office.

The Valentine Gazette, a prohibition paper, claims that all license men oppose the Australian ballot system. That is a grave error. Ward rousers and political tricksters may oppose the measure for by its adoption they would lose all chance to ply their vocation, but every man who wants to see a free ballot and a fair count is anxious to see that method of conducting elections adopted.

The following item, clipped from the Ft. Madison, Iowa, Democrat, contains information well worth remembering: "Mr. John Roth of this city, who met with an accident a few days ago spraining and bruising his leg and arm quite severely, was cured by one 50 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm." This remedy is without an equal for sprains and bruises and should have a place in every household. For sale by C. H. Andrews.

The indications are that the tariff legislation enacted by the present congress will make material reductions on many things. It is a hard matter to get it so prepared that it will do no injustice to any of the varied industries of the country. A great cry has gone up to reduce the tariff on sugar, but the projectors of the Grand Island sugar factory declare that if the contemplated reduction is made it will be ruinous to them. The feeling in the west is for reduction as rapidly as is consistent and that feeling appears to be growing stronger all the time.

The laws of South Dakota provide that insurance companies shall publish a statement and also fix the rate to be paid for such publication. It appears that advertising agents have taken the contract to have the work done for the insurance companies and are attempting to get the work done for half price. The Oelrichs Advocate through its columns, gives the advertising agents to understand that they will have to pay the rate provided by law if the statements are published in that paper. If all the publishers of South Dakota take that position and stay by it, they will be following a wise course.

Decoration day was more generally observed this year throughout the east than ever before. The most notable event of the day probably occurred at Cleveland, Ohio, where a handsome monument was dedicated to President Garfield. The affair was grand and was attended by President Harrison, members of his cabinet and other noted men. At New York the corner stone of the Washington memorial arch was laid with appropriate ceremonies. At almost every city and town the occasion was fittingly observed. It will not be long until the day set apart in memory of the dead heroes of the rebellion will be most universally observed of all national holidays.
