From the Chadron Citizen we learn that on Dec. 31, 1892, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Rorick became the parents of a 14 pound boy.

E. M. Smith was up for more lumber for his new house the first of the week. He expects to be out of his present quarters before the spring rains come.

It is reported that Robert Koel has taken unto himself a wife since his arrival in Texas. THE JOURNAL extends best wishes and trusts that his smile will never grow less.

Harrison W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. G. W. Hester Friday Jan. 13th at 3 o'clock. Also all unions of Sioux county are cordially invited to be present by request of C. E. GLASNER.

W. E. Moore had a piece of steel fly off of a hammer he was using and entered his right hand. The wound was healed but the steel could not be found as a result he has a pretty sore hand.

The first regular meeting of the county board began Tuesday and they are still in session, but expect to adjourn today. Only two members are present, Messrs. Knott and Weber. The result of their work will appear in the next issue.

George Olinger has put a homestead filing on a quarter section about three miles north of town and is busy getting out logs, posts, etc., to improve it. Homesteaders in Sioux county have advantages over those of any other part of Nebraska.

In the contest for the banner of the Loyal Legion this, the 17th district, of which Mrs. W. O. Glasner is president, was victorious, having organized the largest number of legions during the last year. A banner was received a few days ago.

and other railroad officers yesterday in a special session. It was not known whether anything had anything to do with the proposed extension of the line or not, but it is likely that the matter will begin to move soon.

Eli Smith was up from Bodaro Monday with a load of wheat. He had a little fun Saturday night. He heard a noise in his hen house and with his dogs went to investigate and found a wildcat preying on his feathered pets, but the venture proved fatal to the wildcat. The animal weighed 25 pounds and measured 40 inches from tip to tip. Mr. Smith informed us that a number of his neighbors have been plowing for the past week and are all ready to go out (and we hope) to plant wheat delivered from

MORE MILL PROSPECTS.

Indications are That Harrison Will Have a First Class Mill to Grind The Crop of 1893.

Again the interest in a mill project is aroused in Harrison. A number of our business men have been at work trying to secure a mill and it now looks as if it would not be long until the matter would take definite shape.

Last week County Attorney Conley received a letter from Phillip Unitt, the Seward capitalist who has invested in a lot of land in this locality, stating that he had been in consultation with a first-class miller in regard to putting up a mill at Harrison and although no definite decision had been arrived at the tone of the letter was very favorable to the project. The business men and people of this vicinity are united in a desire to get a mill and would do all they possibly could to assist in such an institution. Mr. Unitt did not say what they wanted as an inducement but it is safe to say that the people would be more willing to contribute to a concern in which he was interested than they would to one who had not shown any interest in the country before. He has invested his money in land and will put some hundreds of acres under cultivation next season and if he takes hold of a mill project it will be a sure go and will not be put up simply to get a bonus and then sell out or let it run down.

Letters have also been received from other parties within the past week making inquiries concerning the outlook for a mill, so that it is quite certain that something definite will be known about it soon and some one will take hold of the matter. The excellent quality of wheat raised here is becoming known and some good miller will recognize the fact that there is a good opening here. A mill here would draw trade for more than a hundred miles in some directions and would be of great benefit to the town and our people should give all the encouragement possible to any one who will put in a good mill.

Go to Turner's to buy your boots, shoes and overshoes.

T. O. Williams has gone to Pleasant Ridge, Wyo., to put down a well.

Robert Wilson was in town Tuesday morning and reported the arrival of a new girl at his home. That makes an even half-dozen olive branches at the Wilson residence so there is no reason why Robert should not be happy.

A little stormy weather was experienced the first of the week. Tuesday night it snowed a little here, and in the valley it rained. Wednesday was rather squally but it is bright and pleasant now, but some colder than it was before the storm.

We learn from the Rushville Standard that an office is being built at that place for Dr. Shafer, which indicates that he intends to locate there. That will leave Dr. Bridgman with a clear field, both in the drug business and in the medical practice.

There appears to be some one in this locality who is making a practice of gathering up articles belonging to other people. The thefts are of a very petty nature but people get very tired of being annoyed by the loss of even small articles and if the perpetrator does not desist there may be trouble.

We noticed a suit of clothes, shirt, necktie and cap marked at $7.50 at one of the stores. When clothes can be had as cheap as that and flour at $1.25 per hundred no one ought to freeze or starve. And, come to think of it, did any one ever hear of a person starving in a new country? We never did.

The superintendent of the fish hatcheries asks about spring fed streams in Sioux county and says he would be glad to furnish fish to stock them if the people desire. So far, but few have applied for fish but there are a good many who would find it a profit as well as a pleasure to provide a fish pond and have it stocked.

It is claimed by those who watch the signs of the times that the coldest weather of the season is past, that the ground is in the best condition it has ever been known in this part of the country and that we will have an early spring. If such statements prove true our people will all be happy and the prosperity of northwest Nebraska will be greatly increased.

The boys have the ground all prepared for the skating rink and are only waiting for weather cold enough to make ice and as soon as the temperature falls enough the water will be turned in. A number already have skates and others have ordered and if the weather will permit a great deal of sport will be had, and it will not be confined to the young people either.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Glasner was at Crawford Tuesday night.

J. H. Cook was up from Agate Springs on Tuesday.

V. A. Hester went to Crawford Friday evening.

Mrs. W. B. Wright went to Whitney Tuesday evening.

B. F. Johnson left on Saturday for a visit to Cheyenne.

Charles Weaver was doing business in Harrison last Saturday.

Mrs. Emma Haas was down from Casper last week for a visit.

Mrs. G. W. Stevens is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

Geo. Cobb and J. W. Langdon were over from Story last Saturday.

James Slattery called Saturday and added his name to our list of readers.

Will Pontius returned from Deadwood, S. D., yesterday to attend school here.

D. B. Jenckes and W. H. Westover were west-bound passengers last Saturday.

Otto Munson sent us a postal note for a year's subscription the first of the week.

Sheriff Reidy was doing business in the east part of the county the first of the week.

James Clark was over from Montrose Tuesday and made a pleasant call at this office.

Mrs. C. F. Carlton went to Alliance last Thursday evening to join her husband who has a position there in a store.

S. L. Ellis and bride arrived from Valentine last Saturday and will establish their home a few miles northwest of town.

Profiting by the experience of last year the farmers of Sioux county are taking advantage of every opportunity and a good deal of plowing has been done during the past week and some wheat has also been sown. The time has about arrived when farming in Sioux county will be done as it should be and in proper season and good results will be sure to follow.

Something of an idea of the business of Harrison may be conceived from the fact that as a railroad station it does a business of $30,000 a year, and is increasing right along. The month of November last was the largest business month in the history of the station. One firm doing business here paid freight during the year ending December 1st, amounting to over $3,300.

It is about time for the school board to wake up and get matters in shape to submit some plan to the voters at the annual school meeting for providing for a new school house. We are informed that at present the number of scholars is about equal to the capacity of the building and the indications are that during the next school year the number will be greatly increased so that some action will be necessary. Therefore it will be right and proper for the board to see what can be done in the matter before the time arrives. The proposition made last year by Mr. Lambert is well worth the attention of the people of the district and should be gotten in shape so that it may be acted on in an intelligent manner at the annual meeting.
