—A little one arrived at the home of James Nolan last week.

—We learn, just as we go to press, that the expert accountant has nearly completed his work and his report will be filed about the first of next week. He will have put in less than four weeks which is less time than was expected would be required.

—On Tuesday night it began to snow and has kept it up ever since until the time we go to press (Thursday noon), the wind blowing strong from the northwest, with no indications of abating. The snow was wet and would cause a good deal of suffering to stock which was not sheltered.

—The village election passed off very quietly on Tuesday. There was but one ticket in the field and but eighteen votes were cast. Those elected as village trustees for the ensuing year are, S. H. Jones, H. A. Cunningham, E. G. Hough, S. L. R. Maine and Thomas Reidy. The new ballot law pleased every one.

—The work of the expert accountant is progressing as rapidly as possible as Mr. Brugh is anxious to get through, as the commissioners of Brown county want him to investigate the records of that county, and he will go there as soon as his work in Sioux county is completed. His services appear to be in pretty good demand.

—On last Monday THE JOURNAL office received a large invoice of new job stock and now has a complete line of every- thing needed, such as letter heads, note heads, bill heads, statements, flat paper, type writer paper, cards, envelopes, etc. When in need of anything in that line call and see the stock and sam- ples of work.

—Steps are being taken to have the Grammercy postoffice moved some miles west of the present location and to have a new office established at the residence of S. R. Story. It is said the arrange- ment would be a great convenience to the settlers of that locality. It is hoped that the attempt will be successful as good mail facilities help to build up the country.

—Take the Fremont, Elkhorn & Mis- souri Valley and Sioux City & Pacific railroad for Fremont, Lincoln, Hastings, Superior, Omaha, Missouri Valley, Sioux City, St. Paul, Duluth and points north, Des Moines, Dixon, Chicago, Milwaukee, and the lumber regions in Wisconsin. Close connections are made at Chicago for Toledo, Buffalo, Albany, Philadel- delphia, New York and all points in the east. Palace sleeping cars on all through trains.

—B. L. Smuck arrived here the first of the week with a complete barber outfit and proceeded to get ready for business. He has fitted up the room one door east of the postoffice where he can be found prepared to do anything in his line. Mr. Smuck expects to have his family here before the first of next month and become a permanent resident. He invites all to call and see him.

—The relief committee received 300 bushels more of wheat yesterday so that will give each of the three hundred who get seed an additional bushel. It will be a great help to the farmers and with what other seed is being obtained by the farmers will make a pretty good acreage of crop in the county. All look forward to good crops and prosperous times. A good crop this year will cause the farm of every one in the county to greatly increase in value, and bring many new settlers here.

—Deputy Treasurer S. H. Jones has been appointed clerk to Special Agent Cooper, who has been sent out by the government to settle losses sustained by the friendly Indians during the late trouble, and is to report for duty at Pine Ridge not later than the 15th inst. Mr. Jones will go the first of the week and will be absent several weeks.

The Beet Sugar Industry.

In an article on the subject of the future of the sugar beet industry the Toledo Blade talks as follows:

The beet sugar industry is on a firm basis. Europe has been making it for about a century. The process is thor- oughly understood, and trained men can be secured from Europe to manage fac- tories. The element of uncertainty is, which variety will produce the greatest amount of sugar per ton of beets, grown on our soil. This can only be told by ex- periments on a large scale, conducted by the farmers themselves.

The larger a factory is, the cheaper per ton can it produce sugar. But the fac- tories must be in the region where the beets are raised, as the freight for long distances would be too costly. There are several factories now in successful opera- tion, notably the one at Grand Island, Nebraska and the bounty under the new law will promote the erection of others very speedily. To illustrate the method of working, we will give an example, summarized from Willett & Gray's Weekly Statistical Position of Sugar:

A beet sugar factory is building at Chino, San Bernardino county, Califor- nia. Enough farmers in that vicinity agreed to raise crops large enough to supply it with beets, and it will begin operations next fall, as soon as the beets are grown. A written contract is en- tered into between the factory and each farmer, the latter agreeing to plant a certain number of acres (the seed fur- nished by the factory at cost), to culti- vate harvest and deliver the crop at the factory, the roots clean, the tops cut off close to the beet. The factory agrees to pay $3.50 per ton for beets that will average 12 per cent of their weight in sugar, of a purity co-efficient of 80; and 25 cents additional per ton for each ad- ditional 1 per cent of sugar above 12. The factory has the right to reject dis- eased beets, very large ones, or those which grow largely above ground, and those which will not average 12 per cent of sugar, or whose co-efficient of purity is less than 80.

Any intelligent man, who will give the subject thought, will see that the bounty will induce men to go into the business of raising beets, or to invest money in factories, which they would be indisposed to do without it. We buy annually $16,000,000 worth of beet sugar from Germany alone. It cannot be dis- tinguished, when refined, from other sugars. It will make a profitable crop for our farmers, for they and the men employed in the factories will be paid the millions of dollars we now pay other countries for the sugar we need.

Warbonnet News.

Miss Elsie Merriam left a week ago to take charge of the Spring creek school.

George Davis and family start next Monday for Seaman's ranch, Montana, where they will spend the summer.

All agree that the prospects are good for a crop if we had seed, and we believe that the $50,000 which the state gives to make an exhibit at the great world's fair might better have been given to those who need bread and seed.

The sawmill is ever ready to handle all the logs brought there.

W. D. Lyon, father of Mrs. O. A. Gar- ten, is visiting her.

Frank Demaseig has two men hired to chop and one to haul sawlogs and has commenced to build a new house. Let the good work go on.

Miss Alice Thomas closed her second term of school in district No. 15 on last Friday. An entertainment was given in the afternoon of the last day.

H. T. Merriam is down with the gripe. E. E. Garten has gone to Iowa on a visit.

The frame of L. Gerlach's new house is up and being enclosed.

Stock in this vicinity has gone through the winter with but small loss.

The private secretary of Gov. Boyd appeared in the house of representatives on last Friday and formally announced that the maximum freight rate bill had been returned without the signature of the chief executive. The veto mes- sage was read and a motion made to pass the bill over the veto. When the vote was taken it showed 55 in favor of its passage and 17 against, and the speaker declared the bill passed. It was sent to the senate and when a vote was taken there it resulted in 18 voting for its pas- sage and 13 against it, and as the major- ity was not large enough to fulfill the requirements of the constitution the bill was killed. No bill has come up in the legislature for years that has attracted so much interest throughout the state as has this, and petitions for and against the bill had been signed by a large num- ber of people and sent to the governor, but it seems that the Bea knew whereof it spoke when it stated some time before that Boyd would veto it. The legisla- ture adjourned on Saturday and conse- quently there will be no railroad legisla- tion for some time to come. There were no usury laws passed, neither was any legislative apportionment provided for. It will be some time before the work of the legislature can be published. Some bills were passed which, from what can be learned from reports, will be benefi- cial, but just what was accomplished cannot be learned until the session laws are printed which will be about June. There is some talk of a special session of the legislature being called, but that kind of talk is always heard at the close of the session and will likely come to naught. The supreme court last week adjourned until May 5th without hand- ing down a decision in the Thayer-Boyd matter. That was a great surprise to all. What such action, or rather want of action, means is hard to surmise. Some claim that the court did not want to hand down the decision until after the legislature adjourned for fear that the old contest might be revived and rumors of various kinds are circulated. It is not justice to the litigants nor to the people of the state that such delay should be made. The motives of the court may have been all right, but the course taken certainly less the court open to criticism. If there is any part of the government that should be careful to keep itself above suspicion or reproach it is the courts and the recent action in the case in question cannot reflect any credit on the supreme court of the state. The question simply is, can an alien be- come a citizen of the United States without complying with the constitution. If he can Boyd is entitled to have the cloud that is hanging over him re- moved. If he cannot, the executive of- fice should be relieved of the cloud that is now suspended about it. There may be dark depths of law and precedent to fathom in the matter, but to the average citizen it does not appear at all compli- cated.
