What We Need.

What Nebraska needs is an "old bu esa" governor-one who knows in the nor east. The office has not been beld by a business man for a great man years and the business interests of th state are demanding that a business ma be put there. It is an executive offic implies that it should be filled by a man who has executive ability. The blunders this administration would never have been committed by a business man who had ever made a dollar for himself in the first Monday of each month. practical business competition of the world. The ability to do that would preclude the commission of such acts.-Fremont Tribune.
