—The ladies of the W. C. T. U. are requested to make a special effort to be present at school Saturday afternoon.

—Attorney Eckles, of Chadron, spoke on the amendment question at the church Tuesday evening to a fair audience. The address is reported to have been quite interesting.

—Every body is invited to attend the Bible school on Sunday at 3 o'clock, p. m. The hour has been changed in the belief that it will suit the majority of the people and an increased attendance is looked for.

—The ladies are preparing for a pound social to be held at the church on Wednesday evening, Nov. 5th, for the benefit of Rev. Rorick and family. Ladies will serve a free supper. All are invited to attend and bring a pound or more of something appropriate.

—Leonard Lout and John Riederoff arrived home last Sunday. They started east with a lot of horses in July and succeeded in disposing of nearly all of them at satisfactory prices. They say they are well satisfied with the result of the trip.

J. E. ARNER.

—Last Sunday morning County Clerk Lindeman was playing with his boys at the family residence, when Ian, the youngest, fell and struck his knee against the sharp edge of a broken bottle, and received quite a severe cut, but it will soon be all right.

—Do you want men for commissioner and county attorney who represent the gang which ran the county in 1889 at an expense to the taxpayers of over $10,000.00, or do you want men who represent those who have run it in 1890 at an expense of less than $4,000.00?

—The negroes who were in jail at Crawford, charged with an attempt to burn the town, escaped a few days ago. McCauley the white man who was held on the charge of instigating the crime, was held to appear at the district court and gave the bond required. It is hoped the guilty parties will be apprehended and punished.

—It is a sight affecting enough to draw tears from the eyes of an Egyptian tummy to see Geo. Walker and D. P. Davis go out together electioneering for Davis and Simmons, his associate-gang-candidate. It is safe to say that the voters of Sioux county can recall the past record of the two in Sioux county, and their combined influence will not be very great.

—Election next Tuesday, Nov. 4th.

—The frame of Cunningham's new building is up and will soon be enclosed.

—J. H. Cook shipped two car loads of fat cattle from the Agate Springs stock farm, a few days ago. He also shipped a car load of horses to an eastern market.

—To the justice of the peace and his officer who cannot decide which shall have a maverick, we would suggest that they divide the "critter" between them.

—The new grates for the boiler at the pumping station arrived a few days ago, and have been put in place. The new cylinder head is in its place and everything is in good shape, around the apparatus.

—S. L. Ellis arrived on Monday with a car load of goods and stock and has rented the DeBrown property, north of T. O. Williams' residence. His mother and sister will be here in a few days to occupy the home with him.

—The first quarterly meeting of the M. E. church of Harrison will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 8th and 9th. Quarterly conference Saturday, at 2 p. m. The presiding elder will be present. All are cordially invited.

—It is reported that a farmer has struck a six foot vein of coal on his place near Chadron, the coal being of good quality and a shaft is being sunk. Should the report prove true that man has a good prospect ahead, for his coal will prove a great source of revenue and the state of Nebraska has a standing offer of $5,000.00 for such a find.

—The adjourned meeting of the Sioux county alliance was held here last Saturday. Delegates were present from White River, Cottonwood, Bodare and Antelope. No report of their proceedings has been handed in for publication, but we learn that they decided to put F. W. Knott up as a candidate for commissioner and left the place for county attorney blank on their ticket.

—H. W. MacLachlan had a little experience with a runaway last Monday morning as he was returning from his farm on Running Water. A spring on the road cart on which he was riding broke and horse, cart and driver went to the bottom of a ravine. He escaped without injury and succeeded in catching his horse and reached town without further mishap.

—The last issue of the Herald contained a lot of rot which it claims H. T. Conley told Geo. L. Pigg, the independent candidate for representative, when they met a short time ago near Montrose. E. J. Wilcox was present at the time and heard the conversation and he says Mr. Conley made no such statements as the gang organ claims he did. The fact is that the outfit realize that they are playing a desperate and losing game and they do not care what they say so long as they think it will assist them in their efforts to gain their object, but the people have learned their utter disregard for the truth and their wild ranting will do no good to themselves and no harm to those against whom they discharge their venom.

—The fall term of school closed here on last Friday. A number of the friends and patrons of the school went to the school and listened to the exercises in the afternoon, and provided refreshments which were served later, and a pleasant time enjoyed. This week there is no school. The winter term will begin next Monday, with an additional teacher, and the school of district No. 7 will be raised to the dignity of a graded school. This demonstrates the fact that the people of this locality, like those of all Nebraska, propose to give the children every possible opportunity to secure an education. The state of Nebraska has a smaller per cent of illiterate persons in it than any other state in the Union and with the universal interest in school matters, the indications are that the standard of intelligence will not be lowered.

—It is stated that foreign nations have decided that a protective tariff is a good thing and some of them are preparing to adopt laws similar to those of the United States. The tariff is the greatest commercial question before the world and has been for some years and it appears to be no nearer a settlement than it was a good while ago. It is likely that it will furnish a subject for legislative discussion and political eloquence for some time to come, and changes will be made by each congress, which will be satisfactory to some and displeasing to others. The interests of the United States are so diversified that it is out of the question to get the matter adjusted to the satisfaction of all parts of the country, so that each will have to concede a little in order that the good of the masses may be subserved.

Ayer's pills are an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels. This medicine should be kept in every family.

—S. H. Jones has purchased the residence property which is now occupied by him, from C. E. Holmes.

—The paper issued by the Herald Publishing Company, of which D. P. Davis (the gang candidate for county attorney) is "advisory" member, having exhausted all else it can harp on against H. T. Conley, as a last resort attempts to belittle his court work on account of the class of cases he has and his method of conducting them. Would it not be well for the "advisory" member of the Herald Publishing Company to tell the readers of his paper how he has conducted some of his cases in court? Does he think he will make any friends or votes for himself by filling his paper with abuse, falsehoods, and slurs in regard to Mr. Conley, who is running against him for the same office? The fact is Davis has never tried a case in court, and for lack of experience, if nothing else, is entirely unfitted for the position of county attorney, but an attempt is made by the paper controlled by himself and his gang to keep up a howl about Conley in order to detract attention from his own lack of fitness as well as his past acts. Had Davis as the "advisory" member of the Herald Publishing Company, given the "proprietary" members of said company the advice to make an honest fight against Conley, he and his paper would have accomplished a good deal more.
