The attention of the editor of the Herald is called to the record of the commissioners published in this issue. The question of interest was raised in the Seymour case and the supreme court passed on it. The reason no action was taken at the previous meeting was that it was desired to know what the supreme court would do. Perhaps the Herald will be fair enough to set Commissioners Green and Knott right before its readers in the matter.

It will not be long until the new settlers will begin to arrive. Henry Lindeman will be here the first of next month and J. C. Noel is preparing to come as soon as he can get his arrangements made to leave his present home, and people tell us almost every day of those they expect to come. A gentleman will be here the first of the month to look up a location to establish a herd of thorough-bred Hereford cattle and such herds help to build up a country.

There is quite a difference in the tone of the farmers now from what there was a year ago. At that time each one wanted to put in crops but could not put in as much as they desired because of lack of seed and feed for their teams. Now they have those necessities and are looking for land to rent and the prospects are that no land that is available will lay idle this year, and a great deal of breaking will be done, all of which means prosperity.

Last Monday night about eleven o'clock Ed., the 14-year-old son of W. C. O'Connor, who lives east of town, took a horse from his father's barn and rode off. Mr. O'Connor discovered that the horse was gone and tracked him into the hills west of town that night. Next morning he again took up the trail and followed it to B. F. Johnson's place where he found the boy and horse. Taking the horse he started for home and told the boy he could stay and work for Mr. Johnson. The boy started along on foot. His father told him he had better get on the horse and ride, which he did but the father retained hold of the halter of the horse. The boy suggested that they ride faster and on his promising that he would go home his father let loose of the halter and the boy rode off, but instead of coming home he gave his father the slip and he and the horse are still missing. It may not have occurred to the boy that he was committing a crime but should his father see fit to take legal action it would likely result in a term at the reform school. It breaks up the work team of Mr. O'Connor which will be a great inconvenience with the spring work just coming on.

Cottonwood News.

Logging is the order of the day. Miss Addie Carey returned home from Chadron last Monday.

Mr. Lena Garman, of Butte City, Mont., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Carey.

Miss Emma Speas has returned home from Crawford where she has been working for the past few months.

Once more there are two sawmills running on Cottonwood.

Foster Speas and Clarence Saxton, the Wyoming cowboys are taking advantage of the good sleighing and are getting in logs. The boys expect to farm the Boesl and Harmon places next season. They say they have graduated from the broncho's back.

There are several in the valley who are agitating the county division question. However, they are mostly disappointed office seekers.

There is prayer meeting at the Cottman school house every Sunday evening. Mr. Elsberry will continue to give singing lessons at the school house in Dist. No. 4 until spring work opens up.

There was a dance at F. M. Proconier's last Friday evening.

A protracted meeting was commenced at the church on Thursday evening, Jan. 28th. The meetings are conducted by Rev. Currens assisted by Rev. Griffin and Rev. Pool. They have received sixteen new members in the church up to this date. It is not known how long the meetings will continue.

Sugar Beet Meeting.
The meeting in the interest of the sugar beet industry was organized by the election of Eli Smith as chairman and L. J. Simmons as secretary.

Addresses were made by P. S. Palmer, A. E. Sheldon, A. C. Putnam, and C. H. Lutz which threw a good deal of light on the subject of sugar beets. On motion a committee consisting of L. J. Simmons, Otto Preetz and A. L. Bumgartner was appointed to solicit contracts for beets.

The sense of the meeting was taken that the senator and representative of this district be urged to use their influence to secure a state bounty of one dollar per ton on sugar beets to be paid by the state to the grower.

The fact that the necessary information in regard to tools had not been obtained deterred any definite action being taken, but the gentlemen from Chadron expect to furnish such information in the near future and as soon as that is obtained the committee will be ready to receive signatures to contracts. On motion the meeting adjourned.

E. J. Simmons, Secretary.
