To Subscribers.

The JOURNAL is now more than three years old and has never urged its subscribers to settle, owing to the hard times with which the settlers have had to contend, but now with the good crops and general prosperity of the people, it is but justice to ask those who are indebted on subscription or other accounts to call and settle. It is a small amount to each individual but in the aggregate amounts to hundreds of dollars, and as we have shared the hardships of the past with you, we desire to share the prosperity of the present with you also. If you cannot settle in full, pay a part of it as it will all help us meet our bills and running expenses. In many cases it has been simply an oversight and we hope that thus calling attention to the matter will bring a prompt response.

THE PUBLISHER.

—Apples 90c per bushel at Turner's.

—Blankets and robes at Cunningham's.

—Dr. J. G. Shafer received a new windmill the first of the week which he will put up on his farm northwest of town. It will not be long until wind-mill will be numerous in this locality.

—J. W. Scott had about fifty bushels of potatoes buried and when the recent cold snap set in he thought it best to be safe and so put a load of manure on top of the heap. A few days later he examined them and found that they had got so hot that they had cooked.

—The vote between S. L. R. Maine and W. E. Moore for assessor of Bowen precinct being a tie, the parties in interest were notified to appear at the office of the county clerk on last Monday and decide the matter according to law. The result was that Mr. Maine was the lucky one and will do the assessing next spring.

—For a long time Mrs. Davis, mother of W. H. Davis, has had a good deal of trouble with her eyes and of late they have grown rapidly worse so that she could not see at all a part of the time and on last Saturday she started for Omaha where she will be treated by an oculist. Her many friends hope soon to hear of her complete cure.

—The free dance and supper on last Friday evening was attended by only a few, as the storm which prevailed during the afternoon deterred those from attending who had any distance to come. A large crowd would have been there had the weather been fine, but people do not care to start out in a snow storm at this season of the year and take chances.

—A good deal of trouble appears to be likely to grow out of damage done by stock. Two or three cases are reported where stock has been taken up for damage and the owners have taken them away against the wishes of the parties who had been damaged. There is a pretty heavy penalty for such acts and it might be well for all parties concerned in such matters to look up the law in the matter.

—The editor stood at the beam of a ful gate, in all his sins and his patches; not long did he wonder, not long did he wait, for they gave him a handful of matches. And they tapped a big bell that was answered in—well, the place with the sulphurous crater; and in the next minute he found himself in it—the down-going fast elevator. And they landed him straightway in furnace fifteen, near by a political briber; when lo! in the halo of burnstone was seen the old-time delinquent subscriber. And vainly to hide his emotions he tried—I would that his face I could show you—as he drew a huge cart to the editor's side, saying: "Friend, here's that wood that I owe you?" —Ex.

—While in Crawford last week the editor of THE JOURNAL, in speaking with some of the leading men of the town learned that an effort would be made in the near future to do some work to secure new settlers in northwest Nebraska. In this work the people of Crawford and the people of Sioux county should join hands and work together, for their interests are identical in the matter and the expense will not be so heavy on either locality as it would be for each to work independently, and in addition to those points the work will be a great deal more effective by united action. Sioux county has a vast amount of free government land yet subject to homestead settlement and the fact that Crawford is located near the county line makes the settlement of importance to the business men of Crawford. These interested in the settlement of the county and the consequent increase in the value of their land should do all in their power to help in this work. Now is the time to do effective work and earnest, united work should be commenced at once and kept up until every quarter section of land in Sioux county is occupied by a farmer.

—Go to Turner's for bargains in everything.

—Twenty-four bars of soap for $1 at Turner's.

—The cloudy sky made it impossible for any one to see the eclipse of the moon Sunday evening.

—With plenty of snow during the winter good crops will reward the farmers next season.

—Every one appears to be in favor of an agricultural society. Who will take hold of the matter and get it in shape?

—W. B. Wright's father was here a few days ago looking around with a view to locating. Everything indicates that many new people will locate here in the near future.

—The prospects are that the coming winter will not be very mild and people will do well to prepare for severe weather, then if it comes they will be more comfortable, and if it does not come they will be nothing out.

—The weather for the past week has been decidedly cold and stormy. It caught a good many before they were prepared for it. Such weather is not altogether pleasant but it helps make good crops next season, and that is what the people want.

—The president and governor have issued proclamation fixing November 26 as a day of thanksgiving. Now if some one will bring us a nice, fat turkey, goose, duck, or something equivalent, it will greatly assist us in the matter of giving thanks.

—The date for the special term of the district court has not been fixed. It was understood that a term would begin at Chadron on the 4th, but it has been postponed until December 4, and it is quite likely that the term for Sioux county will be held during the same month.

—Last year America imported 3,498,442,325 pounds of sugar and produced 512,261,530 pounds. These tremendous figures are enough to open the eyes of men of business instinct to the fact that it will take a good many acres of sugar beets and a large number of sugar making plants to put a stop to importations.

—H. T. Merriam brought to this office a sample of syrup made from sugar beets. It is rich, thick and palatable, although it had not been purified, the taste being similar to that of sorghum. It was made in the simplest manner, the beets having been cut up and boiled and the juice pressed out and boiled down. The yield is good for the quantity of beets used and the product is as good for general use as that of sorghum, and it does not require as much machinery to obtain it. The samples and report sent by Mr. Merriam to Washington showed a yield of over 16 per cent of sugar of coefficient purity of 80.4, and a yield of beets per acre of 15.5 tons and of sugar 3652 pounds per acre. Such a showing is very fair and goes to bear out the position that Sioux county in the sugar belt and is destined to be one of the leading localities in the production of sugar.

—It is a good time for our people to again take up the matter of roads. It is necessary for the welfare and prosperity of Harrison and its business men to see that better roads are made from the country north of the pine ridge. A great deal of business is going to other places which rightfully belongs to Harrison and it will continue to go there unless the people get a move on themselves and get roads over which the farmers can haul loads. If Harrison ever expects to build up and compete with other towns successfully it is absolutely necessary to make it as pleasant and convenient for the farmers to get here as possible. The people like to go where they are made to feel that they are wanted and nothing can be done that will do more to show such feeling than to provide good roads by which the farmers can reach the town. Some good, active, earnest work in this matter should be done and done at once.

—The sugar beet factory at Grand Island has established a schedule of prices for sugar beets for next year, which is a material advance over that paid now. It is estimated that the advance will increase the price per acre about $90.00 where the average yield is 15 tons to the acre. Beets that will test 12 per cent will be worth $3.00 per ton, and for each additional per cent of sugar the advance is 50 cents instead of 25 cents as formerly. Beets that test 16 per cent sugar will be worth $5.00 per ton instead of 4.00, and where they test as high as 20 per cent they will be worth $7.00 per ton. These prices will pay farmers to raise beets and to take good care of them. The company advises deep fall plowing for beets. Contracts for next year's supply are being made and probably will all be closed inside of a month. Those contemplating raising beets should make their contracts at once.—Broken

—A. R. Kennedy expects to move his family to town in the near future.

—We learn that quite a number are intending to fit up fish ponds and stock them with fish. That is a good plan. It would be well for all to arrange so that they could send in their applications together and then the fish commissioner could come up with his fish car and the fish would be delivered in good condition. A good fish pond, well stocked would prove a paying investment and would also furnish a great deal of sport. There is no occasion for the people of this locality to have to ship fish in from the east. The many nice streams and fine locations for ponds offer excellent opportunities for raising fish.
