TU TURALI

The WELLY WORLD-HERALD contains a splendid agricultural department and is the only weekly newspaper in the west having an agricultural editor. This makes it of special value to farmers, because it takes the place of a special agri-mitural paper and saves that expense. TURT

In the publication of interesting stories the Worths-HERALD has always been ahead of all rivals in the west. It will, during the present winter and spring, publish at least one short story each wook, as it always does, and in addition it will spread before its readers some of the best serial atories ever written. Re-cently Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's latest story, "Giovanni and the Other," has appeared in the WORLD-HERALD from week to week. After it came an exciting and mysterious story by "Luke Sharp," which ran several weeks, and that will be followed by a new story by "Mark Twain," the famous humorist and story writer. Others will fol-

TICS:

The WORLD-HERALD is great on politi-cal news. Being independent of party organizations it is fair. In the presidential fight so close at hand it will give in its news columns all sides. Editor-ially it will continue to struggle for tariff reform an increase of the money supply on a sound basis, the regulation of rail-roads, the reduction of freight rates and the development of the west. At Washington it now has Mr. R. L. Metcalfe, so well known in Nebraska, and he will give in the best and most readable form the Washington news of greatest interest to Nelraska, Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming and other parts of the west.

The WORLD-Hauath aims to be entertaining and amusing as well as interesting and instructive. Therefore every issue contains such humorous stories at witty paragraphs as can be gathered from the best funny papers.
